FITCHBURG BALL CLUB GOES TO MANCHESTER

Franchise of Fred Lake's Team Transferred to New Hampshire City Today—First Game Will be Played With the Lynn Team Tomorrow Afternoon

MANCHESTER, N. H., July 28.—The franchise of the Fitchburg, New England league has been transferred to this city. The club will open here tomorrow against the Lynn team at Textile field. Arrangements have now been made to play double-headers on Saturday so the local manufacturer's league can complete its schedule. The Red Sox are to play here Aug. 17 and the Athletics on Sept. 2, and Washington on October 7.

AN APPEAL FOR $300,000

From Wealthy Friends in This Country in Aid of Irish Volunteers and Home Rule

PHILADELPHIA, July 28.—Following is the text of the appeal issued yesterday by Michael J. Ryan, president of the United Irish League of America: "To Americans of Irish blood or birth: "John E. Redmond, chairman of the Irish parliamentary party and head of the Irish National Volunteers, has appealed to me, as president of the United Irish League of America, to Americans of Irish birth or blood, for aid to the defenceless people of Ireland. "All sincere men had hoped that it would not be necessary to employ force but now we see the army arrayed against the law, and massacring those who stand for respect to the will of the majority and constituted authority. "For years 'gun-running' by the so-called unionists of a part of Ulster has been permitted without obstruction. If a small minority of the people have the right to arm themselves, it ought not to be denied the overwhelming majority, such as the nationalists of Ireland are. "Speedy Action Required "It is, however, useless to debate. Speedy action is now required by all who profess sympathy with the cause of human liberty. Money is needed, and money will be most effective by being placed in the hands of Mr. Redmond at once. "There are vast numbers of the Irish race in the United States who are possessed of great wealth, and speaking for Mr. Redmond to these I now turn and make a personal appeal. "I ask 100 Americans to each give $100. "I ask 200 Americans to each give $50. "I ask 1000 Americans to each give $100. "These three divisions will aggregate $300,000. "There ought to be at least this small number of men in all the cities and towns of the 48 states of the American Union to make up this honor roll. Text for the Race "This is the moment for action, and our race is put to the test. I request all descriptions to be sent to Thomas H. Fitzpatrick, national treasurer, 100 Kingston street, Boston, Mass., or if men prefer it, they may remit directly to John E. Redmond, care of the house of commons, London, Eng., and notify Mr. Fitzpatrick of their action. I call on all our people who are not in possession of an abundance of this world's goods to each contribute one day's pay, or one week's pay, as they may afford, and swell the fund accordingly. "Not asking any man to do that which I will not do myself, I subscribe $1000. (Signed) Michael J. Ryan, "National President United Irish League of America."

MAID FROM MANCHESTER

IRISH SOCIETIES FORM ALLIANCE TO FURTHER THE HOME RULE IRELAND. MANCHESTER, N. H., July 28.—Twelve of the leading Irish societies of this city last night formed what is to be known as the Manchester Home Rule Alliance and, at a public mass meeting Friday night, to be held in A. O. U. hall, will permanently organize to aid the cause of home rule in Ireland. The Irish-American citizens of this city have been aroused by the Dublin "massacre" and plan to inaugurate a movement in this city that will carry its influence throughout the cities and towns of the state. At the mass meeting on Friday night a statement will be issued to the citizens of the state urging that they co-operate with the movement of the nationalists of Ireland in their efforts for home rule, and that they recognize it as a movement in behalf of right and justice. The Irish societies of the city plan to give the home rule movement practical aid and will take such steps as will tend to further the plans of John Redmond, leader of the home rule cause in the house of commons and the national volunteer movement.

Austrian Ambassador to France Hears of the Fighting Between Austrian and Servian Troops—Germany and Austria Hungary Decline Sir Edward Grey's Proposal—Austrians Flee From Servia

PARIS, July 28.—The Austrian ambassador to France today said it was probable that active hostilities between Austria-Hungary and Servia began this morning but at 11 o'clock he had not received any telegram to that effect from Vienna.

ORDERS CONCENTRATION OF GERMAN FLEET ON HOME WATERS

BERLIN, July 28.—The German admiralty today ordered the concentration of the German fleet in home waters.

GERMAN GOVERNMENT WILL NOT ENTER CONFERENCE OF EUROPEAN POWERS

BERLIN, July 28.—The German government today returned an unfavorable reply to the British proposal for a conference of the ambassadors in London of the European powers in an endeavor to bring about a settlement of the Austro-Servian controversy.

In its communication, Germany declared that it considers the suggestion of Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary, as well meant and good in principle but not feasible in practice and impossible to carry out. The communication says it cannot be expected that a great power having a dispute with a smaller neighbor will submit the matter to the decision of a European conference. Far less can it be hoped that two great powers will submit to be summoned in the role of accused before such a tribunal.

Germany makes the counter suggestion that negotiations for peace be conducted between the cabinets instead of by a conference. The stock market here today opened generally weak, particularly in the case of Austrian specialties. Russian four percents, on the other hand, were 1/4 higher. The changes generally were strong, the attitude of the Berlin bankers having reassured their customers and checked the tendency to sacrifice securities.

GREAT EXODUS OF AUSTRIANS AND HUNGARIANS FROM SERBIA

BELGRADE, July 28 (by indirect route).—Many Servian families have left the capital for the country districts and there has been a great exodus of Austrians and Hungarians from Belgrade and other parts of Servia. Perfect order prevails in the capital, the police duties having been undertaken by a corps of volunteers composed of students.

AUSTRIA-HUNGARY HAS DECIDED TO REFUSE SIR EDWARD GREY'S PROPOSAL

VIENNA, July 28.—The imperial Austro-Hungarian foreign office declared today that even should Servia now comply with the demands contained in the Austrian note, the government of the dual monarchy would not be satisfied. Officials at the ministry stated that Servia's reply had made it impossible for Austro-Hungary to adhere to her former standpoint and compliance by Servia with the demands made on her could no longer influence the course of action of the Austro-Hungarian empire.

It was semi-officially announced here today that Austria-Hungary had decided to refuse Sir Edward Grey's proposal of an ambassadorial conference in London.

DUBLIN RIOT CHANGES PLANS FOR HOME RULE

Second Reading of Bill to Amend the Measure, Postponed—Redmond Demands Removal of Commissioner Rose and Fair Play for Nationalists

LONDON, July 28.—The first effect of the Dublin tragedy has been to smash Premier Asquith's plans for taking up the amending bill today. The premier announced yesterday that the matter had been indefinitely postponed. The Irish members are so exasperated over the killing of four persons and the wounding of many others in the clash between the regular troops and the nationalist volunteers that they are in no frame of mind to grant any concessions to Ulster. The laborites and many liberals support them. The government announced in the house of commons yesterday that Deputy Police Commissioner Harrell, who ordered out the troops, had been suspended and that his superior, Commissioner Sir John Rose, who expressed a desire to share the responsibility, had resigned his office. A special inquiry will be held, probably by a judicial commission. In the meantime the demand for the removal of the Scottish borderers from Dublin has not been granted, largely because the signal for attacks by the mobs. They will remain prisoners in barracks until the anger of the people has cooled. The nationalist members of parliament held a meeting yesterday afternoon and showed more animus against the castle than the government; they consider "Victory" Aberdeen's official family prejudicial against the nationalists. A heated discussion was started in the house of commons by John Redmond, the nationalist leader, who demanded an impartial inquiry into the conduct of the troops and their punishment if the shooting was not justified. He demanded also that the regiment should be removed from Ireland; that the proclamation against the importation of arms into Ireland should be withdrawn because it constituted a serious danger and that the law be administered impartially. He called for the suspension of Sir John Rose, the police commissioner of Dublin, and said: "We had an experience of him in the Larkin riot. He is unfit to hold his office. He is a well-known political partisan." Mr. Redmond compared "this monstrous business" with the parade of armed volunteers in Belfast. "To such a state of impotence has the British government been reduced in Ireland," he said, "that a subordinate official is able to call in soldiers without consulting the executive of the country." He expressed the hope that the Irish people would not blame the troops too much, and concluded amid great cheers: "Four-fifths of the Irish people will not submit any longer to be bullied and punished for conduct which is allowed to go on free in Ulster by another section of their fellow countrymen."

MORE RIOTING IN DUBLIN

DUBLIN, July 28.—Rioting broke out again last night but subsided without serious results. The rumor went about that the Scottish borderers, who did the killing yesterday, would entrain at the Amiens street station. A great crowd, for the most part from the slums, surrounded the station and amused themselves by stoning the street cars. Six hundred volunteers paraded through the streets a crowd of 100 following them, marching in step and singing. Feeling runs high throughout nationalist Ireland. Town councils are adopting resolutions denouncing "the massacre." The soldiers of the Linnet and Kilkenney garrisons are confined to barracks and concerts by military bands in several towns have been cancelled.

IN POLICE COURT

In police court today, George E. Hanscomb was complained of by his wife for drunkenness. Mrs. Hanscomb testified that George had been leading a very unsteady life of late and that she did not care to have him around her household. The witness said that the defendant recently entered her house and took a gold watch which he pawned in a local pawnshop. Hanscomb was committed to the Lowell jail for three months. Stephen Bobbie pleaded not guilty to assault and battery upon John Sanborn and had his case continued until tomorrow for trial. James Morrison was asked to pay a fine of two dollars for keeping an unlicensed dog. Thomas O'Laughlin was accused of being drunk on two successive days. It seems that he was arrested on July 27 and after being bailed out was arrested again. O'Laughlin pleaded guilty to both complaints and was fined $10. Catherine McCarthy has failed to keep her promise to remain sober and was sent to jail for three months. Three first offenders were released, while two $5 fines were imposed. Threw Stone Into Station Elizabeth Riley was arrested on the sidewalk in front of the police station about 3:45 o'clock this forenoon after she had thrown a heavy stone through a window into the office occupied by Deputy Downey. What the woman's grievance was is not known. The woman has been in court on previous occasions charged with drunkenness and is well known at the station. Witnesses say that Mrs. Riley walked in front of the window and after taking a large stone from under her cage, threw it at the window. The missile smashed the window and also went through a linen curtain, landing in the centre of the office. The woman's action cannot be understood unless she wanted to be arrested.

MAN CRUSHED TO DEATH

Fireman Killed at Concord, N.H. Fire—Two Others Injured—Buried Under Lumber

CONCORD, N. H., July 28.—One fireman lost his life and two others were seriously injured by being caught under a pile of lumber at a fire which destroyed $75,000 worth of property of the Granite State Manufacturing company, the state prison contractors, yesterday afternoon.

Amos Turner, a permanent man at the central fire station, was killed. Philip O'Connell and Clarence Clark, call men attached to the department, were those injured.

Buried Beneath Pile
At the time of the accident the men were engaged in fighting the fire in the big lumber piles north of the state prison, when, without warning, one of them toppled over, burying the three.

They were using a high power stream between two of the piles, fighting the flames in front of them, and using a bunch of wood as protection from the intense heat.

So intent were they on what was in front of them that they did not notice the fire falling around them until, without warning, the pile toppled over, burying them.

Mark Wakefield, foreman of the combination company, was the first to reach the men. He first came upon Turner, but on lifting him up he realized that the man had come to him.

Both O'Connell and Clark were badly crushed about the body and legs and were burned about the face, head and legs.

The fire which destroyed three storehouses, was within the prison grounds, just north of the shops. The manufacturing company manufactures chairs by convict labor. There was no disorder among the convicts. W. F. Whitney of Ashburnham, Mass., is the principal owner of the company.

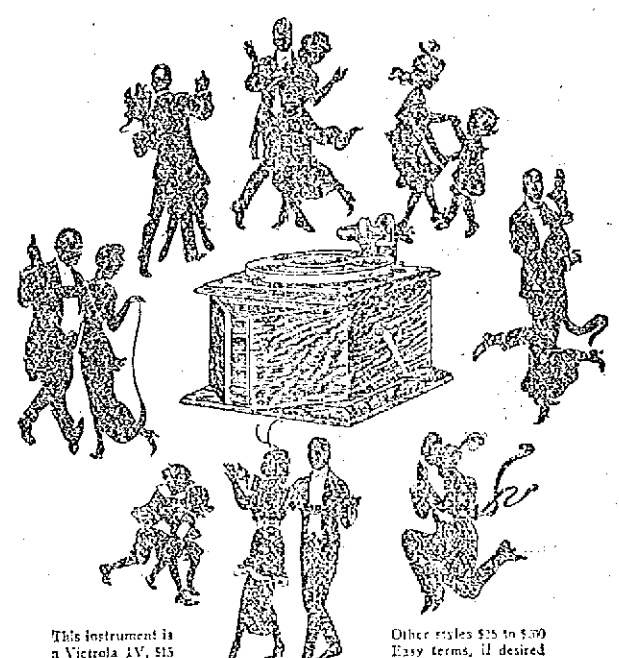

The fire is believed to have started in the grass in the rear of the company's main storehouse from sparks from a switching locomotive, which

A QUARTER CENTURY AGO

Nowadays we think nothing of the ride to Lakeview beyond the time that it takes to get there, for the scenery en route has long since ceased to attract us, for familiarity if it doesn't always breed contempt, breeds indifference. But such was not the case quarter of a century ago when Lakeview and electric car travel were entirely new to Lowell, and when just 23 years ago one day this week, the first trip on the electric to Lakeview was made the old Sun dashed up the ride as follows:

"Thursday afternoon when the sky was pouring a deluge of water on the city, 150 prominent citizens representing every shade of political belief and every breadth of trade, and all the professions, boarded the new electric cars on Bridge street near Palace street and started for Willow Dale, (Lakeview) at that time was known as Willow Dale."

It was a jolly party. Every man succeeded in getting wet before the party started but not a single man faltered. It was a free racket, the Lowell and Dancourt railroad settling the bill for the baptism of the new electric road and the formal opening of the new 54 acre park. All the officials of the road were present and they worked like beavers to make everyone comfortable. The ride out was very enjoyable, the beautifully decorated cars, shimmering over the rails of Bridge street, through the beautiful country, emerald green from the recent rains, through Collinsville, dashing by the modest Catholic church, the mills and the homes of the country. Over the smooth road, dashing by farms with beautiful crops, over the corduroy road around a curve and with a cheer the gentlemen on board the four electric cars alight before the new hotel and the dance pavilion, on the shores of the pretty pond. There has stood since the time when the Indians wandered through this territory crowded up to the very doors of the hotel whose broad piazzas extend on every side. The pond ripples under the piazzas and a row of 20 boats and the steam launch "Crown Prince" are at hand to take pleasure parties to any part of the pond. The hotel will be a model one. A big open fireplace in the dining hall will do duty when the weather is cool and the billiard and several game rooms upstairs and the private dining rooms will hold many merry parties before the year is many weeks older. The dance hall is a large one and like the dining room has large piazzas that overlook the pond.

A palatable lunch was served by the Waverley house caterers and the large party did it full justice. The ride out, the grove and the luncheon struck everyone in a tender spot and Mayor Palmer returned thanks for the company and the luncheon. The railroad men for their enterprise and said that whatever belonged to the benefit of the company would be a benefit to the city. Col. Hargrett also made remarks. When the gentlemen had finished their lunch, all the fine points of the great enterprise, the return trip was made. The cars started out of the grove while 150 voices were cheering the enterprise of the railroad men. On the home stretch the cars flew over the ground and the mild evening's air made one's blood tingle and every man felt a keen satisfaction in the sensation. In half an hour the party was deposited at the corner of Merrimack and Bridge streets opposite the Sun building and an interesting experience was at an end.

Now, please don't misinterpret the concluding statement, to wit: "In half an hour the party was deposited at the corner of Merrimack and Bridge streets." It wasn't a case of "this side up, no hooks, for every man in the party could have gone home his wife and proven an alibi. The word "deposited," in this case, simply meant an hour but seven miles an hour will be the average speed for a trip."

Then cheers for B. Garfield, always on deck.

The opening trips didn't always make seven miles an hour in some cases, due, no doubt, to the nervousness of the crowds that squeezed into the cars there were break-downs and delays that rendered the ride anything but enjoyable. In a short time, however, the cars began to run smoothly, and on schedule time and electric car riding soon became a fixture in Lowell.

As She Sees It? Not Around
Says the old Sun:
The public bath house on the Merrimack river is now open and in charge of J. F. Freeman. It accommodates 35 bathers at a time. It is open from 8 a. m. to 12 m. and 1 to 6 and 7 to 9 p. m. Thursday will be reserved for women.

The city authorities probably meant to pay the fair sex a graceful compliment by intimating that they were as gracefully in need of a bath as the men and they get away with it, for in the city says Miss "As She Sees It" was pointing her literary efforts to school compositions and was not doing the "Joan of Arc stunt for equal rights."

VITAL FORCE

Disease germs are on every hand. They are in the very air we breathe. A system "run down" is a prey for them. One must have vital force to withstand them. Vital force depends on digestion—on whether or not food nourishes—on the quality of blood coursing through the body.

DR. PIERCE'S Golden Medical Discovery

Strengthens the weak stomach. Gives good digestion. Enlivens the sluggish liver. Feeds the starved nerves. Again full health and strength return. A general upbuilding enables the heart to pump like an engine running in oil. The vital force is once more established to full power. Year in and year out for over forty years this great health-restoring remedy has been spreading throughout the entire world—because of its ability to make the sick well and the weak strong. "Count Discount" Is Surely In Reduced Circumstances Here Now

"The Count"
of quality.

He comes from fine stock
though in reduced

This is a reproduction of an advertisement that appeared in this paper July 17.

We told you that the "Count" was a "creature of quality." We told you that he comes of "fine stock" and we told you he was in reduced circumstances now. It's all true. You won't find a better stock of clothing merchandise in the country than is here right now. You won't find another Discount Sale where the reductions mean as much quality for as little money as "Count Discount" typifies here. Our claim is that our clothes were worth in real value more than our original prices earlier in the season. Therefore, when we offer them to you at 25 per cent reduction we know that we are giving you greater values on high class merchandise than you will find elsewhere at the same discount rate.

Read over the reduced prices quoted below and take into consideration that the goodness in quality, make and style of these items make them more than per cent better than present prices. They were abundant values before reduction; they're overflow bargains now. Do yourself the justice of comparing them with your previous experience in clothing values and what is offered elsewhere.

WESTMINSTER DUCHESS

TO SEE THE INTERNATIONAL CUP RACES FROM SIR THOMAS LIP-TON'S ERIN

DUCHESS OF WESTMINSTER

LONDON, July 28.—The duchess of Westminster will be in the party of Sir Thomas Lipton when he sails for New York, Aug. 27, to witness the racing of the Shamrock IV, his challenger, for the America's cup. Her grace is immensely interested in the race and will watch it with the eye of a sailor, having handled large boats and having been skipper in many a brush with yachts. She was born on the shore of the Solent, and her experience with sailboats covered the period of her girlhood and has since been extended whenever circumstances permitted. The trip follows a new settlement with the duke, which increases the duchess' allowance from $70,000 to $80,000 a year.

NATIONAL PHILATELIC SOCIETY
BOSTON, July 28.—Edward I. Weiss of New York was re-elected president of the National Philatelic society last night. Other officers chosen were E. L. Clark of Lynn, vice president; W. B. Goodwin of Dover, N. H., secretary; A. M. Wright of Hingham, treasurer. Nine-year-old Gerald Richter of Boston, Conn., became the youngest member of the society when he was elected to membership yesterday.

REV. C. A. LINCOLN

DISCUSSES NATIONAL PROHIBITION IN ARTICLE, PART OF WHICH IS GIVEN BELOW
The Sun has received from Rev. C. A. Lincoln a quite lengthy article on the subject of national prohibition, which for more.

ORIGINAL GENUINE

"Others are Imitations"
The Food-Drink for All Ages
Rich milk, malted grain, in powder form. For infants, invalids and growing children. Pure nutrition, upbuilding the whole body. Invigorates nursing mothers and the aged. More healthful than tea or coffee. Take no substitute. Ask for HORLICK'S lack of space prevents us printing in its entirety. Mr. Lincoln takes occasion to compliment The Sun upon the policy of refusing to print liquor advertisements, stating that in this respect The Sun leads in the right direction and is in good and ever increasing company. Mr. Lincoln argues for the nationwide abolition of the saloon, not believing that it would completely stop liquor drinking but that it would remove from the gaze of the young and the stakes of appetite an ever-enticing source of temptation. He holds in spite of statements to the contrary that national prohibition is quite workable.

WHEN AND HOW THE BODY POISONS ITSELF

The underlying cause of much headache, particularly migraine, or sick headache, bilious attacks, vertigo, or dizziness, is intestinal auto-intoxication. This process recognized only in recent years, is the absorption into the blood of poisons produced in the intestines from the residue of food. The two most prominent factors in causing this condition are constipation and excessive meat eating. It can therefore be largely avoided by care in the diet and the use of a laxative which will clear away the fermenting residue of food which is generating the poisons. Pinkets, the new laxative, are admirably suited to protect the body against the dangers of auto-intoxication for they gently assist nature and do not gripe or purge. Harsh purgatives leave the system in a worse condition than they find it but Pinkets give just the stimulation to the organs of excretion that is needed to produce natural action and if they are used regularly for a time they will really correct constipation. Your druggist sells Pinkets or they will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 25 cents per bottle, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Send today for booklet and free sample.

State prohibition of gambling, he says, works better than local option for this sin against society, though our own city bears sufficient testimony to the fact that gambling is not yet abolished.

Arguing from a national standpoint, can we not say that national prohibition is on an equal footing with the abolition of slavery which was enforced in spite of the unanimous disbelief in it of a great section of our country? The amendment to the constitution abolishing slavery has not settled the vexed race question but it has abolished the legalized ownership of human beings which ownership the whole south now admits to have been a bad thing for it. National prohibition will not automatically make every man in the country a total abstainer, but it will take state and nation out of the business of deliberately debauching its citizens; it will make it easier for men to keep clean habits and harder for them to become intemperate; it will put every dispenser of intoxicating liquors absolutely on the defensive so that any wronged wife or mother can put him in the company of murderers and thieves, and it will make the environment of our American boys and girls much safer than it now is.

The liquor trade which is in a position to know a good deal about the effectiveness of prohibition and which is frantically characterizing the business men of the country in opposition to national prohibition is distinctly of the opinion that national prohibition would work. While the time may not be ripe yet for national prohibition, the only way to ripen it is to let the sunlight of truth shine clearly on the whole situation and this can be accomplished only through agitation. It was persistent agitation on the part of a few fanatics that finally accomplished the overthrow of slavery. The political temperance movement is having a phenomenal growth. Three years after the close of the civil war there were only 3,500,000 people in our country who lived in prohibition territory. In 1900 there were 15,000,000 persons so situated and, eight years after, the number had doubled, making it 30,000,000. By a conservative estimate it was found that 46,323,730 people lived in prohibition territory last year. This was a bit more than one-half of our total population. The number is still larger this year. The time for the complete abolition of the legalized liquor tariff license territory last year. This was a

GOLD SHIPMENT

Liner Kronprinzessin
Cecilie for Europe

NEW YORK, July 28.—The latest gold movement to Europe which began on last Friday when $3,000,000 was sent to Paris was further augmented today by a shipment of $10,600,000 aboard the liner Kronprinzessin Cecilie. This is said to be the largest single gold shipment ever made from America to Europe.

Of today's shipment $6,000,000 is consigned to London bankers and $4,600,000 to Paris.

In addition to this sum $2,750,000 in gold bars has been engaged for shipment to Paris by the Carmania, which is due to sail tomorrow.

Bankers lay the new demand for gold for export to almost entirely to the war scare in Europe, although they admitted that the fortnightly settlement on the London stock exchange which began yesterday might have had something to do with it.

Other important engagements will be made today, it was said, making the amount to go by the Carmania at least $8,000,000 and the total of the movement since Friday on more than $23,000,000.

TRADE COMMISSION BILL

SEN. BRANDEGER'S MOTION UP FOR DISCUSSION AT RESUMPTION OF
CONSIDERATION TODAY

WASHINGTON, July 28.—Senator Brandegee's motion to strike from the interstate trade commission bill the section which would declare unfair competition unlawful and empower the proposed commission to define unfair competition and prevent corporations from using unfair methods in the commerce was up for discussion when the senate today resumed consideration of the measure. The motion had been offered after adoption by a large vote of an amendment which would apply to the section of the bill relating to unfair competition.

The amendment would provide that no order or finding of the commission, or of court in connection therewith should be admissible as evidence in any suit, civil or criminal brought under the anti-trust laws. Senator Brandegee's motion followed vigorous opposition by himself and Senator Sutherland to the amendment.

The vote on the amendment was the first reached and gave democratic leaders renewed hope of a final vote on the measure by Saturday night.

WHO IS TOWN SOLICITOR?

THAT'S THE QUESTION THAT IS CAUSING STIR—SUPREME COURT
TO ANSWER QUANDARY

BOSTON, July 28.—Who is the town solicitor of Revere and has the office been abolished or is it still there? H. Frank Paul, auditor appointed in the law action instituted by Roscoe Walsworth against Andrew A. Casassa, both of whom claim to be town solicitor, yesterday submitted a lengthy typewritten report on the case to the supreme court, but he does not pass upon the question of who is the actual legal adviser of the town. He leaves it to the court, which will probably give a hearing on the case in a few days.

Roscoe Walsworth filed a petition to the supreme court on May 1, for a writ of mandamus to restrain Mr. Casassa from attempting to usurp the office of town solicitor of Revere. He also petitioned the selectmen of the town to call a special meeting to determine who was the legal adviser of the town May 1st.

Walsworth claims the office by virtue of his election to be town clerk at a town meeting held April 13, 1914. Casassa insists that the office is his because he was elected by the selectmen at a meeting held April 13, 1914.

The auditor in his report finds that the selectmen of the office of town solicitor was abolished, that they refused to call a special meeting as petitioned for, and that they were cognizant of the public mind when they did so refuse.

ABSENCE OF GUIDEPPOSTS

GOV. BALDWIN NOTICES SELECT-
MEN THAT LAW MUST BE OBEYED AND POSTS SET UP

HARTFORD, Conn., July 28.—Governor Baldwin is determined that no traveler in Connecticut shall lose his way if a guidepost is prevented in a letter to the selectmen of the various towns of the state, the governor today calls attention to the absence of guideposts, says the law requires that such posts shall be set up at every road and reminds the selectmen that they may be penalized for failure to obey the law.

The absence of the guide posts, the governor says, is a great inconvenience to travelers. The governor is himself a great walker and has covered many miles of the state's roads on foot as well as on bicycle.

1000 SHEEP CREMATED

IN FIRE AT LOUISVILLE, KY., STOCK
YARDS, 40 RAILROAD CARS AND
MANY HOUSES DESTROYED

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 28.—Fire which started in the sheep pen of the Beacon stock yards here last night destroyed a third of the plant, forty Louisville & Nashville railroad cars, some of which were loaded with sheep, and damaged more than a score of other cars that lined streets bordering the stock yards. Damage to the stock yards is estimated at about $175,000 and the total damage at approximately $250,000.

All the fire fighting apparatus of the city was called out to extinguish the flames, which threatened to destroy the entire yards and buildings nearby. The blaze was gotten under control after several hours of hard work by the firemen. The origin of the fire has not been ascertained.

BOARD OF TRADE THE VESPER CLUB

Annual Outing at Bass
Point—Trip in Autos—
Prominent Speakers

The outing committee of the Lowell board of trade held a meeting last night and decided to hold the board's annual outing at the seashore. The committee are going to ask the members of the board who own automobiles to carry the board to Bass Point, Nahant, on August 27. This will mean the use of at least 100 automobiles and if the automobile owners will co-operate with the committee the outing will be the greatest ever.

A ride to the beach and a shore dinner are two attractions. The dinner would probably be served on the outer point of the promontory where the breeze is laden with the salt sea air, and the dinner, of course, would have a cabaret show attached. There will be two or three speeches by men from the national capital, Congressman John Jacob Rogers and Congressman Patrick H. Kelly of Michigan. Mr. Kelly was lieutenant governor of Michigan for five years and Mr. Rogers says he is one of the most attractive personalities and able speakers he has met in Washington. The tentative arrangements for the outing are agreed upon by the outing committee suggests that the start be made from the vicinity of city hall at about 11 or 11:30 a. m., so that Nahant may be reached in season for dinner at 1 o'clock. It is believed that if this type of an outing can be arranged a far larger attendance than usual will respond.

Work on New Bridge to
noon—Steel Structure

The contract for the reconstruction of the Vesper Country club bridge across the Merrimack river at Tyngs Island, a part of which was blown away by a cyclone a couple of weeks ago, has been awarded to the New England Construction company and work will be started this afternoon. The old bridge was of steel with wooden sides and floorings and a couple of weeks ago when a strong gale visited that part of the country the work was torn down and blown away. The bridge was insured against tornado loss and the insurance companies have adjusted the losses by paying the club $4500.

The New England Construction company will put men to work on tearing down what remains of the old bridge and a tornado proof steel bridge will be erected in its stead. The only work to be done in the flooring. The crown pieces will be of steel and the girders and tower of the old bridge will be used again. Work will be pushed along and it is expected the bridge will be ready for travel in about six weeks.

SAYS WEDDING WAS JOKE

SOUTH BOSTON BRIDE WILL NOT
LIVE WITH MAN SHE MARRIED ON NIGHT BEFORE THE FOURTH

BOSTON, July 28.—A curious situation exists in South Boston, where a bridegroom of less than a month's standing cannot get his bride, who claims that she thought the marriage a joke. The bridegroom has engaged counsel to protect his interests and the bride's mother threatens criminal action will be brought against the bridegroom.

The bridegroom is Harry Adams, 27 years old, living on Fourth street, near Atlantic. The bride was Bertha Williams, 18 years of age, of 21 Thomas park, South Boston. Her mother is Mrs. Helen Williams; her father is out of town. The present situation arises from these circumstances: One the night before the Fourth Adams took the girl for a walk and wound up at the office of a justice of the peace in the South end, where they were married. Miss Williams declares she thought the ceremony a joke.

When Mr. and Mrs. Williams were told of their daughter's marriage to Adams they refused to let her live with him and notified the police, at station 12, who told the mother to keep her daughter at home. As a result, Adams has been unable to obtain his wife, and in consequence suffers much anguish, he says. Interviewed last night, Mrs. Williams was extremely reticent, but said: "My daughter is married and I propose to have the marriage annulled. I am going to try to prove criminally against him."

2000 GIRLS TO STRIKE

MEMBERS OF BATHING SUIT MAK-
ERS' UNION IN NEW YORK WANT
MORE PAY

NEW YORK, July 28.—Two thousand girls, members of the bathing suit makers' union, have decided that a higher wage scale must be paid. The executive committee of the union yesterday voted to call a strike, the demand for an increased wage scale having been refused by the employers. A majority of the union's members are engaged in making bathing suits and sweaters for women. The strike order is expected to go into effect today.

SHADROCK FOUR AT AZORES

PORTO, Fayal, Azores, July 28.—Shadrock IV, Sir Thomas Lipton's new challenger for the America's cup, arrived here today having taken seven days and three hours for the voyage from Falmouth, England.

During her trip, according to those on board the yacht proved herself an excellent seaboat. In hard blows she took the big seas like a duck and slipped through the water with great ease.

AMUSEMENT NOTES
LAKEVIEW PARK
"Lucky Bob" is the name of the boxing kangaroo that is the attraction on the open air stage at Lakeview theatre this week and he is a genuine product of Australia, right there with the punch and not at allaverse to administering a few kicks as well in the lively three round bout that he puts up with his sparring partner.

"Bob" presents a very docile and in fact a very tame animal, but he is a real fighter and extends his paws for the adjustment of the boxing gloves but after a few taps on the head have been handed him by his boxing partner, he stands in with a rush to mix it in a business like manner that in the first round late yesterday at Telluride, Colorado, sent a huge wall of water down Canon canyon, according to a report received by the Denver offices of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad. The business section of the town was inundated, several residences were demolished, one woman was fatally hurt and another is reported missing.

THE OWL THEATRE
Miss Mary Pickford's success was genuine and complete in Lowell. Her part of Tess in "Tess of the Storm"

Country" could never be equalled by any other photo-play actress. She is supremely fascinating, her cleverness and wonderful personality are just suited to a part of this kind, and she certainly knows how to capture the hearts of her admirers. "Tess of the Storm Country" will again be shown today besides the regular show, Jack Dalton sings.

THE KASINO
Tonight the Kasino will have as a special attraction two of the most graceful demonstrators of the modern dance available in America today, Mr. Clayton Robinson and Miss Evelyn Doreback are the artists, and they will depict all of the modern steps in a manner indicating the purity of the movements in their original conception. To maintain wholesome dancing is the object of this instruction—for it is instruction as well as entertainment. Kasino patrons will enjoy the feature, and will improve their dancing as well. Miner's orchestra will play for the artists, and will, of course, play for dancing before and after the exhibition. The Kasino is open tonight and every night and Saturday afternoon.

MATRIMONIAL
Horton E. Knowlton and Miss Julia E. Spaulding were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Spaulding, 32 Grace street, the officiating clergyman being Rev. Charles H. Ellis, pastor of the Central Baptist church in Chelsea. The couple were attended by Miss Lilian M. Russell of Boston as bridesmaid and Earl E. Spaulding as best man. A brief reception was held and the couple left on an extended wedding tour. They will be at home to their friends in Billerica street, Chelsea, after Sept. 1.

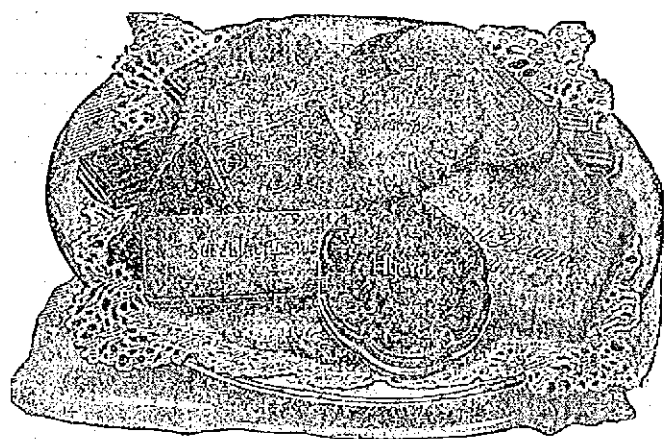

MAXFIELD—DUPREY
Rufus A. Maxfield of this city and Miss Louise Bertha Duprey of Worcester were married at Marlboro, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Albert E. Wheelock. The bride was given away by Mrs. Richard Arnold of this city.

WOMAN TRAMP ARRESTED

Robbery at Taunton—Deserted by Husband

TAUNTON, July 28.—Worn and exhausted from days and nights spent in the woods with only wild berries for food, her face and clothing torn by brambles, Mrs. Mabel A. L. Robinson, 23-year-old daughter of a wealthy Canaan, N. H., farmer, is lodged here in the Taunton jail, facing many charges of robbery.

Specifically, the young woman is under arrest for the alleged theft of a horse from the Mansfield Milling company, Mansfield, and a wagon from Barnard Skinner of that town, for which she was remanded to the jail here from the Attleboro court yesterday upon default of $200 bonds for a continued hearing Aug. 4.

But today chiefs of police from Attleboro, Mansfield, Norton, Norwood, Central Falls, R. I., and many other places near here, and across into Rhode Island are going to submit her to a third degree in the belief that she is the "woman tramp" who has alarmed the countryside for the last few weeks.

The woman's husband, who was with her a few hours before her arrest this morning in Norwood Centre, has deserted her in her trouble, as far as the police can learn, and no trace of him can be found.

Mrs. Robinson admits the robbing, tells frankly of it, but denies the horse and wagon were stolen, or that her husband is to blame. She was driving the wagon when the police arrested her in Norwood.

She declared, she and her husband had been living in the woods. According to the police they stole the horse and wagon in Mansfield. Residents of that town declared so after seeing the property and Mrs. Robinson yesterday.

Many other people also came forward and told of her in and about Mansfield, and of seeing a "woman tramp" on each occasion.

MRS. THOMSON TELLS WOMEN

Change of Life by Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I am just 52 years of age and during Change of Life I suffered for six years terribly. I tried several doctors but none seemed to give me any relief. Every month the pains were intense in both sides, and made me so weak that I had to go to bed. At last a friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me and I tried it at once and found much relief. After that I had no pains at all and could do my housework and shopping the same as always. For years I have praised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for what it has done for me, and shall always recommend it as a woman's friend. You are at liberty to use my letter in any way."—Mrs. THOMSON, 649 W. Russell St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Change of Life is one of the most critical periods of a woman's existence. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to carry women so successfully through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and today holds the record of being the most successful remedy for women's ills known.

PROHIBITION DEFEATED

DALLAS, Texas, July 27.—While returns from Saturday's democratic primary are still incomplete, the following results are conceded: Submission of state-wide prohibition was defeated by a majority of from 15,000 to 20,000. James E. Ferguson of Temple, anti-prohibitionist, nominated for governor by 30,000 to 10,000.

THE SECRET OF BODY

Any oil may have the "feel" of the right body at ordinary temperatures, but the important question is this: Can it hold its body at cylinder heat? Is it stable at heat where body is needed?

This stability is a natural property—no process of refining, compression, "cutting," or filtration can "manufacture" it into an oil. It must be in the original crude stock. That is why we use costly paraffine crudes in making

Polarine

These oils have what is known as a paraffine base. Paraffine oils have the natural property which gives them a good lubricating body at cylinder heat. We could buy crudes cheaper than paraffine crudes. The oil would look just as good in the can. It would feel just as good between the fingers. But it would not stand under the heat in the cylinder.

The expensive stock used in Polarine makes it cost much more to produce, perhaps a little more to buy. But it makes Polarine the cheapest oil to the user in the end. Polarine is the standard oil for all motors.

THE EUROPEAN SITUATION

Owing to the attitude of Austria towards Serbia the diplomatic relations of most of the great European powers are strained to the breaking point and any day may see the beginning of a war that would be terrible to contemplate. If there is any concerted action against Serbia there is reason to suppose that to some degree Russia, Germany, France and even England and Italy may be drawn into the vortex. The very magnitude of the possibilities must be the greatest factor in bringing about some measure of present settlement of the differences that have forced Austria into open conflict with its smaller neighbor.

Present conditions are simply the culmination of years of animosity between Austria and Serbia and the fruit of selfishly fomented designs on the part of Russia, Germany and the other great powers. For many years, Serbia, being weak, has been a pawn in the game of statecraft and her people have outgrown their own territory and have become strong in neighboring states and countries. Austria has watched every indication of Serbian independence jealously, and has only waited for the opportunity to show the people of Serbia that their aspirations cannot be permitted to interfere with the ambitions of her powerful neighbor. The assassination of Archduke Francis Ferdinand gives the opportunity desired and though his death cannot justly be laid to Serbia as a nation, it is used as a pretense for the demands of Austria.

Austria has made no attempt to hide the drift of her demands, as voiced in the ultimatum, the terms of which no country could accede to with dignity. Serbia went further than was expected in promising compliance, but Austria is not and will not be satisfied. Behind the externals, too, is the factor of racial difference which keeps Serb and Slav in perpetual unrest. Russia is in sympathy with Serbia with which she is racially bound, and incidentally Russia has long been inimical to Austria. On the other hand Germany has openly repudiated the cause of Austria, having a common ambition in territorial advancement which Serbia impedes, and Germany may see in the present struggle her long wished for opportunity to open up a path to the sea on the south. By the terms of the Triple Alliance Germany and Italy are bound to help their ally, Austria, and if Russia takes the field against Austria, all Europe may be plunged in a war such as recent times has not known. Russia is generally regarded as holding the key to the situation and on her decision will depend the trend of a world-wide agitation.

If Germany and Italy openly espouse the cause of Austria and it is by no means improbable that they shall, the Triple Entente, that is Russia, England and France, will naturally be expected to oppose Austria and her allies. The hope for a peaceful solution remains in the desire of all the great powers to keep Serbia distinct, because of the neutrality it affords in a most strategic geographical position. England will not be anxious to take part in the affair, and it is to England that the world will look for suggestions that may open a way out without international strife. The Balkan war has left Southern Europe partially prostrated and a great war would now react disastrously on all of the nations interested. Austria, Russia and England have great international questions awaiting solution, and the welfare of mankind demands a peaceful settlement. Yet it is to be hoped that not even the least country of Europe will suffer any injustice in a cause where there is so much selfishness and so little idealism.

REASSURING FACTS

It is very apparent that those who have their observation of national affairs on fact are apt to find clear of the pessimistic prophecies which announced nothing but ruin under a revised tariff. It will be remembered that when the tariff bill was under discussion its enemies asserted that this country would be flooded with the manufacture of other nations and that labor would be damaged as a consequence. Recently some prominent figures which seemed to indicate greater imports under the new tariff were exhibited and made no apparent damage to the domestic industries, but it has been proved that the increase was merely an increase in funds, due to our past crops of that year. This type of average should be a public benefit, if domestic producers were less selfish, and the stretching of facts will prove it to be other than advantageous to the country. Senator Sumners recently read a comparative list of exports and imports in contrast which conclusively proves that the tariff did not do any damage to American industry, beyond the temporary damage of readjustment. Following is an extract from his able speech:

Europe since the passage of the tariff bill. Imports from Great Britain for 11 months ending May, 1914, $275,762,603. Imports from Great Britain for 11 months ending May, 1913, $275,762,603.

Imports from Great Britain have fallen off. Great Britain was the country, the great manufacturing center, the home of capital labor, which, according to protectionist argument, was to furnish us with its cheap products, and yet there has been a falling off of more than 50 percent of imports from that country.

Exports to Great Britain during 11 months ending May, 1914, $365,551,573. Exports to Great Britain during 11 months ending May, 1913, $357,521,573. A falling off in our exports to Great Britain of less than 2 percent.

Here are the figures for all of Europe, embracing the great manufacturing countries of the world; the countries from which we had the most to import, according to protectionist theory, the countries that were to come upon us by a mighty army and sweep away our factories, to take away the jobs of our laboring men. All of Europe—imports for eleven months ending May, 1914, $225,842,535. Imports from all of Europe for 11 months ending May, 1913, $225,842,535. A falling off of $3,125,000 in imports from all of Europe.

Now, take the exports. Exports to all of Europe for these 11 months, 1914, $1,097,085,902. For the same 11 months of 1913, exports to all of Europe, $1,097,085,902.

Expressed in billions and in millions, there was exactly the same export trade between this country and Europe during the 11 months just past and the 11 months of the fiscal year ending May, 1913.

Now, let's ignore it appears that our imports from Great Britain for the 11 months ending May, 1914, were $275,762,603, less than for the same months in 1913, and our imports from all of Europe were likewise $3,125,000 less in 1914 than in 1913, while our exports to Europe were almost precisely the same for the same period of time.

no important step in my government will be taken without the advice of the political expert. In that day the city will get more for what it pays and the citizens will not be burdened with the various unjustifiable expenses of loading the treasury without benefit in any law.

POLICE PRECAUTIONS

All cities know only too well that frequently following a tragedy of more or less magnitude, the authorities decide that the perpetrator is of unsound mind and had been so for a long period previously. Lowell had on such case a short time ago and it is probable that another recent case will have a similar outcome. In like manner many police cut episodes, disappearances from homes and other sensational news stories have appended the explanation that somebody was of unsound mind or had spent some time in an institution. In all of this there is an obvious reason for the police of all communities.

An incident which is somewhat related, and which also has its lesson is the alleged murder confession of a supposedly insane individual to the employees of the Lowell pumping station on Saturday last. No evidence is placed in his story and there is little doubt that he was deranged.

Still, it must not be forgotten that he who would invent a story of murder, or who would tell such a story sincerely while irresponsible should not be at large. It is too bad that so many dangerous persons are permitted to remain in the community until some crime reveals their danger to society.

THROWING STONES

From Pittsburgh comes news of an incident that should prove a warning to some of the juveniles of Lowell and to their families. Last Friday two men of foreign nationality were walking in a street of that city when a little boy indulged in the too frequent sport of throwing stones at them. Enraged, they attacked the boy who was defended by sympathizers. In a short time there was a riot in which knives and other weapons were freely used. As a result one man was killed instantly and two were probably injured fatally. The stone throwing boys are to be found in Lowell and many of them indulge in the amusement of throwing stones at foreigners. The foreigners as a rule mind their own business and do not interfere with anybody unless molested. Many of them are outrageously abused and have little redress even when they complain to the police.

SEEN AND HEARD

You can't hit the mark by shooting off your mouth.

That was an awful break you made the other evening. "What was?" "Asking Lieutenant Deporter if he had killed anybody while he was serving in the army."

"What was the matter with that?" "Didn't you know that he was only attending to the medical corps?"

James met his neighbor Smith, who carried a can in his hand. "Ben shooting this morning?" asked James.

"Yes, I had to kill my dog," answered Smith. "Why was he mad?" asked James. "Well, said Smith truly, 'he didn't seem to be any too well pleased.'"

She learned something. Mrs. Dixon, a charming society girl, had spent the entire summer in trying to coax the simple country people with whom she was boarding. When she was about to leave, she said: "Good-bye Mr. Ingersoll. I hope no visit here hasn't been entirely without good results."

"You're right," replied the old farmer. "You've found a heap of things that you didn't know about. You've found out that you were about the greatest one we ever had on our hands."

MARY SOME PINCHER. A teacher in a large city school sent one of her scholars to buy a pound of plums from a fruit vendor on the street, and as she handed the little girl a dime, she said:

"Be sure, Mary, before buying the plums to pinch one or two, just to make sure that they are ripe."

In a little while the child returned with a bushy cheek and a triumphant look in her eyes.

Handing the teacher the bag of plums, she placed the dime on the desk and exclaimed:

"I pinched one in two as you told me, and when the man wasn't looking I pinched a bagful."

GREAT ON NADIN. When Uncle Ned, the old colored man who worked about the place, came one morning, Mrs. Stone said: "Well, Uncle Ned, I hear you have another pair of twins at your house."

"Yess, missus," responded the man, "we has, bress dey little hearts!"

"Have you named them yet?" asked the woman.

"Yess," said Ned. "Done name 'em aftah two oh de fust presidents oh dis country."

"Indeed?" said Mrs. Stone. "Which two?"

"Ole Christophe Columbus an' Jules-nay Caesar," said the man. "We're great on nadin' de chillun for de presidents 't our house."—National Monthly.

ARE WRINKLES CAUSED BY MODERN SOCIAL LIFE?

When the papers and magazines have made the rather broad statement that modern social life is the only cause for wrinkles, but one can hardly say it is the cause. However, the wrinkles do come and old age has now made for attractiveness, so we use the best means to resist the tell-tale marks.

A search for the very best in wrinkle eradicators has brought us to this formula for an economical vegetable jelly cream as the simplest wrinkle remover and skin stimulator. Its mark-like action penetrates the blood vessels to perform their upbuilding work. Just get from your building work an ounce of alcohol, put it into a bottle and add a half a pint of water. Before retiring apply rather thickly over wrinkled or flabby surface and allow it to dry. It will harden rapidly and you will note a slight tightening of the skin. In the morning remove with hot water and note the immediate effect which you will find lasting.

JULY FLOWERS. Elderberry blossoms rising up above the other, a foam-white fountain of bloom gurgling from the green basin of the hollow under the bank, are a proof of Nature's occasional extravagance in decoration.

As it is more or less enough at one time to have all that show of the meadow rue heaped in great feathery drifts against the green of the thicket, not to mention the white stars of the daisies, a little burst by the heat, but still trailing off in a hazy procession far down the winding roadway.—Lewiston Sun.

THE AGE QUESTION. Now that women suffrage is coming to the front so rapidly, the question often arises as to why there is so small a registration of women where they are permitted to vote. One answer is that a great many women object to giving their names. The other answer is that a great many get around the difficulty by saying that an election official will be exempt from just criticism if he assures himself that the lady is "21 years old and upward." This reminds the officials that registration of voters is only to prevent frauds, and not to give some official the right to endeavoring the new voters with irrelevant questions.—Lynn Item.

THE COLONEL AND BARNES. The colonel has been running much of late, facing a multitude of questions at variance with him, namely, right and left. As a rule they are a very thick-skinned class of people and are very sensitive to abuse or to being "slandered." It is usually regarded as quite safe to say what one pleases about them. It seems, however, that Barnes feels that the irreparable Todd has gone beyond the limit in maligning him and has consequently sued him for libel. Now will be good.—Fall River Globe.

MRS. CARMAN IS ILL. RETURNS HOME AFTER TRIP TO PENNSYLVANIA—DOCTOR SAYS WIFE IS NEAR BREAKDOWN.

FREETOWN, L. I., July 25.—Mrs. Florence C. Carman, under indictment for manslaughter, the death of Mrs. Lulu D. Barry of Hempstead, returned yesterday with her husband and daughter Elizabeth from Lumberville, Pa., where she fled immediately after being released from Mineola jail in $20,000 bail.

Mrs. Carman's features show the terrible strain she has been under the last four weeks. Deep lines are visible in her cheeks and her hair is gray. She had to be assisted from the automobile by Dr. Carman and Mrs. Ida Powell, her sister.

Platt Conklin, the accused woman's aged father, stood at the door of their home to welcome Mrs. Carman. Father and daughter embraced affectionately and walked arm in arm into the house.

The news of Mrs. Carman's homecoming caused a crowd to collect, and 12 automobiles filled with curiosity seekers pulled up to look at the now famous "murder window" in the Carman house.

Dr. Carman said to interviewers: "This being constantly stared at is driving her crazy. At Lumberville people used to come and gaze in at the window. She is a sensitive woman, and this ordeal is killing her."

She is in a high state, and is on the edge of a complete nervous breakdown. We went away for a rest, but we have been hounded and followed every minute since we left home. This talk by the officials that there was a "murder" in the house was a very serious matter. No such weapon was here, and the box of .38-caliber bullets which I turned over to the police was so covered with dust that it must have lain in the gutter for years.

"We are not afraid of a new indictment charging murder in the first degree, for there is no evidence to warrant such a finding. In fact, the perjury indictment for manslaughter is a horrible injustice."

The colonel and the alleged accomplice, Barry, are simply the tools of the Boston detectives, and Barry is responsible for the newest revolver story.

Dr. Carman also announced that he would resume his practice at once, and that he was now stopping at the Waldorf, N. Y. city for one week, as the guest of The Chalmers Knitting Co., Amsterdam, N. Y., which is conducting the secret.

Many Also Get Diarrhoea—What To Do in Either Case.

Summer ought to be the months of most perfect health, but owing to contaminated water and milk, unripe fruit, and insects the average of illness is not small at this time of the year. There is much skin trouble from heat, and much diarrhoea from cold foods and food habits.

The skin trouble is easily stopped by discontinuing fruit for a few days, and the use of a mild laxative to clear the bowels and tone the bile.

The diarrhoea is likewise corrected by the use of a laxative that has emollient and astringent properties. Hence the best remedy to use is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which, as its name indicates, is a pleasant laxative combined with the virtues of pepsin, which we all know is the best cure for indigestion.

SERVIANS READY TO DIE TO LAST MAN AS EUROPE SITS ON THE EDGE OF A TERRIBLE WAR VOLCANO

1-SERVIAN INFANTRY 2-EMPEROR FRANCIS JOSEPH 3-CZAR OF RUSSIA

Servia was prepared to sacrifice her last soldier, regular or reservist, in her difficulty with Austria. Though possessing only a small standing army—12,000 in time of peace and 210,000 in time of war—it was apparently certain that Russia would hasten to her aid and that thus Europe might be involved in a general war. Crown Prince Alexander, who has been really the ruler of Servia since his father, King Peter, dropped the active reins of government, planned to lead his troops in person. The aged Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria took active charge of the situation as far as his country was concerned.

THOS. F. SLATTERY KILLED

Fell Under Freight Train on His Way From Work at Billerica Car Shops

Thomas F. Slattery, aged 21 years, result of having both legs amputated of St. Canada street, died at 8:30 o'clock when he fell under a freight train near last night at St. John's hospital as a the South Lowell depot while returning from his work at the Boston & Maine repair shops in Billerica. For nearly an hour the physicians at the hospital worked over the young man in an attempt to save his life but in spite of their efforts he died within two hours after the accident occurred. Young Slattery had boarded the work train, which carries the mechanics employed at the Billerica shops to this city every night, and had reached a point near the South Lowell station when he and several companions stepped off. As the work train was to shift a switch five or six of the young men attempted to jump on a freight which passed in the meantime. All succeeded in getting on in the freight except Slattery, who missed his hold and fell on the tracks, the wheels of the heavy cars passing over both legs. The freight was brought to a stop and the injured man placed in the caboose where he talked of the accident on the

MILL OVERSEER RESIGNS

LEAVES THE TREMONT AND SUFFOLK TO GO TO RHODE ISLAND

David H. Piette, residing at 18 Gage street, and an overseer in the carding department of the Tremont & Suffolk mill for the past year, has severed his connection with that concern to accept a similar position for the Centerville Mfg. Co. of Centerville, R. I.

Saturday noon before leaving the mill Mr. Piette was agreeably surprised by his employees who presented him a purse of gold as a token of esteem, the presentation speech being made by Omar Lassier, while the gift was presented by Miss Rosa Gagnon. Mr. Piette will leave Lowell on Wednesday and he will assume his new duties next Monday. Previous to his coming to this city Mr. Piette was overseer for the Taunton Mfg. Co. at Taunton, Mass. for nine years.

NEVER MEANT TO SHOOT

YOUNG MAN WHO SHOT TWO MEN AND A WOMAN ON BOSTON EXPRESS REGRETS MAD ACT

NEW YORK, July 27.—Chas. Stewart Parnell, the Brooklyn young man who shot two young men and a woman on a south-bound Boston express Saturday night soon after it entered the city limits, bitterly regrets his mad action.

"I never meant to shoot anybody," he said in the Bronx county jail yesterday. "I was crazy. My wife and I had quarreled and she had left me to go to her people in Springfield, Mass., and my domestic troubles upset me."

Austin Dyer, the sailor who was one of those shot by Parnell, was still alive early today, but the physicians say he cannot recover. Mrs. Bessie Thoren, who was shot in the face, is recovering.

STEAMSHIP ZEELAND REACHED NEW YORK AFTER CRASH WITH MISSOURI

NEW YORK, July 28.—The Red Star Line steamship Zeeland, which was in collision in mid-ocean with the British freight steamship Missouri last Wednesday, arrived last night with part of the rail on the starboard side smashed in by the bows. The accident occurred in a dense fog about 10:30 o'clock in the forenoon. No one on either vessel was injured.

The Zeeland came here from Dover and Antwerp. The Missouri was on her way from Baltimore for London and Antwerp.

The Zeeland carried 28 first class and nearly 200 second class passengers. The Zeeland had been especially strengthened at the point where the Missouri struck her. Otherwise, according to her captain, J. C. Moller, the Missouri's bow would have cut through the Zeeland.

Capt. Moller said he slowed down the Zeeland on approaching the fog bank.

"When I saw that the Missouri would not fail to strike us," he said,

"I ordered the passengers away from the rails and sounded 'quarters' although later such precautions were found to be needless, as we were but slightly injured. The impact of the blow sent the Missouri astern and later Capt. Watkins of the freight ship sent word to me by wireless that no assistance was needed as only his ship's bow was injured."

Passengers on the Zeeland said several women became hysterical but there was no panic.

Capt. Moller said the Zeeland did not leak and that no plates were broken.

"UNCLE" AFTER JUDGE

MONEY LENDER THREW COURT INTO UPROAR WHEN HE DEMANDED $1300 FROM JUDGE

YONKERS, N. Y., July 25.—The court of special sessions was thrown into an uproar yesterday when Abraham Rothschild, a money lender, entered the room and excitedly demanded of Judge Beall, then on the bench, that the Judge return to him $1300 of borrowed money. Rothschild became so excited that Judge Beall left the bench and retired to his chambers.

"I have been trying in every way to collect this money," Rothschild shouted, "but I haven't been able to get a lawyer to take up my case simply because you are on the bench."

Judge Beall directed him to bring suit for any alleged indebtedness, but this Rothschild asserted meant delay, and delay, he said, was driving him into bankruptcy. After Judge Beall had left the bench Rothschild was quieted and induced to depart.

When Gen. Butler was at home, "America" was always anchored in Boston inner harbor, off the South Boston flats, at a point where the Commonwealth docks are now located. She was one of the "sights" of the harbor, receiving a great tribute at all times from all kinds of craft as they passed her. In the winter she was dry-docked at Lawrence street, at City Point, where several tenders were fitted out. "When America" was in the Isle of Wight, Australia, and India.

The fire was first discovered at about 2:30 o'clock by an employee of the farm but both buildings were enveloped in flames at the time and it was impossible to save the animals. The Bedford fire department was summoned and upon its arrival the men removed a small amount of barn equipment and then directed their efforts toward saving the farmhouse which is situated a short distance away. The fire was extinguished at about 3 o'clock this morning when it was stated the loss would be about $15,000, partly covered by insurance.

The reflection of the blaze could be seen only seen by residents of this city at about 2:30 and 3 and many expressed the impression that the fire was in one of the nearby towns.

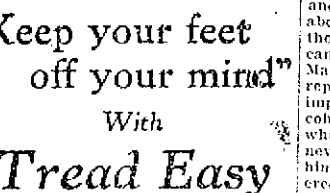

WHY TANGO WAS KILLED

under Explosive Evacuation in London—"Boston Dance" and "Boston Franciscan" New Favorites

LONDON, July 28.—Why the tango is killed was explained at the annual congress of the Imperial Society of dances held in London yesterday, by President C. H. Taylor, who said that the self-styled experts gave the modern dances an unenviable reputation by their violent and in many cases unbridled, exaggeration and scaled the fate of the tango.

In his opinion, the tango is the most frightful ballroom dance seen in many years. The competition among dances yesterday afternoon showed the tango to be the least popular of the "moderns" to be the most favored.

It's wonderful how this soothing, septic foot powder prevents perspiration, stops the itching and burning, makes tight shoes fit easier and "keeps your feet off your feet" by making them comfortable.

"That's the extent of my wealth," "Jakey" said.

"Oh, that's all right; I will take you check, Mr. Harrington."

"But, my dear man," replied Mr. Harrington, "I think too much of you to give you into trouble by giving you my check; but I fear my account may be overdrawn."

for some time to come," replied Mr. Harrington.

"No, Mr. Harrington, I will see you again in a short time," said "Jake," and he vanished in haste.

Around the corner he flew to the bank where Mr. Harrington deposited his money in upon the cashier, he exclaimed:

"Mr. Cashier, a little business question?"

"Is John H. Harrington's check good?"

"Do you mean John H. of The Sun?" asked the surprised cashier.

"That's the man; a personal friend of mine," said "Jake."

"Well, yes, good," replied the cashier with emphasis.

"For a good sized amount?" persisted "Jake."

"For any amount. Why do you ask?" asked the cashier.

But all "Jake" wanted to hear were the words "any amount" and he was gone.

Two minutes later he appeared in

The Sun office wreathed in smiles. "Where is Mr. Harrington?" he asked. "Just stepped out," replied Manager Reidy. "I must see him at once. I have just been to the bank and they say his check is good for any amount, so he needn't hesitate to give me a check for $25,000." Mr. Reidy expressed pleasure at the knowledge of the fact that the firm's credit was still good, and ventured the remark that he had always suspected himself but had never advertised his suspicion in the papers. "Jadey," who had been waiting for half an hour, and was growing impatient, said: "What time will he return?" "A week from Monday; he's gone to the beach," was the reply.

If the conversation should turn to educational honors don't forget to mention the wife and children of the late George H. Conley, who was superintendent of schools in Boston from Sept. 1, 1864, to Dec. 20, 1905, when he died.

Within a short time the College of New Rochelle at New Rochelle, N. Y., paid a special tribute to Mrs. Conley (Kato Thecla Conley, A. M.), who is director of the department of vocal sciences. Through work with Alfred Graudet of the Paris Conservatory and the New York Institute of Musical Art, and after studying with Jerome Hayes of New York and Cornell university, she has been able to have her department recognized by the regents as one of the best in New York state. Of late Mrs. Conley has been lecturing in the east and has gained considerable favorable attention. Miss Katherine Conley, eldest daughter of the late superintendent, has graduated from the academy department of St. Joseph's college, Emmetsburg, Md. She has since taken her A. B. degree from Notre Dame college of Maryland, and has since finished with the degree of master of arts at the College of New Rochelle as the youngest student ever receiving such honors. For this distinction she was congratulated by Most Rev. John Bonzano, D. D., apostolic delegate to the United States, and the Hon. Martin Glynn, governor of New York.

Miss Helen Conley has received an Paul Conley has entered the preparatory department of Mt. St. Mary's college, Emmitsburg.

Miss Ruth, the youngest of the family, is in the preparatory department of St. Joseph's college, where for generations the women of the Conley family have been their education.

While Mr. Conley was superintendent of schools in Boston, he and his family made many friends. All now extend hearty congratulations.

WAR IS DECLARED

MME. CAILLAUX AGAIN FAINTED IN COURT

Prisoner Collapsed During Speech by Edouard Seligman, One of Attorneys Representing Family of Murdered Editor

PARIS, July 28.—Madame Henriette Caillaux looked worn and ill when she was conducted today into the prisoners' enclosure of the criminal court of the palace of justice for the eighth day's hearing in her trial for the wilful murder of Gaston Calmette, editor of the Figaro. She shook her head wearily and crouched on the prisoners' bench with her face buried in her hands as Maître Labori, her defender, greeted her.

The day's proceedings started with a speech by Edouard Seligman, one of the attorneys representing the family of the murdered editor.

Madame Caillaux again fainted in court today and Judge Albanel suspended the sitting.

Madame Caillaux had been becoming visibly weaker as the sitting continued and appeared unconscious of what was occurring in court. A hot water bottle was placed beneath her feet and a cushion at her back soon after she entered the court.

Meanwhile Maître Seligman continued his address. He said:

"The sons of Gaston Calmette asked us to bring them to this court to seek justice. We refused to do so, but do not forget, gentlemen of the jury, with what anguish the orphans await your verdict. You have heard witness after witness speak in praise of the late M. Calmette. There has been only one discordant note and that came from M. Caillaux. What connection with the case has the fortune of the murdered man? How many millions must a man have in order to permit his being assassinated with complete impunity?"

Mme. Caillaux collapsed.

Following Maître Seligman came Maître Chava and his cutting analysis of the actions of Madame Caillaux on the day of the tragedy was too much for the prisoner. She collapsed and fell in a heap on the floor of the prisoners' enclosure. As she swooned Maître Chava was saying:

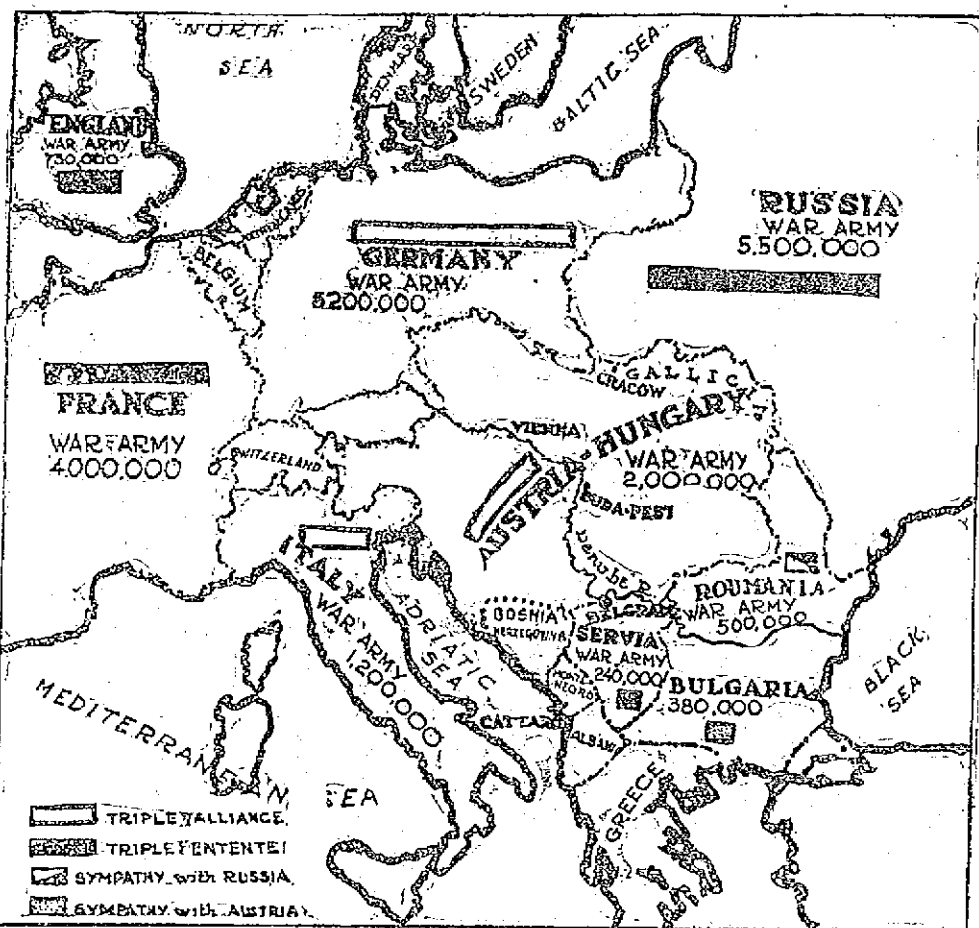

"I will speak of nothing except the assassination of M. Calmette. I will ask the accused whether when she spoke of her love for her daughter, she thought of the two children of M. Calmette, whose pictures never left him. I shall not attempt to go into the biography of Mme. Caillaux. She is a cool, sensible woman, without emotion or pity. She has tears only for herself. She worked with tenacity to break up her lover's home. You see the result—the mistress triumphed over the lawful spouse. They are bound up in each other, in their happiness, in their hopes, even in their murder plans."

"M. Caillaux is a man of inordinate and limitless ambition, whose power rests on his own audacity and on the fear he inspires."

"M. Caillaux omitted to tell his wife of the assurances given by President Poincaré that Calmette was incapable of printing private letters. They did not fear that. What they feared was the publication of the report by Victor Fabre on the Rochette swindle."

"The husband's violent words at the lunch table decided the wife to substitute herself for him and she prepared the assassination with as much calm as a society woman filling in calls between two tea parties."

DECLARATION OF WAR IS SENT TO SERBIA

The Austro Hungarian Government Officially Notifies Serbia That War is on—All Nations Prepare for Hostilities—Germany and Austria Refuse Sir Edward Grey's Proposals

VIENNA, July 28.—Official notification of the declaration of war was sent to Serbia today by the Austro-Hungarian government.

The declaration of war was gazetted here this afternoon. The text is as follows:

"The royal government of Serbia not having replied in a satisfactory manner to the note remitted to it by the Austro-Hungarian minister in Belgrade on July 23, 1914, the imperial and royal government finds itself compelled to proceed to safeguard its rights and interests and to have recourse for this purpose to force of arms."

"Austria-Hungary considers itself, therefore, from this moment in a state of war with Serbia."

(Signed)
"Count Berchtold, Minister of Foreign Affairs."

ALL NATIONS PREPARED FOR WAR
—ENGLAND'S BATTLE SQUAD—
—IRON MOBILIZED—

LONDON, July 28.—The refusal by Germany and Austria-Hungary to participate in a mediation conference on the Austro-Serbian conflict, reports of the rapid movement of Austro-Hungarian troops and the persistent downward trend of European stock markets were the outstanding developments of the European situation today. Preparations for war proceeded on all sides. Even England's battle squadrons have all been mobilized in readiness for eventualities and the publication of official news as to the movements of British warships has ceased. The first and second battle squadrons have taken on their full war stores and are ready to slip their anchors at a moment's notice, while the destroyer flotillas around the coast also have been prepared and armed guards were placed today around all the magazines and oil depots.

Germany's definite refusal to participate in the ambassadorial conference proposed by Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary, in an effort to maintain peace, is regarded here as tantamount to a declaration of Germany's determination that Austria-Hungary shall have an entirely free hand in chastising Serbia unless the Balkan kingdom accedes in full to the demands of the dual monarchy.

According to advices received here, Germany's refusal was couched in terms of sympathy with Sir Edward Grey's object but contended that the suggested conference would place Austria-Hungary in the ludicrous position of appearing like the Balkan state before a European tribunal to explain her actions and therefore likely to increase rather than decrease the difficulties of the situation.

Apparently authentic reports current here assert that Russia has been given positive assurances that Austria-Hungary has no intention of annexing Serbian territory. If true this might be thought help the efforts to localize the war.

Thus far there has been no official confirmation of the reports of hostilities between Austria and Serbia, but among the rumors published is one of the seizure of the Serbian ships carrying contraband by an Austrian patrol on the Danube.

The actual cause of Austria-Hungary's decision to enter into hostile conflict with Serbia was the reply sent by the Balkan state to the note from Vienna demanding that Serbia take steps to put a stop to the Pan-Serbian propaganda on Austrian territory and also punish those Serbians indirectly concerned in the assassination in Bosnia on June 28 of Archduke Francis Ferdinand, heir to the Austro-Hungarian throne, and his wife.

The response of Serbia was considered by the foreign office in Vienna "unsatisfactory" and in a confidential communication made public yesterday the Austro-Hungarian government said that the reply was filled with the spirit of dishonesty.

In the meantime, Sir Edward Grey took the initiative of requesting the European powers to permit their armies to be mobilized.

NO ACTION TAKEN ON THE PUTNAM CASE

By Municipal Board at Today's Meeting — Will Rest Till Next Tuesday Unless Special Meeting be Called

The gallery and side seats in the aldermanic chamber were about all taken this morning when the municipal council members took their seats for the opening of the regular meeting and there were many disappointed spectators when the meeting adjourned without any mention being made of the Putnam case. It was confidently expected that the council would vote on the question of removing the superintendent of streets, but unless a special meeting is called no action in the matter will be taken until next Tuesday. The mayor and certain members of the council state that they have not yet assimilated the evidence in the case.

Mayor Murphy called to order at 11:30 with all members present.

The mayor read the petition of Daniel M. Leary for a permit to keep gasoline in Howe street.

William D. Regan, Esq., appeared for the petitioner and the matter was referred to Commissioner Carmichael as was also like petitions by Wilfred Blount and E. Martel.

Several petitions for pole locations on wire attachments were properly referred.

Weight of Cotton

The appointment of James J. Walsh as a cotton weigher for the Massachusetts mills was granted.

Wm. A. Arnold was appointed constable to serve civil processes.

Petitions for sewers by Samuel Tompkins and others were referred to the commissioner of streets and highways and orders for sidewalks in Marion street were adopted.

Drowned in Hale's Brook

The mayor read a communication from Harry Andrew, administrator of the estate of Marion Andrew, who lost her life by falling into Hale's brook on March 31, 1914. The communication was in the form of a claim for loss of life, it being maintained that the bridge across the brook should have been closed by the city as it was not a public way. The matter was referred to the law department.

John Donnelly Agate

Mayor Murphy read a communication from John P. Donnelly of Newhall street, relative to the Putnam case. The communication was received and placed on file.

Mayor Swaps Cows

Mayor Murphy requested permission to exchange six cows for five, the exchange to be made with a man in Chelmsford. The mayor explained that the six cows belonging to the city are old and have outgrown their usefulness as milk producers, while the five cows to be received in exchange are young. The authority to make the exchange was granted.

Cash for Farm

A contract with Mansfield & Witham for cash for the Chelmsford street hospital at $7.50 per 100 pounds was approved and the order adopted.

Chained His Mind

At the last meeting of the council a petition for a gasoline license, Mr. D. French, was given leave to withdraw, and today Commissioner Donnelly asked that the council rescind its action and that the petition be granted. It was so voted.

An order introduced by Commissioner Brown providing for the payment of city bills on the first day of the month instead of on the fifteenth day of the month for the purpose of simplifying the bookkeeping, was adopted.

Wants Street Scarifier

An order presented by Commissioner Morse for the purchase of a Buffalo Pitts improved scarifier, with an extra set of ten teeth, was presented and adopted, the scarifier to be purchased through the purchasing agent. Mr. Morse explained that the scarifier would do the work of several men and that Lowell should have had one year ago.

Taking Decennial Census

The following communication from the chief of the state bureau of labor and statistics was received and placed on file:

Boston, July 21, 1914.

To the Mayor and City Council, Lowell, Mass.:

Gentlemen: I beg to call your attention to the provisions of section 3, chapter 632, acts of the year 1914, being an act to provide for taking the decennial census, this section reading as follows:

"Upon the petition of a city government of any city filed with the director of the bureau of statistics prior to the first day of January in the year 1915 for an enumeration of the city in such manner as to show the number of inhabitants and legal voters in each street, square or avenue, or in such blocks or squares of the city as may be designated, and specifying the details with which it is desired that the results thereof shall be tabulated, the enumeration shall be made; provided, that the director is able to procure such maps or plans as may be necessary for this purpose. The tabulations herein provided for shall be limited to such inquiries as appear upon the regular schedules for the census of population provided for in section 1 of this act, and upon the completion of the tabulations as aforesaid made for any city under the provisions of this section and the determination of the expense incurred therefor, the treasurer and receiver general shall issue his warrant as provided in section 43 of part 1 of chapter 43B of the acts of the year 1909, entitling the assessors of the cities concerned to assess a tax to the amount of such expense, and the said amount shall be collected and paid over to the treasurer and receiver general in the same manner as other state taxes. A copy of any tabulations made in accordance with this section, shall, as soon as verifiable therefor, be filed by the director of the bureau of statistics with the city clerk of the city for which they were made."

Very truly yours,
Charles P. Gettemy, Director.

WAR BULLETINS

NISL, Serbia, July 28.—The Serbian steamers Deligrad and Morava were seized today at Orsova, on the Danube, by Austrians. The passengers were detained.

VIENNA, July 28.—The Mitteleuropäische Rundschau reports active movements of both Serbian and Montenegrin troops which are close to the frontier at Priboj, near the frontier of Bosnia.

LONDON, July 28.—Authoritative advices received here from Belgrade state that Germany has asked for positive assurances from Roumania of her future loyalty in connection with the Austro-Serbian situation.

CHICAGO, July 28.—Immense expansion of trade in wheat followed announcement today that war had been officially declared. Within a few minutes the market touched a point about three cents a bushel higher than prices earlier in the session and 2-1/2 above last night.

NEW YORK, July 28.—News of the actual declaration of war between Austria and Serbia was followed by selling on a very active scale on the stock exchange today. Prices fell more rapidly, Canadian Pacific dropping over six points while other prominent stocks were offered at increasing recessions. Large blocks of stocks were thrown over in urgent haste, presumably for foreign holders.

PAUL M. WARBURG SILENT

NEW YORK, July 28.—Paul M. Warburg declined today to comment upon the visit of Senator Hitchcock. He said the situation demanded that he remain absolutely silent. He would not admit that he had even been in conference with Senator Hitchcock.

MARRIED WOMEN MISSING

Mrs. Atkins and Mrs. Hayes, Principals in $100,000 Case Gone—Both Being Sued for Divorce

BOSTON, July 28.—Mrs. Martha Atkins, a wealthy Wellesley woman, is missing from her recent place of residence at White Oak, Ga., and by her disappearance a new and distinctly unusual twist has been given the complicated case in which she and Mrs. Caroline L. Hayes, the escaped Boston Inmate hospital inmate, are the principals, and which, among other things, involves the alleged misappropriation of $100,000.

Word of Mrs. Atkins' disappearance, which so closely follows the sensational escape of Mrs. Hayes from the insane hospital, reached Boston this week from the principal of the White Oak home where Mrs. Atkins has been living.

According to the latter's letter, strance herself, some of which bore Boston addresses, had been received by her late last month and on July 4, after telling him she had received "good news," she left the house and has not been heard from since.

She is alleged to have been under the influence of the Hayes woman, and it was from her estate, over which conservators recently were appointed that the Hayes woman is alleged to have misappropriated $100,000 in property. The presence of Mrs. Atkins in Boston is necessary in event of criminal proceedings which are said to be contemplated against Mrs. Hayes.

Both Sued for Divorce

Both women are being sued for divorce. The names of prominent local citizens have been mentioned in connection with the case. Sensational actions culminating in the dramatic escape of Mrs. Hayes from the Austin Inmate hospital and in the disappearance of Mrs. Atkins, have marked the case throughout, and with both women unaccounted for, the situation has become even more complicated.

Mrs. Atkins is the wife of Arthur M. Atkins, a prominent automobile man. She is wealthy in her own right, but for years is alleged to have been under the influence of Mrs. Hayes. It was as the result of this alleged influence that two conservators were appointed to care for her estate recently, and following their appointment a mysterious shortage of $100,000 worth of jewelry, silverware, personal property, bonds and real estate were discovered.

Mrs. Hayes is the wife of Dr. John J. Hayes of 516 Columbus avenue. She married the aged physician after a romantic courtship which started while Dr. Hayes called at her apartment at 404 Massachusetts avenue while she was suffering from pneumonia. She was married under the name of Mrs. Caroline L. Tuttle, and was a supposed wealthy widow worth many millions of dollars.

How to get rid of flies

Flies breed in filth, in anything that smells. To reduce the fly pest you need a powerful disinfectant, like Carbonol, around the house. You can buy Carbonol at the drug-store. A small quantity of it is enough to give germicidal power to a whole bucket of water. Pour a Carbonol solution over the garbage and thenceforth flies will have no use for it. Wash the steps and back porch with Carbonol and flies will stay away. Wash out the kitchen sink with Carbonol and pour some down the trap. Put Carbonol into the water used in cleaning the kitchen and it will make the kitchen so clean and wholesome that a fly will simply be unable to stand the place.

SUMMER OUT OF CONTROL

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., July 28.—The steamship Sarnia of the Royal Canadian Line, bound up the Welland canal yesterday carried away the two head gates of a lock on the canal. The vessel was out of control as it entered the lock. It was said, and struck the gates before its speed could be checked. The Sarnia was not injured. Navigation through the locks will be restored today, it is expected.

MAN CRUSHED TO DEATH

Fireman Killed at Concord, N. H.—Fire—Two Others Injured—Buried Under Lumber

CONCORD, N. H., July 28.—One fireman lost his life and two others were seriously injured by being caught under a pile of lumber at a fire which destroyed $75,000 worth of property of the Granite State Manufacturing company, the state prison contractors, yesterday afternoon.

Amos Turner, a permanent man at the central fire station, was killed. Philip O'Connell and Clarence Clark, call men attached to the department, were those injured.

Harmed Beneath Fire

At the time of the accident the men were engaged in fighting the fire in the big lumber piles north of the state prison, when, without warning, one of them toppled over, burying the three. They were using a high power stream between two of the piles, lighting the flames in front of them, and using a bunch of wood as protection from the intense heat.

So intent were they on what was in front, that they did not notice the fire eating around behind them until, without warning, the pile toppled over, burying them.

Marjorie Wadsworth, foreman of the combination company, was the first to reach the men. He first came upon Turner, but on lifting him up he realized that the end had come to him, and with the men who rallied to his assistance, he removed Clark and then O'Connell, of whom were able to help in their extrication.

Both O'Connell and Clark were badly crushed about the body and legs and were burned about the face, head and legs.

The fire, which destroyed three storehouses, was within the prison grounds. Just north of the shops, the manufacturing company manufactures chairs by convict labor. There was no disorder among the convicts. W. P. Whitney of Ashburnham, Mass., is the principal owner of the company. The fire is believed to have started in the grass in the rear of the company's main storehouse from sparks from a switching locomotive, which was working about the attic tracks in the lumber yard.

An effort was made to stop the blaze and the men about the house thought it had been successfully checked, but impelled by the strong northwest wind it had run under the main storehouse.

The storehouse was filled from end to end with claims ready for shipment and it is estimated there were more than 5000 doors burned.

Stored in the yard on the east side of the storehouse was over 300,000 feet of hardwood lumber and the flames spread quickly to this pile, more than 1,000,000 feet of this was burned.

So intense was the heat from the burning piles when the department arrived that the south side of the factory of the Concord Woodworking company was smoking, but by using the fire-fighting apparatus in the shop the building was saved. Properly on the east side of North State street was also in danger, and it became necessary to use garden hose and to employ bucket brigades to keep the roofs wet.

The state prison was in danger from the flames for a time, but the precautions taken by Warden Howe and Deputy Bailey were effective in keeping the fire outside the walls.

Lines of hose were laid out from the hydrants in the yard, and manned by officers and inmates. With these the roofs of the shop and other buildings were protected, and after the danger had passed to a degree, the lines were run through the big gates outside the yard, and the men assisted the regular firemen in the work of stopping the advance of the fire towards the buildings.

There was very little excitement inside the walls of the structure. The prisoners watched the fire with interest, but soon after it started they were placed in their cells.

An added danger was presented by the embers which started fires on the slopes of North State hill and around the Calvary cemetery. One of these fires threatened the prison stable, and it was only saved after considerable work by the men of the institution. The embers also threatened the new plant of the New England Box Co., with more than 5,000,000 feet of lumber stored in the yard.

A QUARTER CENTURY AGO

Nowadays we think nothing of the ride to Lakeview beyond the time that it takes to get there, for the scenery en route has long since ceased to attract us, for familiarity it doesn't always breed contempt, breeds indifference. But such was not the case quarter of a century ago when Lakeview and electric car travel were entirely new to Lowell, and when just 25 years ago one day this week, the first trip on the electric to Lakeview was made the old Sun dished up the ride as follows:

"Thursday afternoon when the sky was pouring a deluge of water on the city, 150 prominent citizens representing every shade of political belief and every branch of trade, and all the professions, boarded the new electric cars on Bridge street near Paige street and started for Willow Dale. (Lakeview, at that time was also known as Willow Dale.)

It was a jolly party. Every man succeeded in getting wet before the party started but not a single man felt it. It was a free racket, the Lowell and Dracut horse railroad settling the bill for the baptism of the new electric road and the formal opening of the new 64 car park. All the officials of the road were present and they worked like hammers to make everyone comfortable. The ride out was very enjoyable, the beautifully decorated cars skimming over the rails of Bridge street, River street, Hamblett street, on through the beautiful country, over the green from the recent rains, through Collinsville, dashing by the modest Catholic church, the mills and the homes of the operatives. On over the smooth road, flashing by farms with beautiful crops, over the corduroy road around a curve and with a cheer the gentlemen on board the four electric cars alight before the new hotel and the dance pavilion, on the shores of the pretty pond. Trees that have weathered since the time when the Indians wandered through this territory crowded up to the very doors of the hotel whose broad piazzas extend on every side. The pond ripples under the piazzas and a navy of 20 boats and the steam launch "Grown Prince" are at hand to take pleasure parties to any part of the pond. The hotel will be a model one. A big open fireplace in the dining hall will do duty when the weather is cool and the billiard and several game rooms upstairs and the private dining room will hold many merry parties before the year is many weeks older. The dance hall is a large one and like the dining room has large piazzas that overlook the pond.

"A palatable lunch was served by the Waverley house eaters and the large party did it full justice. The ride out, the grove and the luncheon struck everyone in a tender spot and Mayor Palmer returned thanks for the company and incidentally complimented the railroad men for their enterprise and said that whatever redounded to the benefit of the company would be a benefit to the city. Col. Haggitt also made remarks. When the gentlemen had thoroughly inspected all the fine points of the great enterprise, the return trip was made. The cars darted over the green while 150 voices were cheering the enterprise of the railroad men. On the home stretch the cars flew over the ground and the mild evening's air made one's blood tingle and every man felt a keen satisfaction in the sensations. In half an hour the party was deposited at the corner of Merrimack and Bridge streets opposite The Sun building and an interesting experience was at an end."

Note: Please don't misinterpret the concluding statement, to wit: "In half an hour the party was deposited at the corner of Merrimack and Bridge streets." It wasn't a case of "This side up; use no hooks" for every man in the party could have gone before his wife and proven an alibi. The word "deposited," in this case, simply meant "detained," or "left the cars," as you will.

The Second Trial Trip

The second trial trip of the new electric while the old Sun declares to have been a success it was not without a mishap as the following account of the trip will show:

"The second trial trip of the new electric cars on the Willow Dale line of the Lowell and Dracut street railroad occurred Sunday afternoon and was very successful. One trip in the entire distance and two short trips from the car house to the present street square were made, and each was witnessed by a large gathering of people. Merrimack walks from River street to Merrimack street, lined with people who had heard that the ride was in operation. About 2 o'clock the car left the stable and proceeded to Willow Dale, making the first trip over the entire road. Messrs. MacGonigal of Boston, President August Felt, P. M. Sullivan and the electric car men were the passengers. The car came to the city and went to the stable where another car was attached and the return trip made. A number of persons were given a free ride to Collinsville, and back to the car house on Hamblett street. The first mishap occurred near Parker and Bassett's mill (the old paper mill near Parker avenue). J. F. McKissack was driving his bay on the road when it became frightened and backed the vehicle on the track in front of the car. The buggy was badly wrecked and the occupants, Mr. McKissack and Mr. Charles Parker, thrown out. The former was thrown against the car dasher but was saved from serious injury by L. C. Baker who caught him. Mr. Parker was slightly bruised by the fall. The horse was slightly bruised but will come out all right. The vehicle will be taken in charge by the carriage-repairer. The electric cars can be projected at a rate of 30 miles an hour but seven miles an hour will be the average speed for a trip. Three cheers for E. G. MacGonigal, always on deck.

The Opening Trips Didn't Always Make

seven miles an hour nor in some cases one mile, for with the nervousness of the modus operandi and the immense crowds that squeezed into the cars there were break-downs and delays that rendered the ride anything but enjoyable. In a short time, however, the cars began to run smoothly and on schedule time and electric car riding soon became a fixture in Lowell.

"As She Sees It" Not Around

Says the old Sun: "The public bath house on the Merrimack river is now open and in charge of R. F. Freeman. It accommodates 250 bathers at a time. It is open from 8 a. m. to 12 m. and 1 to 6 and 7 to 9 p. m. Thursday will be reserved for women."

The city authorities probably mean to pay the fair sex a graceful compliment by intimating that they weren't as urgently in need of a bath as the men and they got away with it, for in these days, Miss "As She Sees It" was consulting her literary efforts to school compositions and was not doing the lion of Are stunt for "equal rights."

for all women, with a vote included." Just imagine the "boller" that would appear in the Courier-Citizen today were the city authorities to limit ladies to one free bath a week giving the rest of the week to the men.

Butler on the "America"

Probably there are many Lowell men and women who have read from day to day of the preparations being made for the coming international boat race when Sir Thomas Lipton is to make one more attempt to lift "the America cup," who are not aware of the fact that the famous yacht "America," after which the international trophy has been named was for many years owned by Gen. Benjamin F. Butler of this city, and that while Paul Butler was getting international fame in the frail-kind of a craft afloat, the canoe, his father was cruising about in the boat that made yacht racing internationally famous. The Sun of 25 years ago had the following:

"General Butler, accompanied by Paul Butler, Walter D. Lawson, W. S. Butler, wife and daughter, Ex-Gov. Smythe and wife of New Hampshire, is cruising on the yacht "America," Continued to last page

VITAL FORCE

Disease germs are on every hand. They are in the very air we breathe. A system "run down" is a prey for them. One must have vital force to withstand them. Vital force depends on digestion—on whether or not food nourishes—on the quality of blood coursing through the body.

GETTING READY FOR WAR

Local Greeks Will Offer Services to Greek Government for the Servian Trouble

The Greeks of this city, especially the veterans of the Turkish-Balkan war are hoping that their king will send in a call for volunteers in the event of Greece lending a hand to the Servian government with the threatening trouble that is now pending with Austria-Hungary, and it was stated this morning that over five hundred volunteers are ready to respond to a call to arms.

The local Greeks are following the crisis with deep interest and their patriotic blood is boiling. There are nearly five hundred veterans in Lowell and all are anxious to see more fighting. A large number of them had not seen real fire for upon their arrival in Greece after the last recruiting they were assigned to guard duty on territory captured by the Greek army and they were not given a real opportunity to handle the gun and they hope that a call for volunteers will be sent to the state by their chief executive.

It is understood that in the event of the Greek government sending help to Servia over 100,000 soldiers will be detailed to the battlefield and they hope a call for volunteers in foreign lands will be sent in. It is to be judged by the attitude of local Greeks toward the Austria-Hungary government, it is fair to assume that there is a bitter feeling between the latter country and Greece.

The Lowell Greeks are in fine physical condition and their training is excellent, for since the return of the veterans of the Balkan-Turkish war they have organized into a military regiment and every Sunday they parade to Pawtucketville, where they are put through maneuvers by competent officers. Despite the fact that a number of their local comrades have lost their lives on the battle field and also that several of those who returned to Lowell have since died from their injuries, they still retain that fighting spirit that was so characteristic with them at the outbreak of the war.

The chief topic of discussion in the Market street cafes is the Servian trouble and the possibilities of a call to arms and it is possible that a message will be sent from Lowell to King Constantine to the effect that the boys from the Spindle City are anxious to go to the front and the services of over five hundred men will be offered. However the men are awaiting further developments before such a step is taken.

AMONG THE TOILERS

Mr. Robert Brown of the John Pilling Shoe Co., is spending two weeks in New York.

Joseph Cote and Hosnette Carber of the Merrimack mills spent an enjoyable day at Nahant, Sunday.

Miss Mae Wayne of the Prescott mills has returned from a pleasant vacation spent at Hampton beach.

Thomas Holloran, employed at the Lowell Hosiery mills, is spending two weeks at Hampton beach.

Walter Kelley, formerly employed at the American Hide and Leather Co., is now working in Boston.

Mr. Chester Bradley has accepted a position with the American Safety Tread Co.

John Sullivan of the Merrimack mills has returned from Hampton beach where he spent two weeks.

John Conway of the Barry Shoe Co., contemplates taking a trip to New York in the very near future.

Joseph Walsh of the Pilling Shoe Co., will probably enter the ten mile amateur motor-cycle event at Revereville Saturday.

Mr. Michael Flanagan, formerly employed at the Hamilton Manufacturing Co., is now working for the water works department.

Miss Gertrude McCarthy of the Higley Carpet Co. has returned from a delightful vacation spent at Salisbury beach.

The Fainsetta Girls have returned from their vacation spent at Salisbury beach. They do say that they had a delightful time.

George "Hickey" Lyons of the Sun Lowell shops is putting up a grand game of ball for the South Ends these days.

Frank McCabe, who was until recently working at the Carpenters' trade has accepted a position with the American Hide and Leather Co.

Joe Stowell of the Hamilton Manufacturing Co. has not stopped talking about the loomfixers' convention yet. Enthusiasm is a great thing.

William Espandola, formerly employed at the Merrimack mills, has accepted a position with the Tremont & Suffolk mills.

Carter Sullivan of the Merrimack mills is spending a week with relatives at his summer cottage at Ipswich.

Mrs. Mary Johnson of the Silesia Worsted Co., North Chelmsford, will spend the next two weeks with friends in Gardner, Mass.

Abu Buckley, of the U. S. Bunting Co., is without a doubt the greatest outfielder that has sprouted up around these parts in many years.

Jack Donnelly, of the Stirling mills has signified his intention of encamping with the O. M. I. Cadets next week.

The young men who have been leaning out over the window sills on the second story of the Bigelow Carpet mill and better be careful, it's quite a drop.

Thomas Brown of the Barry Shoe Co. has returned from his trip to the mountains. He brought home quite a collection of interesting photographs of that picturesque region.

Thomas Hartley, employed at the waterhead mills, who was seriously injured last Saturday in a ball game at the Tewksbury Infirmary, is improving rapidly.

Leo Leno of the American Hide & Leather Co. has painted some remarkable portraits. Mr. Leno is also very fond of music and is an accomplished violinist.

One industrious mill employee who spends his spare time in exploring the wild and unhabited regions in and about Lowell has discovered a new resort in Little Canada and has christened it "Saunders beach."

Joseph Quinn, secretary of the Macchietti union is kept quite busy these days organizing. This union, which is the largest in the city never relaxes but is always on the lookout for new members.

Jack Dudley and Thomas Rafferty, employees at the Field and Lumber Co., made quite a catch of the funny tribe at Silver Lake, Sunday. They have another excursion planned for next Saturday and Sunday.

James Hogan of the Field and Lumber Co. and party enjoyed the automobile ride to Bass Point, Sunday. Immensely, his friends are delighted ed with the running qualities of his new Buick Six.

Next Saturday the annual outing of the employees of the U. S. Cartridge Co. takes place. This is an annual event and is also the greatest factory outing of the season.

The Plumbers have made final arrangements for their annual outing which will be held next Saturday at Bass Point, and present indications seem to point to its being the most successful held in years.

James Sharkey, formerly employed at the Higley Carpet Co., is taking up a course in embalming at a Boston embalming school. Mr. Sharkey has had much experience having worked for J. P. Rogers and Co., undertakers of this city.

Mr. Robert Walmsley, boss weaver at the Massachusetts mills, has taken up golf as his favorite pastime. Mr. Walmsley was always enthusiastic over athletics and at one time was a semi-professional ball player.

All aboard for the second annual excursion of the Silesia Worsted Co., employees which takes place Saturday. The excursionists will journey to Revere beach for the day and from all accounts it will be one long to be remembered.

Albin Easter of the Helme Electric Co. expressed himself last night as perfectly willing to meet the terrible boxing kangaroo at Lakeside. Albin has some reputation in the manly science and his friends will endeavor to try to bring them together.

Harry Snyder of the Mears, Adams Shoe Co. was shocked indeed at the terrible appearance of Salem. Mr. Snyder was born in Salem and the first of its way right through the very district in which he once resided.

Frank Curran, of the American Hide and Leather Co. was a much surprised young man when he received a telephone call Saturday at Revere beach to come home, the person calling, reminding him of the fact that it was 6 o'clock.

Walter Lowmyer of the Merrimack mills is thinking seriously of hiring an express wagon to cart home all the post cards that have been sent to him the past week. Mr. Lowmyer said he never thought that he had so many friends.

Paul Jarvis and John Gearin, employees at the Merrimack mills held a reception to their friends at their camp at Mud pond last evening. Upon the arrival of the party, refreshments were served after which an enjoyable entertainment was given. The party broke up at a late hour, voting the evening well spent.

Still another runner of promise has announced himself at the Tremont & Suffolk mills in the person of Mr. Anthony Farley. He is touted by his friends to be a world beater. The outing will be the place where he can show his great abilities and he'll have plenty of opportunity judging from the list of entrants already received.

Loomfixers Held Meeting
The members of Loomfixers' union held a largely attended and enthusiastic meeting last evening in the Russell building last evening. Business of much importance was transacted and two new members were admitted. Many of the members gave interesting talks on the good of the union. The secretary reported the union to be in the best financial condition in its long history.

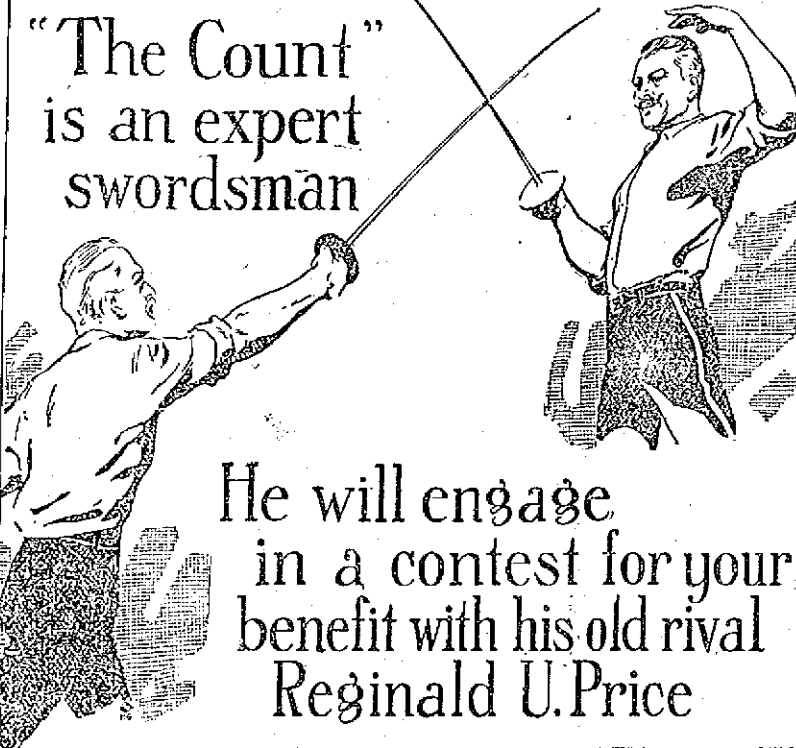

THE KIMBALL SYSTEM WON
The St. Columba H. N. society ball club met defeat Saturday afternoon on their home hands, to the Kimball System Ball club, being the winners. The feature of the game was the all round playing of Brick of the St. Columba, he having 7 put outs in left field and he saved the game no less than twice for the Kimball system. Game was close throughout and was in doubt until the last man was retired. Cunningham, who pitched for St. Columba, was replaced by MacDonald in the last of the game and held the Kimball system to but one scratch hit for the remaining innings. Next Saturday the Kimball system play the strong Coburn A. C. team at Shedd park and hope to ninko this their 5th straight win.

WESTERN TENNIS ASS'N.
CHICAGO, July 28.—The men's doubles and women's matches in the tournament of the Western Tennis association which were delayed by rain yesterday were started today on the courts of the Onawetka Country club. The first round of men's singles yesterday developed no upsets, all the crack players coming through. In most cases two sets were sufficient.

"Count Discount" vs. Reg. Ular Price

This is a reproduction of an advertisement that appeared in this paper on July 22

"The Count" is an expert swordsman

He will engage in a contest for your benefit with his old rival Reginald U. Price

"Count Discount" is putting up some battle too, isn't he? You notice Reginald we call "Reg" for short because we never allow the "long price" to enter this store—hence "Count Discount" versus "Regular Price." The Count is making Regular Price ask for "quarter" too—that is 25 per cent off.

And what "Count Discount" is doing to Regular Price here now is where you come in. It's for your clothes economy that he is contesting and you win—if you will only take advantage of these bargains. If the prices quoted below do not tempt you come in and see the quality back of them.

FOR MURDER OF BALLOU

Mrs. Angle Held Criminally Responsible for Death of Waldo Ballou in Coroner's Finding

STAMFORD, Conn., July 28.—Mrs. Helen M. Angle is held criminally responsible for the death of Waldo Ballou in this city on the night of June 23 in a finding announced by Coroner John J. Phelan today.

Ballou, who was a member of a prominent family, was picked up in a lying condition outside a downtown business building in which Mrs. Angle had apartments. To the police that night Mrs. Angle said that she found Ballou at the foot of a flight of stairs in the building after he had left her and that in the belief that he was dead from a fall or from liquor she carried him outside and left him on the doorstep of the entrance. Ballou died from a fractured skull.

The coroner held a long inquiry during which Mrs. Angle upon advice of her counsel refused to make a statement as to the manner in which Ballou met with injuries. As Mrs. Angle would not talk and because the coroner could not determine the actual manner in which Ballou received his injury, Mrs. Angle is held criminally responsible and the finding is turned over to Albert Phillips, prosecutor of the Stamford city court.

This finding was expected after Coroner Phelan, when he closed his inquiry a week ago stated that if Mrs. Angle did not make a statement by Friday last he would hold her for trial. He admitted Mrs. Angle to bail owing to her nervous state and she was taken by her father, Leonard Blouet, to Southport, Me.

Her bail bond requires her presence whenever it shall be necessary.

GOLD SHIPMENT

Liner Kronprinzessin
Cecilia for Europe

NEW YORK, July 28.—The latest gold movement to Europe which began on last Friday when $8,000,000 was sent to Paris was further augmented today by a shipment of $10,600,000 aboard the liner Kronprinzessin Cecilia. This is said to be the largest single gold shipment ever made from America to Europe.

Of today's shipment $6,000,000 is consigned to London bankers and $4,600,000 to Paris.

In addition to this sum $2,500,000 in gold bars has been engaged for shipment to Paris by the Germania, which is due to sail tomorrow.

Bankers say the new demand for gold for export to almost entirely to the war zone in Europe, although they admitted that the fortuitous settlement on the London stock exchange which began yesterday might have had something to do with it.

Other important engagements will be made today, it was said, including the amount to go by the Germania at least $5,000,000 and the total of the movement since Friday on more than $26,000,000.

TRADE COMMISSION BILL

SEN. BRANDEGEE'S MOTION FOR
CONSIDERATION TODAY

WASHINGTON, July 28.—Senator Brandegee's motion to strike from the interstate trade commission bill the section which would declare unfair competition unlawful and empower the interstate commission to define unfair competition and prevent exportation from using unfair methods in commerce was up for discussion when the senate today resumed consideration of the measure. The motion had been offered after adoption by a large vote of an amendment which would apply to the section of the bill relating to unfair competition.

The amendment would provide that no order or finding of the commission or of court in connection therewith should be admissible as evidence in any suit, civil or criminal brought under the anti-trust laws. Senator Brandegee's motion followed vigorous opposition by himself and Senator Sulzer to the amendment.

The vote on the amendment was the first reached and gave democratic leaders renewed hope of a final vote on the measure by Saturday night.

WHO IS TOWN SOLICITOR?

CAUSING STILL—SUPREME COURT
TO ANSWER QUANDARY

BOSTON, July 28.—Who is the town solicitor of Revere and has the office been abolished or is it still there? It is the question which is causing a quandary to the town board of Revere. The town solicitor, Mr. Charles F. Walker, yesterday submitted a lengthy, type-written report on the case to the supreme court, but he does not pass upon the question of who is the actual legal adviser of the town. He leaves it to the court, which will probably give a hearing on the case in a few days.

Revere's Walker filed a petition to the supreme court on May 1 for a writ of mandamus to restrain Mr. Charles F. Walker from attempting to usurp the office of town solicitor of Revere. He also petitioned the selectmen of the town to call a special meeting to determine who was the legal adviser of the town May 1st.

Walker claims the office by virtue of his election to be town counsel at a town meeting held April 13, 1914. Cassa insists that the office is his because he was elected by the selectmen at a meeting held April 13, 1914. The auditor by his report finds that the selectmen claim the office of town solicitor was abolished, that they refused to call a special meeting as petitioned for, and that they were cognizant of the public mind when they did so refuse.

ABSENCE OF GUIDEPOSTS

GOV. BALDWIN NOTIFIES SELECT-
MEN THAT LAW MUST BE OBEYED AND POSTS SET UP

HARTFORD, Conn., July 28.—Gov. Baldwin is determined that no citizen in Connecticut shall lose his way if a guide post will point it. In a letter to the selectmen of the various towns of the state, the governor today calls attention to the absence of guideposts, says the law requires that such posts shall be set up at every cross road and requires the selectmen that they may be penalized for failure to obey the law.

The absence of the guide posts, the governor says, is a great inconvenience to travelers. The governor is himself a great walker and has covered many miles of the state's roads on foot as well as on bicycle.

1000 SHEEP CREMATED

IN FIRE AT LOUISVILLE, KY. STOCK
MANY HOUSES DESTROYED

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 28.—Fire which started in the sheep pens of the Bourbon stock yards here last night, destroyed a third of the plant, forty Louisville & Nashville railroad cars, some of which were loaded with merchandise, cremated a thousand sheep and damaged more than a score of cottages that line streets bordering the stock yards. Damage to the stock yards is estimated at about $150,000 and the total damage at approximately $250,000.

All the fire fighting apparatus of the city was called out to extinguish the flames, which threatened to destroy the entire yards and buildings nearby. The blaze was gotten under control after several hours of hard work by the firemen. The origin of the fire has not been ascertained.

BOARD OF TRADE

Annual Outing at Bass
Prominent Speakers

The outing committee of the Lowell board of trade held a meeting last night and decided to hold the board's annual outing at the seashore. The committee are going to ask the members of the board who own automobiles to carry the board to Bass Point, Nahant, on August 27. This will mean the use of at least 100 automobiles and if the automobile owners will co-operate with the committee the outing will be the greatest ever.

A ride to the beach and a shore dinner are two attractions. The dinner would probably be served on the outer point of the promontory where the beach is laden with the salt sea air, and the dinner, of course, would have a cabaret show attached. There will be two or three speeches by men from the national capital, Congressman John Jacob Rogers and Congressman Patrick H. Kelly of Michigan. Mr. Kelly was lieutenant governor of Michigan for five years and Mr. Rogers says he is one of the most attractive personalities and able speakers he has met in Washington. The tentative arrangements for the outing as agreed upon by the outing committee suggests that the start be made from the vicinity of city hall at about 11 or 11:30 a. m., so that dinner may be reached in season for dinner at 1 o'clock. It is believed that if this type of an outing can be arranged a far larger attendance than usual will respond.

THE VESPER CLUB

noon—Steel Structure

The contract for the reconstruction of the Vesper Country club bridge across the Merrimack river at Tyngs Island, a part of which was blown away by a cyclone a couple of weeks ago, has been awarded to the New England Construction company and work will be started this afternoon. The old bridge was of steel with wooden sides and floorings and a couple of weeks ago when a strong wind visited that part of the country, the work was torn down and blown away. The bridge was insured against tornado loss and the insurance companies have adjusted the losses by paying the club $4500.

The New England Construction company will put men to work on tearing down what remains of the old bridge and a tornado proof steel bridge will be erected in its stead. The only work to be in its stead, the steel pieces will be of steel and the sides and tower of the old bridge will be used again. Work will be rushed along and it is expected the bridge will be ready for travel in about six weeks.

HANS SCHMIDT ASKS NEW TRIAL
NEW YORK, July 28.—Hans Schmidt, convicted of the murder of Anna Amuller, whose body he dismembered and cast into the Hudson river, formally applied yesterday for a new trial.

SAYS WEDDING WAS JOKE

SOUTH BOSTON BRIDE WILL NOT
LIVE WITH MAN SHE MARRIED ON
NIGHT BEFORE THE FOURTH

BOSTON, July 28.—A curious situation exists in South Boston, where a bridegroom of less than a month's standing cannot get his bride, who claims that she thought the marriage a joke. The bridegroom has engaged counsel to protect his interests and the bride's mother threatens criminal action will be brought against the bridegroom. The bridegroom is Harry Adams, 27 years old, living on Fourth street, near Atlantic. The bride was Bertha Williams, 18 years of age, of 21 Thomas park, South Boston. Her mother is Mrs. Helen Williams; her father is out of town.

The present situation arises from these circumstances: On the night before the Fourth Adams took the girl for a walk and wound up at the office of a Justice of the peace in the South end, where they were married. Miss Williams declares she thought the ceremony a joke. When Mr. and Mrs. Williams were told of their daughter's marriage to Adams they refused to let her live with him and notified the police at station 12, who told the mother to keep her daughter at home. As a result, Adams has been unable to obtain his wife, and in consequence suffers much anguish, he says.

Interviewed last night, Mrs. Williams was extremely reluctant, but finally daughter is married and I propose to have the marriage solemnized. I am at present playing a waiting game. I am going to try to persuade him to get out of town. To the question, "Why not seek redress through civil rather than criminal proceedings," she answered: "He has no money, and you can't get blood out of a stone."

2000 GIRLS TO STRIKE

MEMBERS OF BATHING SUIT MAK-
ERS' UNION IN NEW YORK WANT
MORE PAY

NEW YORK, July 28.—Two thousand girls, members of the bathing suit makers' union, have decided that a higher wage scale must be paid. The executive committee of the union yesterday voted to call a strike, the demand for an increased wage scale having been refused by the employers. A majority of the union's members are engaged in making bathing suits and sweaters for women. The strike order is expected to go into effect today.

DAMAGE BY CLOUDBURST
DENVER, Colo., July 28.—A cloudburst late yesterday at Telluride, Colorado, sent a huge wall of water down Canon Canon, according to a report received by the Denver office of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad. The business section of the town was inundated, several residences were demolished, one woman was fatally hurt and another is reported missing.

SAY EMPIRES BET ON GAMES
SAN FRANCISCO, July 28.—Charges that empires of the Pacific Coast league have been betting on the games will be rigidly investigated by President Allen T. Baum, he announced yesterday.

Misses Alice and Mary Coyne of Russell street have returned from a pleasant vacation spent at Providence, R. I.

SHAMROCK FOUR AT AZORES

HORTO, Fayal, Azores, July 28.—Shamrock IV, Sir Thomas Lipton's new challenger for the America's cup, arrived here today having taken seven days and three hours for the voyage from Falmouth, England.

During her trip, according to those on board the yacht proved herself an excellent seagoing vessel. In hard blows she took the big seas like a duck and slipped through the water with great ease.

AMUSEMENT NOTES
LAKEVIEW PARK
"Lanky Bob" is the name of the boxing kangaroo that is the attraction on the open air stage at Lakeview theatre this week and he is a genuine product of Australia, right there with the punch and not at all adverse to administering a few kicks as well in the lively three round bout that he presents in his sparring partner. "Bob" presents a very doleful and in fact mock appearance as he enters the arena and extends his paws for the adjustment of the boxing gloves but after a few taps on the head have been handed him by his boxing partner he starts in with a rush to mix it in a business like manner that in the finish sent his opponent through the ropes much to the delight of the large crowd assembled at the theatre. "Lanky Bob" will make his appearance at Lakeview every afternoon and evening of the present week. At the theatre today, there is an excellent program of "movies" including the Mutual weekly which presents a picture review the feature being the story of the life of Archduke Ferdinand of Austria, whose recent assassination by a Serbian prince has caused the start of a bloody war, scenes of the recent Salem fire and many other interesting events. There are also several good comedy subjects and a strong dramatic western feature. Admission to the theatre is free and there is a new program shown every Monday, Thursday and Sunday.

THE OWL THEATRE
Miss Mary Pickford's success was genuine and complete in Lowell. Her part of Tess in "Tess of the Stormy Country" could never be equaled by any other photo-play actress. She is supremely fascinating, her cleverness and wonderful personality are just suited to a part of this kind, and she certainly knows how to capture the hearts of her admirers. "Tess of the Stormy Country" will again be shown today besides the regular show. Jack Dalton sings.

THE CASINO
Tonight the Casino will have as a special attraction two of the most graceful demonstrations of the modern dance available in America today. Mr. Clayton Robinson and Miss Evelyn Doranbach are the artists, and they will depict all of the modern steps in a manner indicating the purity of the movements in their original conception. To maintain wholesome dancing is the object of this instruction—for it is instruction as well as entertainment. Casino patrons will enjoy the feature, and will improve their dancing as well. Minor's orchestra will play for the artists, and with, of course, play for dancing before and after the exhibition. The Casino is open tonight and every night and Saturday afternoon.

MATRIMONIAL
Harian E. Knowlton and Miss Julia E. Spaulding were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Spaulding, 32 Grace street, the officiating clergyman being Rev. Charles H. Ellis, pastor of the Central Baptist church in Chelmsford. The couple were attended by Miss Lilian M. Russell of Boston as bridesmaid and Earl E. Spaulding as best man. A brief reception was held and the couple left on an extended wedding tour. They will be at home to their friends in Billerica street, Chelmsford, after Sept. 1.

MANFIELD-DUPREY
Rufus A. Maxfield of this city and Miss Louise Bertha Duprey of Worcester were married at Marlboro, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Albert E. Wheelock. The bride was given away by Mrs. Richard Arnold of this city.

WOMAN TRAMP ARRESTED

Daughter of Wealth, is Held for Robbery at Taunton—Deserted by Husband

TAUNTON, July 28.—Worn and exhausted from days and nights spent in the woods with only wild berries for food, her face and clothing torn by thistles, Mrs. Mabel A. L. Robinson, 22-year-old daughter of a wealthy Canadian, N. H. farmer, is lodged here in the Taunton jail, facing many charges of robbery.

Specifically, the young woman is under arrest for the alleged theft of a horse from the Mansfield Milling company, Mansfield, and a wagon from Harvard Station of that town, from which she was removed to the jail here from the Attleboro court yesterday upon default of $200 bonds for a continued hearing Aug. 4.

But today chiefs of police from Attleboro, Mansfield, Norton, Norwood, Central Falls, R. I., and many other places near here, and across into Rhode Island are going to submit her to a third degree in the belief that she is the "woman tramp" who has alarmed the countryside for the last few weeks.

The woman's husband, who was with her a few hours before her arrest this morning in Norwood Centre, has deserted her in her trouble, as far as the police can learn, and no trace of him can be found.

Says Jim Humeleas

Mrs. Robinson refuses emphatically to make known his whereabouts or to utter one word which would tend to clear herself or involve him, and repeated examinations of her along this line proved futile.

"He's not to blame and I won't tell you anything about him! I won't! I won't!" she declares, stamping her foot in anger.

According to the police, the story of the young woman's roamings is one of the most weird that ever came to their attention. It tells of a girl brought up amid luxurious surroundings, coerced from home by a man and forced to live the life of a tramp with him, sleeping in the woods in wet weather and dry, eating seldom, and then only of wild berries and stolen vegetables, forced to work as a servant, and then deserted by him in an hour of need.

The tale was secured in fragments. Mrs. Robinson was in her cell at the Taunton jail. Pretty once, perhaps, she looked old and haggard last night. Big brown eyes were lustreless, and a wealth of dark brown hair, frowny and snarled, was tucked beneath a boy's cap.

The police learned that she left her home in Canada with her husband about one month ago. In a light buggy, they drove to Providence.

They had no money and were forced to stop at night in the woods. The horse was tied and allowed to graze. Their only food was berries or stolen vegetables.

Mrs. Robinson said they sold the horse and buggy in Providence for $10. With that money they lived a short while and then took to the woods again, finally reaching Mansfield in destitute circumstances.

Mrs. Robinson says she secured employment as a maid, worked for a few days and then wandered as far as Sharon, where she obtained another position, this time in the state sanatorium.

Since then, for the last two weeks, she declared, she and her husband have been living in the woods. According to the police they stole the horse and wagon in Mansfield. Residents of that town declared so after seeing the property and Mrs. Robinson yesterday.

Many other people also came forward and told of breaks in and about Mansfield, and of seeing a "woman tramp" on each occasion.

Mrs. Robinson admits the roamings, tells frankly of it, but denies the horse and wagon were stolen, or that her husband is to blame. She was driving the wagon when the police arrested her in Norwood.

REV. C. A. LINCOLN

The Sun has received from Rev. C. A. Lincoln a quite lengthy article on the subject of national prohibition, which lack of space prevents us printing in its entirety. Mr. Lincoln takes occasion to compliment The Sun upon its policy of refusing to print liquor advertisements, stating that in this respect The Sun leads in the right direction and is in good and ever increasing company.

Mr. Lincoln argues for the nationwide abolition of the saloon, not believing that it would completely stop liquor drinking but that it would remove from the gaze of the young and the slaves of appetite an ever-enticing source of temptation. He holds in spite of statements to the contrary that national prohibition is a workable proposition.

Arguing from a national standpoint, he says that the national prohibition is on an equal footing with the abolition of slavery which was enforced in spite of the unanimous disbelief in it of a great section of our country. The amendment to the constitution abolishing slavery has not been the victim of any question but it has abolished the legalized ownership of human beings which ownership the whole world now admits to have been a bad thing for it. National prohibition will not automatically make every man in the country a total abstainer, but it will take away a nation out of the business of deliberately debauching its citizens; it will make it easier for men to keep clean habits and harder for them to become intemperate; it will put every dispenser of intoxicating liquors absolutely on the defensive so that any wronged wife or mother can put him in the company of murderers and thieves, and it will make the environment of our American boys and girls much safer than it now is.

The liquor trade which is in a position to know a good deal about the effectiveness of prohibition and which is frantically circularizing the business men of the country in opposition to national prohibition is distinctly of the opinion that national prohibition would work.

While the time may not be ripe yet for national prohibition, the only way to ripen it is to let the sunlight of truth shine clearly on the whole situation and this can be accomplished only through agitation. It was persistent agitation on the part of a few fanatics that finally accomplished the overthrow of slavery. The political temperance movement is having a phenomenal growth. Three years after the close of the Civil war there were only 3,500,000 people in our country who lived in prohibition territory. In 1900 there were 15,000,000 persons so situated, and eight years after, the number had doubled, making it 30,000,000. By a conservative estimate it was found that 46,223,750 people lived in prohibition territory last year. This was a bit more than one-half of our total population. The number is still increasing this year. The time for the complete abolition of the legalized liquor traffic seems to be drawing near.

"UNCLE" AFTER JUDGE
MONEY LENDER THREW COURT INTO UPHOAR WHEN HE DEMAND $1300 FROM JUDGE

YONKERS, N. Y., July 28.—The court of special sessions was thrown into an uproar yesterday when Abraham Rothschild, a money lender, entered the room and excitedly demanded of Judge Beall, then on the bench, that the judge return to him $1300 of borrowed money. Rothschild became so excited that Judge Beall left the bench and retired to his chambers.

"I have been trying in every way to collect this money," Rothschild shouted, "but I haven't been able to get a lawyer to take up my case simply because you are on the bench."

Judge Beall directed him to bring suit for any alleged indebtedness, but this Rothschild asserted meant delay, and delay, he said, was driving him into bankruptcy. After Judge Beall had left the bench Rothschild was quieted and induced to depart.

WHEN AND HOW THE BODY POISONS ITSELF

The underlying cause of much headache, particularly migraine, or sick headache, bilious attacks, vertigo, or dizziness, is intestinal auto-intoxication. This process, recognized only in recent years, is the absorption into the blood of poisons produced in the intestines from the residue of food.

The two most prominent factors in causing this condition are constipation and excessive meat eating. It can therefore be largely avoided by care in the diet and the use of a laxative which will clear away the fermenting residue of food which is generating the poisons.

Pinkettes, the new laxative, are admirably suited to protect the body against the dangers of auto-intoxication for they gently assist nature and do not gripe or purge. Harsh purgatives leave the system in a worse condition than they find it but Pinkettes give just the stimulation to the organs of excretion that is needed to produce natural action and if they are used regularly for some time they will really correct constipation.

Your druggist sells Pinkettes or they will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 25 cents per bottle, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Send today for booklet and free sample.

HOLDS COURT IN AUTO

AFTER THE SPEEDERS IN NEW JERSEY—GUILTY DRIVERS ONLY SLOW DOWN AND PAY FINE

ATLANTIC CITY, July 28.—Nothing has prevented Justice of the Peace Joseph Weeks of Pleasantville, near here, from fling more automobilists for speeding except lack of time. Whenever State Inspector Anderson has arrested a flitting motorist he had to lug him to Justice Weeks and get him flung before he could get busy arresting again. Thus precious moments were lost.

Even Justice Weeks couldn't make the days longer, nor could Inspector Anderson arrest the speeding minutes. But they began yesterday to abolish waste by both going out in the justice's touring car, with Deputy Hamilton sitting in the tonneau.

The first speeder they met was Emil Miller of Philadelphia. Inspector Shina ranged alongside and arrested him, but told him he didn't have to do anything except slow down. After Mr. Miller had slowed down, the inspector turned to Justice Weeks and preferred charges of speeding against him.

The justice asked the prisoner the usual questions. The prisoner gave the usual answers, and Deputy Hamilton, as clerk of the auto court, took the minutes in shorthand. The justice had no gavel to bang, but he footed his horn.

After he had found Mr. Miller guilty and had fined him $5, he did not let it be handled to Deputy Hamilton. Mr. Miller left court by letting it leave him.

The combination policeman and court did not cease operations until it had separated C. A. Babcock of Freehold, N. J., from the Longbridge of Orange, and Arthur P. Bluefield of Va., each from 15. All were more or less pleased with the idea of having the court brought to them, instead of being brought to court.

Whether or not Jersey courts will become so speedy eventually that they can be called out like fire departments to extinguish crime is a question under debate here.

ARREST ALLEGED SELLERS OF HEROIN TO NEW YORK CHILDREN—GANG CAPTURED

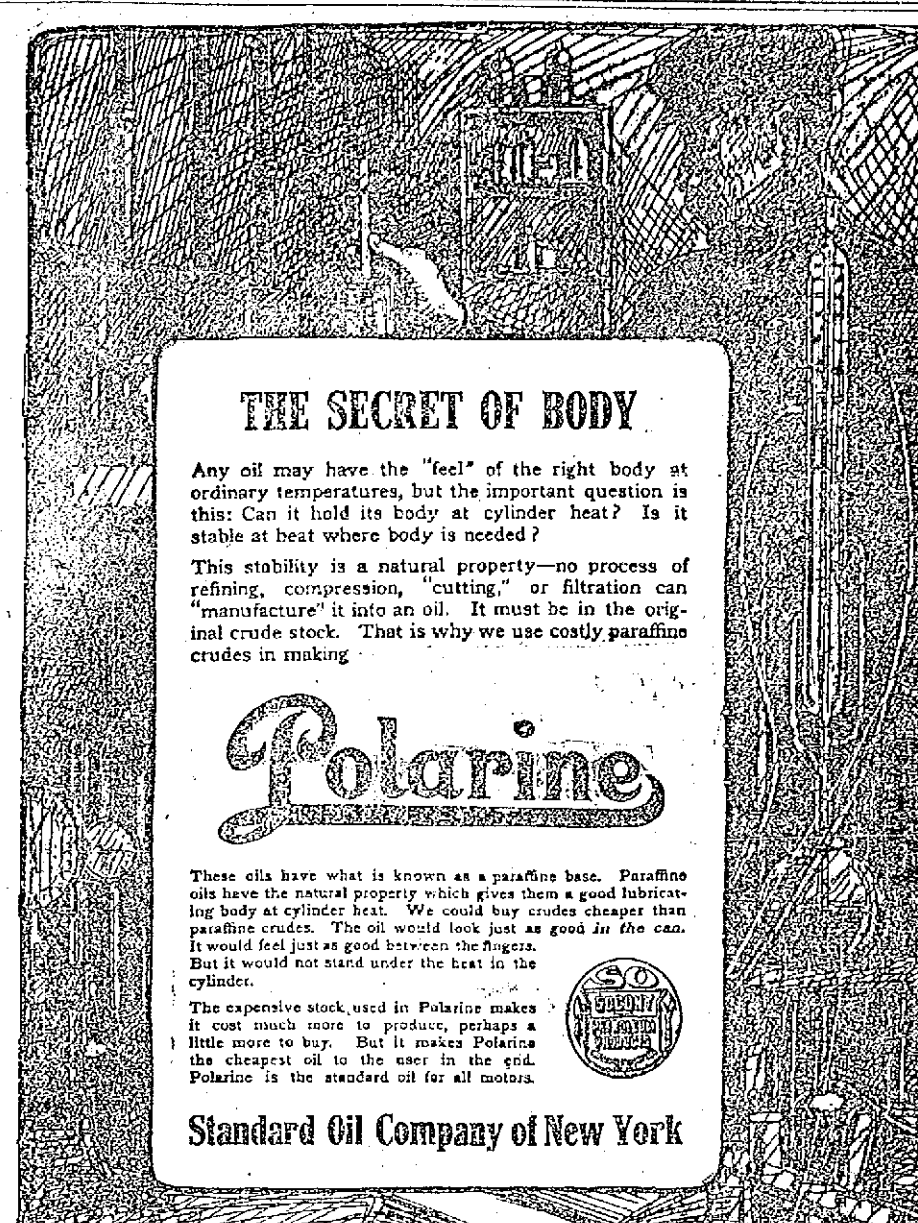

NEW YORK, July 28.—Following many complaints received by Police Commissioner Woods that school children in Queens were able to buy heroin almost for the asking it was learned that the supply of the drug that reached Queens from Manhattan was taken over on the Astoria boat, leaving Ninety-second street shortly before 11 o'clock at night.

Inspector Dominick Henry assigned Detectives Fapp and Nuntich to get in with the distributors of the heroin. The detectives crossed on the 11 o'clock boat last night with three men and two women, and represented that they, too, were distributors of heroin to school children and others who cared to buy.

On arriving at Astoria the two detectives accompanied the three men and two women to Joseph Rouger's hotel at Fulton avenue and Mills street, near the ferry entrance. The men and women engaged rooms, and a

THE SECRET OF BODY

Any oil may have the "feel" of the right body at ordinary temperatures, but the important question is this: Can it hold its body at cylinder heat? Is it stable at heat where body is needed?

This stability is a natural property—no process of refining, compression, "cutting," or filtration can "manufacture" it into an oil. It must be in the original crude stock. That is why we use costly paraffine crudes in making

These oils have what is known as a paraffine base. Paraffine oils have the natural property which gives them a good lubricating body at cylinder heat. We could buy crudes cheaper than paraffine crudes. The oil would look just as good in the can. It would feel just as good between the fingers. But it would not stand under the heat in the cylinder.

The expensive stock used in Polarine makes it cost much more to produce, perhaps a little more to buy. But it makes Polarine the cheapest oil to the user in the end. Polarine is the standard oil for all motors.

THOS. F. SLATTERY KILLED

Fell Under Freight Train on His Way From Work at Billerica Car Shops

Thomas F. Slattery, aged 21 years, of 52 Canada street, died at 6.30 o'clock last night at St. John's hospital as a result of having both legs amputated when he fell under a freight train near the South Lowell depot, while returning from his work at the Boston & Maine repair shops in Billerica. For nearly an hour the physicians at the hospital worked over the young man in an attempt to save his life but in spite of their efforts he died within two hours after the accident occurred.

Young Slattery had boarded the work train, which conveys the mechanics employed at the Billerica shops to this city every night, and had reached a point near the South Lowell station when he and several companions stepped off. As the work train was to shift a switch five or six of the young men attempted to jump on a freight train passing at the moment. All succeeded in getting on to the freight except Slattery, who missed his hold and fell on the tracks, the wheels of the heavy cars passing over both legs. The freight was brought to a stop and the injured man placed in the caboose where the railroad doctor on duty on the way to the Lowell depot. There, however, he lost consciousness and in this condition was removed to the hospital. He had almost bled to death.

When young man reached the hospital at about 5.30 o'clock, the attending surgeons found both limbs badly crushed and mangled. He never regained consciousness and died one hour later.

Mr. Slattery is survived by his father, Michael; three sisters, Mrs. Anthony Packard, Mrs. Katherine Perien and Mrs. Margaret Sheehan.

COLLISION IN MID-OCEAN

STEAMSHIP ZEELAND REACHED NEW YORK AFTER CRASH WITH MISSOURI

NEW YORK, July 28.—The Red Star Line steamship Zealand, which was in collision in mid-ocean with the British freight steamer Missouri last Wednesday, arrived last night with part of the rail on the starboard side smashed in by the bows. The accident occurred in a dense fog about 10.30 o'clock in the forenoon. No one on either vessel was injured.

The Zealand came here from Dover and Antwerp. The Missouri was on her way from Baltimore for London and Antwerp.

The Zealand carried 23 first class and nearly 200 second class passengers. The Zealand had been especially strengthened at the point where the Missouri struck her. Otherwise, according to her captain, J. C. Moller, the Missouri bow would have cut through the Zealand.

Capt. Moller said he slowed down the Zealand on approaching the fog bank. "When I saw that the Missouri would not fall to strike us," he said, "I ordered the passengers away from the rails and sounded 'quarters' although later such precautions were found to be needless, as we were but slightly injured. The impact of the blow sent the Missouri astern and later Capt. Watkins of the freight ship sent word to me by wireless that no assistance was needed, as only his ship's bow was injured."

Passengers on the Zealand said several women became hysterical but there was no panic.

Capt. Moller said the Zealand did not leak and that no plates were broken.

Over 400 young men have already signified their intention of entering camp August 4, but there is still room for more.

MRS. THOMSON TELLS WOMEN

How She Was Helped During Change of Life by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I am just 52 years of age and during Change of Life I suffered for six years terribly. I tried several doctors but none seemed to give me any relief. Every month the pains were intense in both sides, and made me so weak that I had to go to bed. At last a friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me and I tried it at once and found much relief. After that I had no pains at all and could do my housework and shopping the same as always. For years I have praised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for what it has done for me, and shall always recommend it as a woman's friend. You are at liberty to use my letter in any way."—Mrs. THOMSON, 649 W. Russell St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Change of Life is one of the most critical periods of a woman's existence. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to carry women so successfully through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and today holds the record of being the most successful remedy for women's ills known.

THE EUROPEAN SITUATION

Owing to the attitude of Austria towards Serbia the diplomatic relations of most of the great European powers are strained to the breaking point and any day may see the beginning of a year that would be terrible to contemplate. If there is any concerted action against Serbia there is reason to suppose that it will come from Russia, Germany, France and even England and Italy may be drawn into the vortex. The very magnitude of the possibilities makes the present factor in bringing about some measure of present settlement of the differences that have raised Austria into open conflict with its smaller neighbor.

Present conditions are simply the culmination of years of animosity between Austria and Serbia and the fear of selfishly motivated designs on the part of Russia, Germany and the other great powers. For many years, Serbia, being weak, has been a pawn in the game of statescraft and her people have outgrown their own territory and have become strong in neighboring states and countries. Austria has watched every indication of Serbian independence jealousy, and has only waited for the opportunity to show the people of Serbia that their aspirations cannot be permitted to interfere with the ambitions of her powerful neighbor. The assassination of Archduke Francis Ferdinand gives the opportunity desired and Austria has been ready to take advantage of it.

Austria has made no attempt to hide the drift of her demands, as voiced in the ultimatum, the terms of which no country could accept with dignity. Serbia went further than was expected in promising compliance, but Austria is not and will not be satisfied. Behind the external, too, is the factor of racial difference which keeps Serb and Slav in perpetual unit. Russia is in sympathy with Serbia with which she is racially bound and mentally Russia has long been inclined to Austria. On the other hand, Germany has openly espoused the cause of Austria, having a common ambition in territorial advancement which Serbia impedes, and Germany may see in the present struggle her long wished for opportunity to open up a path to the sea on the south. By the terms of the Triple Alliance Germany and Italy are bound to help their ally, Austria, and if Russia takes the field against Austria, all Europe may be plunged in a war such as recent times has not known. Russia is generally regarded as holding the key to the situation and on her decision will depend the trend of a world-wide agitation.

If Germany and Italy openly espouse the cause of Austria—and it is by no means improbable that they shall—the Triple Alliance, that is Russia, England and France, will naturally be expected to oppose Austria and her ally. The hope for a peaceful solution remains in the desire of all the great powers to keep Serbia distinct because of the neutrality it affords in a most strategic geographical position. England will not be anxious to take part in the affair, and it is to England that the world will look for suggestions that may open a way out without international strife. The Balkan war has left Southern Europe partially prostrated and a great war would now react disastrously on all of the nations interested. Austria, Russia and England have great international questions awaiting solution, and the welfare of mankind demands a peaceful settlement. Yet it is to be hoped that not even the least country of Europe will suffer any injustice in a game where there is so much selfishness and so little idealism.

REASSURING FACTS

It is very apparent that there who have their observation of national affairs on foot are apt to fight clear of the pessimistic prophecies which announced nothing but ruin under a real world. It will be remembered that when the tariff bill was under discussion, its enemies asserted that this country would be flooded with the manufactures of other nations and that labor would be demanded as a consequence. Recently some government figures which seemed to indicate greater imports under the new tariff were paraded and made to appear damaging to the domestic industry, but it has been proved that the increase was merely an increase in goods, due to our new crops of last year. This type of increase should be a public benefit, if domestic producers were less selfish, and no stretching of facts will prove it to be other than advantageous to the country. Senator Simmons recently made a comparative list of exports and imports in congress which conclusively proves that the tariff did not do any damage to American industry, beyond the temporary damage of readjustment. Following is an extract from his able speech:

Europe since the passage of the tariff act.

Imports from Great Britain for 11 months ending May, 1914, $275,862,668. Imports from Great Britain for 11 months ending May, 1914—this year—$275,862,668.

Imports from Great Britain have fallen off, that Britain was the country, the great manufacturing center, the home of pauper labor, which, according to protectionist argument, was to engulf us with its cheap products, and yet there has been a falling off of more than $6,000,000 of imports under our democratic tariff.

Exports to Great Britain during 11 months ending May, 1914, $555,551,957. Exports to Great Britain during 11 months ending May, 1914, $555,551,957, a falling off in our exports to Great Britain of less than $8,000,000.

Here are the figures for all of Europe, embracing the great manufacturing countries of the world; the countries from which we had the most to deal, according to protectionists, the countries that were to come upon us like a mighty army and sweep away our factories, to take away the jobs of our laboring men. All of Europe—imports for eleven months ending May, 1914, $829,842,555. Imports from all of Europe for 11 months ending May, 1914, $829,842,555, a falling off of $3,112,000 of imports from all of Europe.

Now take the exports. Exports to all of Europe for these 11 months, 1914, $1,497,655,952. For the same 11 months of 1914, exports to all of Europe, $1,336,157,955.

Expressed in billions and in millions, there was exactly the same export trade between this country and Europe during the 11 months just past and the 11 months of the fiscal year ending June 30.

From the figures it appears that our imports from Great Britain for the 11 months ending May, 1914, were $6,000,000 less than for the same months in 1913, and our imports from all of Europe were likewise $8,000,000 less in 1914 than in 1913, while our exports to Europe were almost precisely the same for the same period of time.

Disregarding the expert. Though our own city has decided in such an important matter as the pollution of the water supply to be guided by the advice of experts, it is to be feared that expert opinion is not alone the basis of much political action throughout the country. Whether it be a matter in which millions of money or only a small amount be involved, self-satisfied officials consult no authority but their own desires and occasionally the desires of self-seeking outsiders. Whether the political scheme be desirable or economical or strictly necessary does not seem to be the leading consideration; it is sufficient that it be popular. The vote is the thing and it is with an eye on the voter that most of our public questions are settled. Unfortunately we reap the reward in higher taxes and a constantly increasing burden of government.

This unsound attitude is by no means confined to municipal affairs. The "Railway Age Gazette" comments sarcastically and ably on the recent rejection of expert recommendations in congress by the chairman of the house committee on postoffice and post roads. The recommendations in question had to do with the rate of pay that railroads should receive for handling the parcel post, and naturally the expert committee favored a change that would be more favorable to the roads. But the political body threw down the suggestions of the experts and it is probable that for some time to come the railroads will do work for the government without proper compensation. It is universally acknowledged that the present rate is wholly inadequate.

Realizing the enormous monetary waste in municipal government, many municipalities have gone so far as to create a position of municipal expert or city manager whose duties are to see that the people get the worth of their money. This manager is not swayed by such influences as were identified uncovered at a recent municipal hearing but he acts as though the affairs of the municipality were the affairs of a great corporation. All our technical schools turn out experts in manufacturing, mining and business, and it is a dream of the future that Exposure to sun and wind, dust and the elements, although often acting as a tonic in the system in general and sometimes heightening the color of the skin, is still very damaging to the refined appearance of the complexion. The open air in itself is good, but the face should always be well protected against the extreme heat, wind and dust. The girls of our acquaintance who live a great deal out of doors by no means have the most beautiful complexions. You can best protect your skin against the elements or beautify it for social life by a face lotion which you can very easily make at home by getting four ounces of glycerine from drug store and dissolving it in 3/4 pint of hot water, to which you add 2 teaspoonfuls of glycerine. This lotion is easier to apply than powder, does not rub off, looks like velvet on the skin, giving a natural velvety bloom while removing all dirt and sun and discolorations, and curing irritation and pimples.

no important step in city government will be taken without the advice of the political expert. In that day the city will get more for what it pays and the citizens will not be burdened with the various unjustifiable modes of looting the treasury without breaking any law.

POLICE PRECAUTIONS

All cities know only too well that frequently following a tragedy of more or less magnitude, the authorities decide that the perpetrator is of unusual mind and had been so for a long period previously. Lowell had one such case a short time ago and it is probable that another recent murder case will have a similar outcome. In like manner many police court episodes, disappearances from home and other sensational news stories have appended the explanation that somebody was of unusual mind or had spent some time in an institution. In all of this there is an obvious lesson for the police of all communities. An incident which is somewhat related, and which also has its lesson is the alleged murder confession of a supposedly insane individual to the employees of the Lowell pumping station on Saturday last. No credence is placed in his story and there is little doubt that he was deranged.

SEEN AND HEARD

You can't hit the mark by shooting at me, and when the man wasn't looking I plucked a bagful.

"That was an awful break you made the other evening."

"What was?"

"Asking Lieutenant Doster if he had killed anybody while he was serving in the army."

"What was the matter with that?"

"Didn't you know that he was only attending to the medical corps?"

Jones met his neighbor Smith, who carried a gun in his hand.

"Don't shoot this morning," asked Jones.

"Yes, I had to kill my dog," answered Smith.

"What was he mad?" asked Jones.

"Well, said Smith dryly, the dog seem to be any too well pleased."

THE LEARNED SOMETHING. Miss Dixon, a charming society girl, had spent the entire summer in trying to elevate the simple country people with whom she was boarding.

When she was about to leave, she said: "Good-bye, Mr. Tinsdale. I hope my visit here hasn't been entirely without good results."

"Quite so," replied the old farmer, "you've taught a heap since you first come, but by hark! you was about the greatest one we ever had on our hands."

MARY SOME PINCHER. A teacher in a large city school sent one of her scholars to buy a pound of plums from a fruit vender on the street and on the way the little girl picked a dime, she said:

"Be sure, Mary, before buying the plums to pinch one or two, just to make sure that they are ripe."

A little while the child returned with plucked cheeks and a triumphant look in her eyes.

Handing the teacher the bag of plums, she placed the dime on the desk and exclaimed:

"I plucked one or two as you told me."

ARE WRINKLES CAUSED BY MODERN SOCIAL LIFE?

Office papers and magazines have made the rather broad statement that modern social life is the only cause for wrinkles. Undoubtedly modern social life contributes some to the existence of wrinkles, but one can hardly say it is the cause. However, the wrinkles do come and old age has never made for attractiveness, so we use the best means to resist the wrinkle marks. A search for the very best in wrinkle eradicators has brought us to this formula for an economical vegetable jelly cream as the simplest wrinkle remover and skin stimulator. Its mark-like action protects the surface while it stimulates the blood vessels to perform their up-building work. Just get from drug store an ounce of almond oil, put it into a quart jar and add a half a pint of water. Before putting apply rather thickly over wrinkled or flabby surface and allow it to dry. It will harden rapidly and you will note a slight tightening of the skin. In the morning remove with hot water and note the immediate effect which you will find lasting.

Still, it must not be forgotten that he who would invent a story of murder, or who would tell such a story sincerely while irresponsible should not be at large. It is too bad that so many dangerous persons are permitted to remain in the community until some crime reveals their danger to society.

THROWING STONES

From Pittsburgh comes news of an incident that should prove a warning to some of the juveniles of Lowell and to their families. Last Friday two men of foreign nationality were walking in a street of that city when a little boy indulged in the too frequent sport of throwing stones at them. Enraged, they attacked the boy who was defended by sympathizers. In a short time there was a riot in which knives and other weapons were freely used. As a result one man was killed instantly and two were probably injured fatally. The stone throwing boys are to be found in Lowell and many of them indulge in the amusement of throwing stones at foreigners. The foreigners as a rule mind their own business and do not interfere with anybody unless molested. Many of them are outrageously abused and have little redress even when they complain to the police.

"Certainly," replied the poet, solemnly. "She has married and settled down you know."

COUNTRYSIDE ATTRACTIONS. There are beauties in the country which now live our feet afar. When we leave the thronging city on the clanging trolley car:

On the hillside where the verdure is adorned in garb of spring. Lengthy billboards are proclaiming: Prinkie's pills are just the thing:

When the meadow-lands are blooming and the peaceful cattle graze, There are wonderful attractions which will serve to draw our gaze. Where the sunlight filters softly and the brooklet tumbles a song. We're advised, in 10-cent letters: "Mother, much will make you strong!"

Where the hills in rugged splendor tower upward toward the sky. A mass of vibrant color flaunts to the passer-by: As the trolley swiftly bears us o'er the tremendous railroads busy: Paton's food is what you need:

Any place you chance to travel—north or south or east or west. In the landscape all embellished and in flaring color dressed: Where Dame Nature's fair attractions seem the coverlet, we are told. In artistic English letters: Stekum's glue will always hold!

Yonder are the snow-capped mountains, and we gaze upon the scene. Till a billboard blots our vision and stands before the scenery green. As we mutter uncomplaining and we growl and softly swear, This we read in catchily terseness: "Shooter's shirts will never tear!"

EDITORIAL COMMENT. THE STEEL TRADE. Continued improvement is noted in the steel trade. People needing structural steel are making inquiries in Pittsburgh and that is considered slight advance to the normal condition. As we mutter uncomplaining and we growl and softly swear, This we read in catchily terseness: "Shooter's shirts will never tear!"

JULY FLOWERS

Elderberry blossoms rising one above the other, a foam-white fountain of bloom springing from the green base of the hollow under the bark, are a proof of Nature's occasional extravagance in decoration. As it were not enough to have time to have all that snow of the meadow rule heaped in great feathery drifts against the green of the thickets—not to mention the white stars of the daisies, a little burned by the heat, but still trailing off in a brave procession far down the winding roadway.—Leviston Sun.

THE AGE QUESTION

Now that women suffrage is coming to the front so rapidly, the question often arises as to why there is so small a registration of women where they are permitted to vote. One answer is that a great many women object to giving their ages. The attorney general of Kansas gets around the difficulty by saying that an election official will be exempt from just criticism if he assures himself that the lady is "21 years old and upward." He reminds the officials that registration of voters is only to prevent frauds and not to give some official factum the right to embarrass the new voters with irrelevant questions.—Lynn Item.

THE COLONEL AND BARNES

The colonel has been running amuck of late, attacking politicians who are at variance with him savagely, right and left. As a rule they are a very thick skinned class of people and not very sensitive to abuse, or to being slandered. Hence it is usually one pleases about the matter. However, ever, that Boss Barnes feels that the irrepressible "Teddy" has gone beyond the limit in maligning him, and has consequently sent him for trial. Now will he be good.—Fall River Globe.

MRS. CARMAN IS ILL

RETURNS HOME AFTER TRIP TO PENNSYLVANIA—DOCTOR SAYS WIFE IS NEAR BREAKDOWN

FREEMONT, L. I., July 28.—Mrs. Florence C. Carman, under indictment for manslaughter in the death of Mrs. Lulu D. Bailey of Hempstead, returned yesterday with her husband and daughter Elizabeth from Lumberville, Pa., where she had immediately after being released from Mineola jail in $30,000 bail.

Mrs. Carman's features show the terrible strain she has been under the last four weeks. Deep lines are visible in her cheeks and her hair is gray. She had to be assisted from the automobile by Dr. Carman and Mrs. Ida Toward, her sister.

Plat Conklin, the accused woman's aged father, stood at the door of their pretty home to welcome Mrs. Carman. Father and daughter embraced affectionately and walked arm in arm into the house.

The news of Mrs. Carman's homecoming caused a crowd to collect, and 12 automobiles filled with curiosity seekers pulled up to look at the now famous "murder widow" in the Carman house.

Dr. Carman said to interviewers: "This being constantly stared at is driving her crazy. At Lumberville people used to come and gaze in at the widow. She is a sensitive woman, and this ordeal is killing her."

"She is in a pitiful state, and is on the edge of a complete nervous breakdown. We went away for a rest, but we have been hounded and followed every minute since we left home. This talk by the officials that there was a .38-caliber revolver in this house previous to the shooting is nonsense. No such weapon was here, and the box of .38-caliber bullets which I turned over to the police was so covered with dust that it must have lain in the garret for years."

"We are not afraid of a new indictment charging murder in the first degree for there is no evidence to warrant such a finding. In fact, the pending indictment for manslaughter is a horrible injustice."

The Coleman girl and the alleged tramp, Farrell, are simply the tools of the Burns detectives, and Burns is responsible for the newest revolver story.

Dr. Carman also announced that he would resume his practice at once and that conferences with Mrs. Carman's counsel, John J. Graham and George M. Levy, preliminary to preparing a defense, would begin today.

IN SCENIC MOTORLAND

Interesting Trip for Motorists
Who Want to Know Where to Go—Other Automobile News

Vacation perplexities are often multiplied by the possession of an automobile. For in addition to the momentous question of "where to go," one must answer the not less important one of "How shall I find the way?" Then is added the choosing of not only one or two hotels but the selection of twenty or thirty. In short the man with the motor demands the best roads, the most attractive scenery, and the most delightful stopping places on each and every day of his two weeks' vacation. With the multiplicity of travel and resort bureaus, this would seem a simple matter, but since it costs from five to ten dollars to join each of these, one would first have to find out which one if any could or would give him the information in an unbiased way. For these reasons, travelers are coming more and more to see the advantage of taking a tour which has been laid out in advance by experts, and which has taken into account all of the points not given in the regular guide books. The latest claimant to motorizing favor is a little booklet now in press, describing "The Scenic Motorway" which covers seven states and a part of Canada. This tour arranged by Mr. Henry MacNair, former editor of the Blue Book features the New York-Montreal run, the Berkshires, Adirondacks, Green and White mountains, and the famous New England coast. Convenient stops are arranged at selected hotels, which cater to the discriminating guest, and the desirability of good roads and scenic beauty has been consistently observed. The information in the booklet is given in tabular form. Forty full page maps each representing about forty miles of road are placed consecutively on alternate pages, and opposite each is a brief description of points of interest and mileage at the principal turns, together with a cut of the next desirable hotel. Thus one has constantly before him all the information he needs about that particular forty-mile stretch. This entirely novel idea has been worked out with care by Mr. MacNair, who covered the entire trip according to schedule last October, and vouches for the accuracy of the information.

Indeed some parts of the route had never been logged before, and are presented correctly for the first time. Copies of the little booklet may be obtained by motorists from the principal travel and resort bureaus, automobile clubs and hotels, or from Scenic Motorway Headquarters at 237 Fifth Avenue, New York City. This entire trip is so crowded with scenic and historic interest, that it would be difficult to give a comprehensive idea of its manifold attractions in a limited space, but a brief outline of the journey is worthy of consideration. While a circular trip such as this one may start at any point with equal facility, the text begins at New York, and describes the scenes along the Hudson river route to Poughkeepsie, with an alternative trip through the Westchester Hills, where at Bronxville one will find an attractive hotel, in the hills. One passes magnificent estates all the way to and through the Berkshires, those friendly hills whose fame is secure and unvarying. Lenox is the social capital and Pittsfield the commercial center of this section. The main trip goes through Troy to Saratoga Springs, and thence to the Adirondacks with beautiful Lake Placid, Lake and Upper Saratoga, all with delightful hotels, where fishing, hunting and the gentler sports of golf and tennis are always in progress. From Plattsburgh, one may make the run to Montreal, that quaint old French city, and descend through the islands of Lake Champlain to Burlington, "Queen City," with its entire mountain hotel. The direct route from Pittsfield through the heart of the Green mountain country is given for those whose time is limited. From Burlington the run is made to Lake Memphremagog over the most beautiful road in Vermont, never before logged. At Newport the beaten path follows the shore of Lake Willoughby, the Loonsee of America, down through St. Johnsbury to Bethlehem, the first of the White mountain stops. Then comes Bretton Woods, with its magnificent hostilities and the world famous Crawford Notch, with its mountain climbing "bureaus." Circling the famous Presidential range, with towering Mt. Washington overlooking them all, one ascends Pinkham Notch to Gorham and follows the Androscoggin river into the heart of the Adirondacks. The trip is planned so that one will not choose this trip, however, but will go from Newport to the northernmost peaks of the White mountains at Dixville, where a most beautiful lake lies in a most gorgeous setting; and thence to Bethel, joining the main trip. From Bethel a quick run is made to Portland, but for the traveler who can spare another week, the trip through Maine is recommended, where one may enjoy the beauties of Bangs, Moosehead, Bangor, Bar Harbor and the jagged coast. Portland sits on a little promontory jutting out into the lovely Casco bay, with its myriad of islands and the traveler who can spare a few days to New Brunswick will find little of the coast. Then is a wide expanse of the open sea on our left as we pass Rye beach and Swanscott, two of the most attractive of the shore resorts. Now an all-park-way drive stretches to Boston where one may well spend a day in visiting the ancient landmarks so carefully preserved. Through the "Fens" and beyond we speed on the park-way, and Newport is reached in record time. Here the "Old Stone Mill" and the fashionable colony of so-called "cottagers" are the attractions. Across the bay lies Narragansett pier, social sister to Newport, with a splendid caravansary. Then ensues the "Shore Drive" through Rhode Island, Connecticut and New York, crowded with attractive stopping places and teeming with points of historic interest. At New Haven one finds the most modern hotel in the state. Then there is ancient Yale inviting a tour of sight-seeing. Yale is the terminus of the famous Post road, a very much beaten track, not yet built to withstand the combined destruction of hoofs, chains and rubber, but with so much of surrounding charm that one forgets the occasional fume.

Co., Middlesex street. The shop is a large roomy machine shop, with an endless variety of tools necessary for such kind of work and a large force of skilled workmen. The Upton & Gilman Machine Co. specializes on big heavy jobs, such as ordinary garages cannot attend to because of various causes, among them, the lack of facilities. A big feature of this shop is the oxy-acetylene welding, which has won quite a name, not only in this city but also in cities and towns throughout the state.

Lowell Auto Lamp Co.

A new name has been added to The Sun's automobile directory, that of the Lowell Auto Lamp Co., the proprietors of which are the Ward brothers, who are well known about Lowell, having worked at the mechanical business for a number of years. Their work at present is to repair lamps, radiators, etc., in such a skillful way that the customers can scarcely believe that the brand new looking article was the crushed, dented thing they brought into their shops a few days before.

Roy F. Lovejoy is offering gasoline at 15 cents a gallon today and is prepared for a big rush of business. Vulcanized, the puncture line is proving very popular among the auto owners.

Mr. Fuller of Branch street bought a King touring car from Mr. Sackley recently. An annual outing took place last Sunday at Providence, given by B. A. Swanson, a local agent in that city, for the Indian motorcycle. About 100 machines were in evidence, having come from various cities and towns all over New England. The entertainment was in the form of a field day. Wesley Kahoe of Lowell took fifth place in the 100 yard dash and in the two-mile run, receiving as a prize a riding suit. Eldred Beeson was another Lowellite who also won, having come in seventh in the two-mile run, receiving a tire gauge as a reward for his running ability.

15 YEARS IMPRISONMENT

LAWRENCE, WHO LED TO ARREST OF ROBINSON, PARTICIPATED IN TRIPLE MURDER

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., July 28.—Walter Lawrence of Covington, Ky., was today sentenced to 15 years' imprisonment in Marquette prison for participation in the robbery and triple murder in the Thomson jewelry store here last September. Lawrence agreed to plead guilty to a manslaughter charge. His confession led to the arrest in Boston of Lawrence Robinson, who recently committed suicide while being tried for the shooting and killing of Inspector Norton, who attempted to arrest him for the Grand Rapids robbery. Robinson was directly responsible for the shooting of the three men in the Thomson store.

DRUNK ON DUTY

Officer Connolly Found Helpless—Friends Believe He Was Drugged

Lieutenants Freeman, Connors and Maher have been appointed as a trial board by Mayor Murphy to take evidence in the case of Patrolman Michael Connolly, who is charged by Redmond Welch, superintendent of police, with being drunk while on duty. Supt. Welch notified Mayor Murphy this morning and the trial board was appointed at once. The notification stated that Mr. Connolly was found helplessly drunk on his beat in Belvidere this morning. His relatives assert that from all they can learn the officer was induced to drink drugged liquor. He was never known to be under the influence of liquor before and this occurrence is a great shock to them. He is the officer who with his brother was publicly commended last year for arresting a professional burglar loaded with loot from a house on the Highlands.

tribunal of the European powers on the same status as the little Balkan nation. Austria-Hungary in the interval had proceeded rapidly with the mobilization of her great army. The entire railroad system was utilized for the movement of troop trains, the telegraph system was virtually monopolized for government business and a strict censorship was imposed. Serbia also had mobilized her forces and had withdrawn the garrison of Belgrade, the capital to the interior as the chief city of Serbia occupied a vulnerable position.

Every war office and admiralty in Europe was occupied with preparations for contingencies, even the smaller countries, such as Holland, Belgium and Switzerland taking precautionary measures. Then today came the formal declaration of war by Austria-Hungary, one of the members of the triple alliance, the other two parties to which are Germany and Italy.

The notification of the fact was sent this afternoon to the Serbian government which has its temporary headquarters at Kragevatz.

It is anticipated here that a declaration of the beginning of hostilities would follow quickly on Germany's decision to add aloof from any scheme of mediation. The German foreign office had said that a conference of ambassadors would in its opinion serve no useful purpose while "negotiations" between Vienna and St. Petersburg were still in progress. The attitude of Russia was watched carefully today in official circles here and the firm belief was expressed that Russia would enter the lists in support of the little Slavie kingdom as soon as fighting started in earnest.

ITALIAN WARSHIPS ORDERED TO RETURN TO ITALIAN WATERS

GLASGOW, Scotland, July 28.—Three Italian warships visiting the Clyde were ordered today to return to Italian waters.

ACTIVE HOSTILITIES BETWEEN AUSTRIA AND SERBIA BEGAN THIS MORNING

PARIS, July 28.—The Austrian ambassador to France today said it was probable that active hostilities between Austria-Hungary and Serbia began this morning but at 11 o'clock he had not received any telegram to that effect from Vienna.

The suspension of all trading in futures was decided on at a general meeting today of the commercial exchange dealing in grains, sugar and all commodities in bulk. This decision will remain in force until an improvement occurs in the international situation.

ORDERS CONCENTRATION OF GERMAN FLEET AT HOME WATERS

BERLIN, July 28.—The German admiralty today ordered the concentration of the German fleet in home waters.

GERMAN GOVERNMENT WILL NOT ENTER CONFERENCE OF EUROPEAN POWERS

BERLIN, July 28.—The German government today returned an unfavorable reply to the British proposal for a conference of the ambassadors in London of the European powers in an endeavor to bring about a settlement of the Austro-Servian controversy.

In its communication Germany declares that it considers the suggestion of Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary, as well meant and good in principle but not feasible in practice and impossible to carry out. The communication says it cannot be expected that a great power having a dispute with a smaller neighbor will submit the matter to the decision of a European assembly. Far less can it be hoped that two great powers will submit to be summoned in the role of accused before such a tribunal.

Germany makes the counter suggestion that negotiations for peace be conducted between the cabinets instead of by a conference. The stock market here today opened generally weak, particularly in the case of Austrian specialties. Russian four percents, on the other hand, were 16 higher. The character of the news, strong, the attitude of the Berlin bankers having reassured their customers and checked the tendency to sacrifice securities.

GREAT EXODUS OF AUSTRIANS AND HUNGARIANS FROM SERBIA

BELGRADE, July 28 (by indirect route).—Many Servian families have fled the capital for the country districts and there has been a great exodus of Austrians and Hungarians from Belgrade and other parts of Serbia. Perfect order prevails in the capital, the police duties having been undertaken by a corps of volunteers composed of students.

AUSTRIA-HUNGARY HAS DECIDED TO REFUSE SIR EDWARD GREY'S PROPOSAL

VIENNA, July 28.—The Imperial Austro-Hungarian foreign office declared today that Austria-Hungary now comply with the demands contained in the Austrian note, the government of the dual monarchy would not be satisfied. Officials at the ministry stated that Serbia's reply had made it impossible for Austria-Hungary to adhere to her former standpoint and compliance with Serbia with the demands made on her could no longer influence the course of action of the Austro-Hungarian empire. It was sent officially announced here today that Austria-Hungary had decided to refuse Sir Edward Grey's proposal of an ambassadorial conference in London.

LOHMAN PITCHED GOOD BALL

Haverhill Beaten 2-1 in Fast Game at Spalding Park

Lowell Team Looked Much Better Yesterday—Are in 5th Place

The Haverhill club strolled into town yesterday in compliance with the New England league schedule with smiling faces and hats swinging at the ready. In fact the Haverhill team appeared like anything but a seventh place team.

No change has been officially announced by the league as to the Haverhill franchise, although rumors are flying about it. A meeting of the league's managers was on the state for yesterday, but representatives of only four teams put in an appearance in Boston and the season was declared off until next Wednesday.

There are two baseball factions in Haverhill which have been rather at loggerheads since the return of the franchise to that town. One is the old ball yard down there this spring but affairs have not brightened up much with the rolling by of the home games. Just what will eventually happen in Haverhill is a mystery. If the franchise changes hands, however, it is probable that the former baseball park will be used.

Scout at the Game

Charlie Kellner was out at Spalding park yesterday with his weather eye peeled for a likely looking ball player or two. The St. Louis American scout looked over the Haverhill team very thoroughly before changing his base of operations.

Burke's hitting in Saturday's double header was the greatest piece of good news that the franchise had in many gloomy days and those who swapped silver quarters for rain checks this afternoon were rooting for the third baseman to keep it up. With Burke and Wagon hitting the ball like Lowell is bound to look much better.

Sheehan, the former Lynn shortstop, arrived at the grounds just before the game and was given a Lowell uniform. Swaps a right handed pitcher, also reported at the park and pitched to the Lowell batters during practice.

The Haverhill lineup presented two Lowell boys, "Billy" McMahon at short and Frank McPherson at second. Quite a delegation of their respective friends attended the game. Scout Kellner held a long pow-wow with "Dixie" Southern, Haverhill's spit-ball artist, one of the best men in the league when the visitors arrived at the ball park. The representative of the St. Louis American, however, did not count himself in any way relative to the purchase of "Dixie".

Sheehan went in at second base and Greenhalgh was relegated to the bench. Umpire Doherty proved a happy change from the rather dry decision maker that we have seen here in some of the recent games. Lohman took the mound, however, and Frank McPherson, the Centralist boy, led off for Haverhill.

First Inning
Lohman used all his stuff on McPherson and retired him on strikes; he was out at first when Wagon dropped the third strike and then threw to Kelly. "Del" Howard, Haverhill's slugging outfielder, fared no better and slugged the summer zephyrs three times. "Del" was sent peered and threw his bat clear to the grandstand, after making the third strike. Duggan singled to right field, although Sheehan nearly had the ball. Sheehan took the next one, however, a grounder off Campbell's bat, and Lohman went to bat. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Second Inning
Lohman struck out Dec. Doherty led off the Haverhill pitcher after getting a free ride to first. Sheehan stepped up to the bat and smacked a three-bagger into left center, scoring Doherty. The new second baseman followed with a well merited round of hand clapping as he walked to the bench after being retired at the plate on Stimpson's fielder's choice to McMahon. Weaver closed the inning with a fly to Duggan in left. One run, one hit, no errors.

Score: Lowell 1; Haverhill 0.

TEXAS LOHMAN

hon of Wilson. Burke's maneuvering between third and the plate, brought Lohman a pass. The Lowell pitcher still seemed to be in command, but McMahon to Wilson. No runs, one hit, one error.

Score: Lowell 1; Haverhill 0.

Third Inning

Lohman scared Flaherty's bounding grounder and threw the Haverhill backstop out at first. Oldie then hit one through line but was forced at second when McPherson hit to Sheehan. Wagon made a fine catch of Howard's foul fly near the grandstand after a hard run. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Doherty lifted a high foul fly which fell in the grandstand, narrowly missing several ladies. Sheehan was evidently a consistent striker for his unrelenting act for he struck out. Sheehan proved a good walter and at last Oldie made his fourth hit pitch to him with the usual result—Sheehan stroled to first. Howard went under Stimpson's fly in left center.

Weaver singled to the second station Burke singled over first base into left field and Sheehan came home while Weaver was held at second. Oldie had a bit of wildness and walked Kelly, crowding the bases. Wagon smacked a hard grounder at McPherson but "Dixie" Lohman on the spot and threw to McPherson, forcing Kelly at second. One run, two hits, no errors.

Score: Lowell 2; Haverhill 0.

Fourth Inning

Duggan almost broke Lohman's hand with a swift grounder but "Texas" fielded the ball and threw to first for the putout. Campbell hit to Sheehan and the ball was waiting for him at first. Yelle singled to left but Stimpson's perfect throw to Dec nailed him when he got ambitious and attempted to stretch it into a double. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Yelle threw out Lohman at first on his grounder although "Texas" showed some real springing ability. Dec sent a grounder to Wilson and was an easy out. Howard was waiting for Doherty's long fly to right center. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Score: Lowell 2; Haverhill 0.

Fifth Inning

McMahon hit the first ball pitched to Dec and did at first. The best that Howard could do was roll a weak grounder to Lohman and he also went down and out at first. Duggan caught Lohman's splitter for a single to right center. Duggan succeeded in stealing second. Dec was slow in putting the ball on him. Campbell singled to right field, scoring Duggan. Wagon made another fast running catch when he took Yelle's foul fly. One run, two hits no errors.

Burke sent a line drive to Duggan in left. The visiting left fielder then made a fine catch of Kelly's line drive, picking the ball off his shoe strings while on the run. Wagon grounded out, McMahon to Wilson. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Score: Lowell 2; Haverhill 1.

Seventh Inning

McMahon was called out on strikes and "Billy" had several choice selections for the umpire. Kelly added Wilson's slow grounder and Lohman covered the base. Wilson was out in spite of the fact that he tried to foul over the Texas. Dec Grof was on to his job when Flaherty lifted a long fly to right field. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Lohman started off the seventh, sometimes called lucky, with a line drive into left field which Duggan took care of. "Shorty" Dec broke his bat when he slammed out a foul and attempted to use Doherty. Roba put up a holler at once and "Shorty" had to go to the bench and secure another. Dec finally fled out to McMahon. Doherty pulled one to left center for three bases. The Rubie did some great base running and wound up with a diving slide into third base. McMahon shot off Lowell's chances in scores when he grabbed Sheehan's grounder and threw him out at the initial station. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Score: Lowell 2; Haverhill 1.

Eighth Inning

Oldie Evidently used a bat with a hole in it for he couldn't even foul off Lohman's offering. McPherson popped up a fly near the box which Lohman took. Howard was called out on strikes. No runs, no hits, no errors.

McPherson made a nice stop and threw of Stimpson's grounder near second base. Weaver made the second out when he filed to Duggan in deep left. Burke made his third hit of the game a single into left. Kelly hit the left field fence for a double, advancing Burke to third. Wagon was called out on strikes. No runs, two hits, no errors.

Score: Lowell 2; Haverhill 1.

Ninth Inning

Dec took Duggan's line drive. Burke threw out Campbell at first. Yelle fled out to Weaver.

GIRL'S BACK BROKEN

WORCESTER, July 28.—Two men and a girl were seriously injured, and a woman was badly bruised in an automobile upset on Pleasant street, near the Tannock club, near the Paxton line, last night. The injured, with the exception of the woman, were taken to the Memorial hospital, where they are on the dangerous list.

The machine, a small touring car, was driven by Edward Press, 33 years old, of Providence street, this city. With him on the front seat was his wife and in the tonneau Esther Fish, 19 years of age, of the same address, and Abraham McKenzie of Manchester, N. H.

Mrs. Fish, probably the most seriously injured of the quartet, suffered a fracture at the base of the spine. Press is suffering from a fracture of the lower back and possibly internal injuries. McKenzie has a fractured right arm and right leg, multiple abrasions to the left side of his body, and possibly concussion of the brain.

The accident happened on a turn at the bottom of an incline. The roadbed at this point is arched, and had been freshly oiled. Press, who was driving,

"There was a young man from Havana. Who slipped on a nice new banana: The things that he said, when he fell on his head, were not fit for a Sunday school banner."

The delegates visited the capitol, called upon Speaker Clark and generally had a very pleasant time.

WAR BULLETINS

NISS, Serbia, July 28.—The Serbian steamers Deligrad and Morava were seized today at Urova, on the Danube, by Austrians. The passengers were released.

VIENNA, July 28.—The Militarische-Landesbau reports active movements of both Serbian and Montenegrin troops which are in close touch at Ploj, near the frontier of Bosnia.

LONDON, July 28.—Authoritative sources received here from Bucharest state that Germany has asked for positive assurances from Rumania of her intentions in connection with the Austro-Serbian situation.

CHICAGO, July 28.—Immense excitement of trade in wheat followed announcement today that war had been officially declared. Within a few minutes the market touched a point about three cents a bushel higher than prices earlier in the session and 21-2 above last night.

News of the mobilization of British battle squadrons came just before the long cleared the pit on the board of trade here today. The market closed wildly excited, with September wheat going up nine cents a bushel in 24 hours. The close was at the topmost point of the day.

NEW YORK, July 28.—News of the actual declaration of war between Austria and Serbia was followed by selling on a very active scale on the stock exchange today. Prices fell more rapidly, Canadian Pacific dropping over 12 points while other prominent stocks were affected by increasing reactions. Large blocks of stocks were thrown over in urgent haste, presumably for foreign holders.

BERLIN, July 28.—An unconfirmed dispatch from Gumbinnen, eastern Prussia, to the Tagliche Rundschau today says that Russia has occupied Althallen, Russian Poland, with a force of engineers, cavalry, artillery and two regiments of infantry, while Russian guards have been placed along all roads on the frontier.

The dispatch adds that a squadron of German U-boats has advanced to Gdansk, on the Russian frontier.

DECLARATION OF WAR IS SENT TO SERBIA

The Austro Hungarian Government Officially Notifies Serbia That War is on—All Nations Prepare for Hostilities—Germany and Austria Refuse Sir Edward Grey's Proposals

VIENNA, July 28.—Official notification of the declaration of war was sent to Serbia today by the Austro-Hungarian government.

The declaration of war was gazetted here late this afternoon. The text is as follows:

"The royal government of Serbia not having replied in a satisfactory manner to the note remitted to it by the Austro-Hungarian minister in Belgrade on July 23, 1914, the Imperial and royal government finds itself compelled to proceed to safeguard its rights and interests and to have recourse for this purpose to force of arms."

"Austria-Hungary considers itself, therefore, from this moment in a state of war with Serbia."

(Signed)
"Count Berchtold, Minister of Foreign Affairs."

—ENGLAND'S BATTLE SQUADRON MOBILIZED

LONDON, July 28.—The refusal by Germany and Austria-Hungary to participate in a mediation conference on the Austro-Serbian conflict, reports of the rapid movement of Austro-Hungarian troops and the persistent downward trend of European stock markets were the outstanding developments of the European situation today. Preparations for war proceeded on all sides. Even England's battle squadron have all been mobilized in readiness for eventualities and the publication of official news as to the movements of British warships has ceased. The first and second battle squadrons have taken on their full war stores and are ready to slip their anchors at a moment's notice, while the destroyer flotilla around the coast also have been prepared and armed guards were placed today around all the magazines and all depots.

Germany's definite refusal to participate in the ambassadorial conference proposed by Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary, in an effort to maintain peace, is regarded here as tantamount to a declaration of war. Hungary's determination that Austria-Hungary shall have an entirely free hand in chastising Serbia unless the Balkan kingdom accedes in full to the demands of the dual monarchy.

According to advices received here, Germany's refusal was couched in terms of sympathy with Sir Edward Grey's object but contended that the suggested conference would place Austria-Hungary in the invidious position of appearing like the Balkan state before a European tribunal to explain her actions and therefore likely to increase rather than decrease the difficulties of the situation.

Ferdinand, heir to the Austro-Hungarian throne, and his wife.

The response of Serbia was considered by the foreign office in Vienna "unsatisfactory" and in a semi-official communication made public yesterday the Austro-Hungarian government said that the reply was filled with the spirit of dishonesty.

In the meantime, Sir Edward Grey took the initiative of requesting the European powers to permit their ambassadorial conference.

NO ACTION TAKEN ON THE PUTNAM CASE

By Municipal Board at Today's Meeting—Will Rest Till Next Tuesday Unless Special Meeting be Called

The gallery and side seats in the aldermanic chamber were about all taken this morning when the municipal council members took their seats for the opening of the regular meeting and there were many disappointed spectators when the meeting adjourned without any mention being made of the Putnam case. It was confidently expected that the council would vote on the question of removing the superintendent of streets, but unless a special meeting is called no action in the matter will be taken until next Tuesday. The mayor and certain members

LAWRENCE AND LOWELL

Rivals Clash at Spalding Park
Today—Thompson and Ring in Pitchers' Battle

"Oh, it's always fair weather when Lowell and Lawrence get together," piped Louis Peeper when somebody asked him this morning if he thought it was going to rain. "Rain, well, I should say not," quoth the Lawrence manager. "We've got to increase our load over Jesse Burkett's squad and this is the easiest way I know of."

In spite of the fact that Lowell has had very poor success against the down river leaders so far this season, Manager Gray and his club felt that the time had come to begin to even up matters and entered the contest with the grim determination to put over a win.

Jimmy Ring, whose recent work on the mound has not been up to the standard set by the youngster in the first few games he pitched for the Red Sox club, was picked for mound duty several days ago and has been given a layoff in order to rest up his salary whipl for Peeper's slugs.

Even as the Lawrence manager had prophesied the weather cleared up in fine style after the showers of the morning and both teams displayed their appreciation of the change in the atmosphere from the humidity of the past few days by a snappy preliminary practice.

Manager Gray received a telegram from Frank Sweeney, the outfielder purchased from the Lancaster, Pa., club, which stated that he would arrive in Lowell either Wednesday or Thursday. This news was welcome for the club is certainly in need of a center fielder.

With Sheehan at second and Sweeney in the outfield the local club will not shape up badly at all. There is bound to be something doing in the pitching staff before long, however, for Lowell now has no less than seven hurlers on the salary list.

Matty Zieser, who was brought today from the Red Sox, has had very poor success this season on account of his lack of control. He was returned to the Red Sox from the Scranton club, where he made several bad starts.

Manager Gray, however, expects the Dutchman to go better along familiar environments.

Managers Gray and Peeper held a long consultation over the transfer of the Phippsburg franchise to Manchester to which each of them agreed by telegram in the morning. The deal, of course, was only pushed through with the unanimous consent of the magnates around the circuit. In the opinion of each of them the move was a big boost for the game in all the cities of the New England league.

Mr. Peeper once more picked Thompson as leading the league's pitchers at this time. The deal, of course, was only pushed through with the unanimous consent of the magnates around the circuit. THE FIRE CHIEF Retires His Automobile and Goes Back to Old Dobbin

Fire Chief Edward F. Saunders has put aside his automobile and has gone back to the horse and wagon. The chief asked for an automobile several months ago and he expressed a preference for the Knox machine. The matter was taken up by the city council and the council visited the Knox factory at Springfield. It seemed a foregone conclusion, at that time, that the council would approve the purchase of a Knox automobile for the chief, but the machine has never been purchased and the chief has been pulling along with the old machine, also Knox. The old machine has kicked on several occasions, and yesterday it made its final kick so far, at least, as Chief Saunders is concerned. The chief was responding to an alarm when the machine took a cranky spell and refused to be coaxed. The chief finished the trip in another machine and upon returning to the central fire station declared that he would never again use the old Knox. "I will go back to the horse and wagon," he said, "until they furnish me a new machine."

Asked why he preferred a Knox machine, the chief said: "I prefer a Knox because I think it will stand up better than any other machine I know of and, besides, we have been offered a $3200 Knox for $2300. Another very important fact in favor of the Knox machine is that if a part breaks a new part can be had within ten or twelve hours by telephoning to the factory, while in the case of another machine one would have to wait a week or ten days."

O'Connell hit a slow roller to Burke. Burke let out a link in his arm and the ball reached Kelly a yard ahead of the runner. Wacob dropped Lynch's third strike, but the Lawrence shortstop was out on "Pete's" throw to Kelly. Kelly then ran off the bag and grabbed Luyster's high fly. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Aubrey made a nice catch of Doe's foul fly. DeGroot lifted a weak fly to Conley. Penloski took care of Sheehan's fly to deep left. It was a short lining. No runs, no hits, no errors.

MARRIED WOMEN MISSING

Mrs. Atkins and Mrs. Hayes, Principals in $100,000 Case Gone—Both Being Sued for Divorce

Lowell, July 28.—Mrs. Martha Atkins, a wealthy Lowell woman, is missing from her recent place of residence at White Oak, Cal., and by her disappearance a new and distinctly unusual case in which she and Mrs. Caroline Hayes, the escaped Boston Hospital inmate, are the principals and which among other things involves the alleged misappropriation of $100,000.

Word of Mrs. Atkins' disappearance, which so closely follows the sensational escape of Mrs. Hayes from the Boston Hospital, reached Boston this week from the postmaster of the White Oak home where Mrs. Atkins has been living.

According to the latter's letter, strange messages, some of which bore Boston addresses, had been received by her late last month, and on July 4, after telling him she had received "good news," she left the house and has not been heard from since.

She is alleged to have been under the influence of the Hayes woman, and it was from her contacts, over which conversations recently were reported, that the Hayes woman is alleged to have misappropriated $100,000 in property. The presence of Mrs. Atkins in Boston is necessary in event of criminal proceedings which are said to be contemplated against Mrs. Hayes.

Both Sued for Divorce

Both women are being sued for divorce. The names of prominent local citizens have been mentioned in connection with the case. Sensational action culminating in the dramatic escape of Mrs. Hayes from the Boston Hospital, have marked this case throughout, and with both women unaccounted for, the situation has become more complicated.

Mrs. Atkins is the wife of Arthur M. Atkins, a prominent automobile man. She is wealthy in her own right, but for years is alleged to have been under the influence of Mrs. Hayes. It was as the result of this alleged influence that two conservators were appointed to care for her estate recently, and following their appointment a mysterious shortage of $100,000 worth of jewelry, silverware, personal property, lands and real estate was discovered.

Mrs. Hayes is the wife of Dr. John J. Hayes, of the Columbia avenue. She married the aged physician after a romantic courtship which started while Dr. Hayes called at her apartment at 150 Massachusetts avenue, while she was suffering from pneumonia. She was married under the name of Mrs. Caroline F. Tuttle, and with a supposed wealthy widow worth many millions of dollars.

CARBONOL

How to get rid of flies

Flies breed in filth, in anything that smells. To reduce the fly pest you need a powerful disinfectant, like Carbonol, around the house. You can buy Carbonol at the drug-store. A small quantity of it is enough to give powerful power to a whole bucket of water.

Pour a Carbonol solution over the garbage and therefore flies will have no use for it. Wash the steps and back porch with Carbonol and flies will stay away.

Wash out the kitchen sink with Carbonol and pour some down the trap. Put Carbonol into the water used in cleaning the kitchen and it will make the kitchen so clean and wholesome that a fly will simply be unable to stand the place.

STEAMER OUT OF CONTROL

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., July 28.—The steamship Sarnia of the Kingston Line, bound up the Welland canal yesterday carried away the two head gates of a lock on the canal. The vessel was out of control as it entered the lock. It was said, and struck the gates before its speed could be checked. The Sarnia was not injured. Navigation through the locks will be restored today, it is expected.

MAN CRUSHED TO DEATH

Fireman Killed at Concord, N. H. Fire—Two Others Injured—Buried Under Lumber

CONCORD, N. H., July 28.—One fireman lost his life and two others were seriously injured by being caught under a pile of lumber at a fire which destroyed $15,000 worth of property of the Granite State Manufacturing company, the state prison contractors, yesterday afternoon.

Amos Turner, a permanent man at the central state station, was killed. Philip O'Connell and Clarence Clark, call men attached to the department, were those injured.

Buried Beneath Pile

At the time of the accident the men were engaged in fighting the fire in the big lumber piles north of the state prison, when, without warning, one of them toppled over, burying the three. They were using a high power stream between two of the piles, fighting the flames in front of them, and using a bunch of wood as protection from the intense heat.

So intent were they on what was in front, that they did not notice the fire eating around behind them until, without warning, the pile toppled over, burying them.

Mark Wakefield, foreman of the combination company, was the first to reach the men. He first came upon Turner, but on lifting him up he realized that the end had come to him, and with the men who called to his assistance, he removed Clark and then O'Connell, both of whom were able to help in their extrication.

Both O'Connell and Clark were badly crushed about the body and legs and were burned about the face, head and legs.

The fire, which destroyed three storehouses, was within the prison grounds, just north of the shops. The manufacturing company manufactures chairs by convict labor. There was no disorder among the convicts. W. P. Whitcomb, of Ashburnham, Mass., is the principal owner of the company.

The fire is believed to have started in the grass in the rear of the company's main storehouse from sparks from a switching locomotive, which was working about the side tracks in the lumber yard.

An effort was made to stop the blaze and the men about the house thought it had been successfully checked, but it had been successfully checked, but it had run under the main storehouse. The storehouse was filled from end to end with chairs ready for shipment and it is estimated there were more than 5000 dozen burned.

Stored in the yard on the east side of the storehouse was over 200,000 feet of hardwood lumber and the flames spread quickly to this. More than 1,000,000 feet of this was burned.

So intense was the heat from the burning piles when the department arrived that the Concord Woodworking company was smoking, but by using the fire-fighting apparatus in the shop the fire-fighting was saved. Property on the east side of North State street was also in danger, and it became necessary to use garden hose and to employ bucket brigades to keep the roofs safe.

The state prison was in danger from the flames for a time, but the precautions taken by Warden Rowe and Deputy Bailey were effective in keeping the fire outside the walls.

Lines of hose were laid out from the hydrants in the yard, and managed by officers of the prison. With these the roofs of the shop and other buildings were protected, and after the danger had passed to a degree, the lines were run through the big gates outside the yard, and the men assisted the regular firemen in the work of fighting the flames of the fire towards the buildings.

There was very little excitement inside the walls of the structure. The prisoners watched the fire with interest, but soon after it started they were placed in their cells.

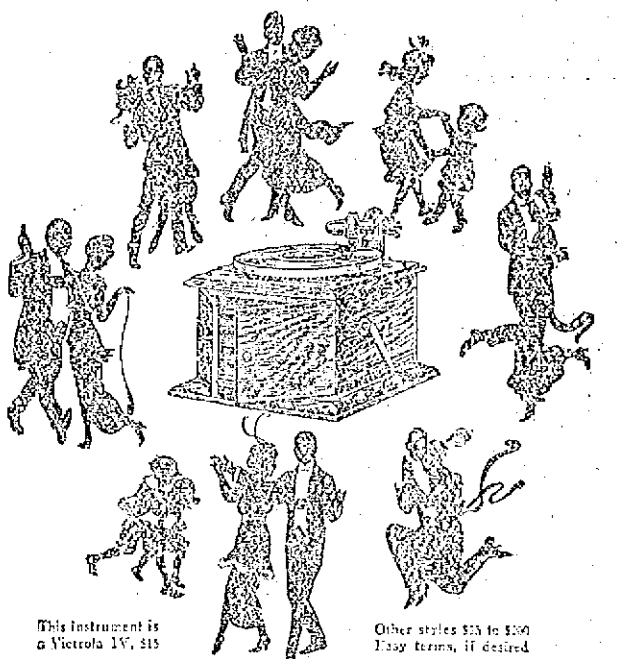

An added danger was presented by the embers which started fires on the slopes of Battleship hill and around the Calvary cemetery. One of these fires threatened the prison stable, and it was only saved after considerable work by the men of the institution. The embers also threatened the new plant of the New England Box Co., with more than 5,000,000 feet of lumber stored in the yard.

A QUARTER CENTURY AGO

Nowadays we think nothing of the ride to Lakeview beyond the time that it takes to get there, for the scenery en route has long since ceased to attract us, for familiarity if it doesn't always breed contempt, breeds indifference. But such was not the case quarter of a century ago when Lakeview and electric car travel were entirely new to Lowell, and when just 25 years ago one day this week, the first trip on the electric to Lakeview was made the old Sun disassembled the ride as follows:

"Thursday afternoon when the sky was pouring a deluge of water on the city, a group of citizens representing every shade of political belief and every branch of trade, and all the professions, boarded the new electric cars on Bridge street near Paige street and started for Willow Dale (Lakeview) at that time was also known as Willow Dale."

"It was a jolly party. Every man succeeded in getting wet before the party started but not a single man faltered. It was a free racket, the Lowell and Dracut horse railroad settling the bill for the baptism of the new electric road and the formal opening of the new 54 acre park. All the officials of the road were present and they worked like beavers to make everyone comfortable. The ride out was very enjoyable, the beautifully decorated cars sailing smoothly over the rails of Bridge street, through the beautiful country, emerald green from the recent rains, through Collinsville, dashing by the modest Catholic church, the mills and the homes of the operatives, over the smooth road, flanked by farms with beautiful crops, over the corduroy road around a curve and with a cheer the gentlemen on board the four electric cars alighted before the new hotel on the lake shore, on the shores of the pretty pond. Trees that have stood since the time when the Indians wandered through this territory crowded up to the very doors of the hotel whose broad piazzas extended on every side. The party and the piazzas and a navy of 20 boats and the steam launch "Crown Prince" are at hand to take pleasure parties in any part of the lake. The hotel will be a model one. A big open fireplace in the dining hall will do duty when the weather is cool and the billiard and several game rooms upstairs and the private dining rooms will hold many merry parties before the year is many weeks older. The dance hall is a large one and like the dining room has large piazzas that overlook the pond.

"A palatable lunch was served by the Waverly house caterers and the large party did it full justice. The ride out, the grove and the luncheon struck everyone in a tender spot and Mayor Parker returned then for the company and incidentally complimented the railroad men for their enterprise and said that whatever returned to the benefit of the company would be a benefit to the city. Col. Ringsett also made remarks when the gentlemen thoroughly interpreted it to the fine points of the great enterprise, the return trip was made. The cars started out of the grove while 150 voices were cheering the enterprise of the railroad men. On the home stretch the cars went over the ground and the night evening's air made one's blood tingle and every man felt a keen satisfaction in the sensation. In half an hour the party was deposited at the corner of Merrimack and Bridge streets opposite The Sun building and an interesting experience was at an end."

Note: Please don't misinterpret the concluding statement to wit: "In half an hour the party was deposited at the corner of Merrimack and Bridge streets." It wasn't a case of "this side up, use no force" for every man in the party could have gone home by his wife and proven an able. The word "deposited" in this case, simply meant "detained," or "left the cars," as you will.

The second trial trip of the new electric while the old Sun declares to have been a success it was not without a mishap on the following account of the trip will show:

"The second trial trip of the new electric cars on the Willow Dale line of the Lowell and Dracut street railroad occurred Sunday afternoon and was very successful. One trip the entire distance and two short trips from the car house to the Prescott street square were made, and each was witnessed by a large gathering of people. The sidewalks from Bridge street in Merrimack street were lined with people who had heard that the line was in operation. About 2 o'clock the car left the stable and proceeded to Willow Dale, making the first trip over the entire road. Messrs. McQueeney, of Boston, President August Felt, J. P. Sullivan and the electric car men were the passengers. The car came to the city and went to the stable where another car was attached and the return trip made. A number of persons were given a free ride to Collinsville and back to the car house on Hamblett street. The first smash-up occurred near Parker and Barrett's mills (the old paper mill near Parker avenue). It was a very serious one, the car being thrown on the road when it became frightened at the car and backed the vehicle on the track in front of the car. The buggy was badly wrecked and the occupants, Mr. McKissock and Mr. Charles Parker, thrown out. The car was thrown through the air, the car driver but was saved from serious injury by E. G. Baker who caught him. Mr. Parker was slightly bruised by the fall. The horse was slightly bruised but will come out all right. The vehicle will be taken in charge by the carriage-repairer. The electric car can be propelled at a rate of 30 miles an hour but seven miles an hour will be the average speed for a trip."

Three cheers for E. Garfield, always on deck.

The opening trip didn't always make seven miles an hour and in some cases one mile, for with the newness of the engine operated and the immense crowds that squeezed into the cars there were frequent stoppages and delays that rendered the ride anything but comfortable. In a short time, however, the cars began to run smoothly and on schedule time and electric car riding soon became a fixture in Lowell.

"As She Sees It" Not Around

Says the old Sun: "The public bath house on the Merrimack river is now open and in charge of E. J. Freeman. It occupies a lot of 100 ft. by 100 ft. It is open from 8 a. m. to 12 m. and 1 to 6 and 7 to 9 p. m. Thursday will be reserved for women."

The city authorities probably meant to say the fair sex a graceful compliment by intimating that they weren't as stupidly in need of a bath as the men and they got away with it, for in those days Miss "As She Sees It" was confining her literary efforts to school compositions and was not doing the Jean de Arc stunt for "equal rights."

for all women, with a vote included." Just imagine the "belle" that would appear in the Courier-Citizen today were the city authorities to limit ladies to one free bath a week, giving the rest of the week to the men.

Butler on the "America"

Probably there are many Lowell men and women who have read from day to day of the preparations being made for the coming International boat race when Sir Thomas Lipton is to make one more attempt to lift "The America" cup, who are not aware of the fact that the famous yacht "America" after which the International trophy has been made was for many years owned by Gen. Benjamin Butler of this city, and that while Paul Butler was getting International fame in the earliest kind of a craft about the canoe, his father was cruising about in the boat that made yacht racing internationally famous. The Sun of 15 years ago had the following:

"General Butler, accompanied by Paul Butler, Walter E. Lawson, W. S. Butler, wife and daughter, Ex-Gov. Smythe and wife of New Hampshire, is cruising on the yacht 'America.' Continued to last page

VITAL FORCE

Disease germs are on every hand. They are in the very air we breathe. A system "run down" is a prey for them. One must have vital force to withstand them. Vital force depends on digestion—on whether or not food nourishes—on the quality of blood coursing through the body.

DR. PIERCE'S Golden Medical Discovery

Strengthens the weak stomach. Gives good digestion. Enriches the sluggish liver. Feeds the starved nerves. Again full health and strength return. A general upbuilding enables the heart to pump like an engine running in oil. The vital force is once more established to full power. Year in and year out for over forty years this great health-restoring remedy has been spreading throughout the entire world—because of its ability to make the sick well and the weak strong. Don't despair of "being your old self again." Give this vegetable remedy a trial—Today—Now. You will soon feel "like new again." GETTING READY FOR WAR

Local Greeks Will Offer Services to Greek Government for the Servian Trouble

The Greeks of this city, especially the veterans of the Turkish-Balkan war, are hoping that their king will send in a call for volunteers in the event of Greece lending a hand to the Servian government with the threatening trouble that is now pending with Austria-Hungary, and it was stated this morning that over five hundred volunteers are ready to respond to a call to arms.

The local Greeks are following the crisis with deep interest and their patriotic blood is boiling. There are nearly five hundred veterans in Lowell and all are anxious to see more fighting. A large number of them had not seen real fire for upon their arrival in Greece after the last recruiting they were assigned to guard duty on territory captured by the Greek army and they were not given a real opportunity to handle the gun and they hope that a call for volunteers will be sent to the state by their chief executive.

It is understood that in the event of the Greek government sending help to Servia over 100,000 soldiers will be detailed to the battlefield and they hope a call for volunteers in foreign lands will be sent in. It is to be judged by the attitude of local Greeks toward the Austria-Hungary government, it is fair to assume that there is a bitter feeling between the latter country and Greece.

The Lowell Greeks are in fine physical condition and their training is excellent, for since the return of the veterans of the Balkan-Turkish war they have organized into a military regiment and every Sunday they parade to Pawtucketville, where they are put through maneuvers by competent officers. Despite the fact that a number of their local comrades have lost their lives on the battle field and also that several of those who returned to Lowell have since died from their injuries, they still retain that fighting spirit that was so characteristic with them at the outbreak of the war.

The chief topic of discussion in the Market street cafes is the Servian trouble and the possibilities of a call to arms and it is possible that a message will be sent from Lowell to King Constantine to the effect that the boys from the Spaulding City are anxious to go to the front and the services of over five hundred men will be offered. However, the men are awaiting further developments before such a step is taken.

AMONG THE TOILERS

Mr. Robert Brown of the John Pilling Shoe Co. is spending two weeks in New York.

Joseph Cote and Rosette Carber of the Merrimack mills spent an enjoyable day at Nahant, Sunday.

Miss Mae Wayne of the Prescott mills has returned from a pleasant vacation spent at Hampton beach.

Thomas Holloran, employed at the Lowell Bleachery mills, is spending two weeks at Hampton beach.

Walter Kelley, formerly employed at the American Hide and Leather Co., is now working in Boston.

Mr. Chester Bradley has accepted a position with the American Safety-Tread Co.

John Sullivan of the Merrimack mills has returned from Hampton beach where he spent two weeks.

John Conway of the Barry Shoe Co. contemplates taking a trip to New York in the very near future.

Joseph Walsh of the Pilling Shoe Co. will probably enter the ten mile amateur meter-mile event at Readville Saturday.

Mr. Michael Flanagan, formerly employed at the Hamilton Manufacturing Co., is now working for the water works department.

Miss Gertrude McCarthy of the Higelow Carpet Co. has returned from a delightful vacation spent at Salisbury beach.

The Poinsettia Girls have returned from their vacation spent at Salisbury beach. They say that they had a delightful time.

George "Hickey" Lyons of the Saco Lowell shoes is putting up a grand game of ball for the South Ends these days.

Frank McCabe, who was until recently working at the Carpenters' trade, has accepted a position with the American Hide and Leather Co.

Joe Stowell of the Hamilton Manufacturing Co. has not stopped talking about the lumberjacks' convention yet. Enthusiasm is a great thing.

William Espandola, formerly employed at the Merrimack mills, has accepted a position with the Tremont & Suffolk mills.

Carter Sullivan of the Merrimack mills is spending a week with relatives at his summer cottage at Ipswich.

Miss Mary Johnson of the Silesia Worsted Co., North Chelmsford, will spend the next two weeks with friends in Gardner, Mass.

Abie Buckley, of the U. S. Bunting Co., is without a doubt the greatest outdoorser that has sprouted up around these parts in many years.

Jack Donnelly, of the Stirling mills, has signified his intention of enlisting with the U. M. 1. Cadets next week.

The young men who have been leaning over the window sills on the second story of the Silesia Worsted mill had better be careful. It's quite a drop.

Thomas Brown of the Barry Shoe Co. has returned from his trip to the mountains. He brought home quite a collection of interesting photographs of that picturesque region.

Thomas Hartley, employed at the Waterhead mills, who was seriously injured last Saturday in a ball game at the Tewksbury Infirmary, is improving rapidly.

Leo Leno of the American Hide & Leather Co. has painted some remarkable portraits. Mr. Leno is also very fond of music and is an accomplished violinist.

One industrious mill employee who spends his spare time in exploring the wild and uninhabited regions in and about Lowell has discovered a new resort in Little Canada and has christened it "Saunders beach."

Joseph Quinn, secretary of the Machinists' union, is kept quite busy these days organizing. This union, which is the largest in the city never retards but is always on the lookout for new members.

Jack Dudley and Thomas Rafferty, employees at the Field and Lumbert Shoe Co. made quite a catch of the fishy tribe at Silver Lake, Sunday. They have another excursion planned for next Saturday and Sunday.

James Hogan of the Field and Lumbert Shoe Co. and party enjoyed the automobile ride to Bear Point, Sunday. His friends are delighted.

ed with the running qualities of his new Buick Six.

Next Saturday the annual outing of the employees of the U. S. Cartridge Co. takes place. This is an annual event and is also the greatest factory outing of the season.

The Plumbers have made final arrangements for their annual outing which will be held next Saturday at Bass Point, and present indications seem to point to its being the most successful held in years.

James Sharkey, formerly employed at the Higelow Carpet Co., is taking up a course in embalming at a Boston embalming school. Mr. Sharkey has had some experience having worked for J. P. Rogers and Co., undertakers of this city.

Mr. Robert Wainwright, bass weaver at the Massachusetts mills, has taken up golf as his favorite pastime. Mr. Wainwright was always enthusiastic over athletics and at one time was a semi-professional ball player.

All aboard for the second annual excursion of the Silesia Worsted Co. employees which takes place Saturday. The excursionists will journey to Haverhill beach for the day and from all accounts it will be one long to be remembered.

Albin Caster of the Helms Electric Co. expressed himself last night as perfectly willing to meet the terrible looking kangaroo at Lakeview. Albin has some traditions in the family science and his friends will endeavor to try to bring them together.

Harry Snyder of the Mears, Adams shoe Co. was shocked indeed at the desecration of Salem. Mr. Snyder was born in Salem and the area he was right through the very district in which he once resided.

Frank Curran, of the American Hide and Leather Co., was a much surprised young man when he received a telephone call Saturday at Revere beach to come home, the person calling, reminding him of the fact that it was 8 o'clock.

Walter Lowrey of the Merrimack mills is thinking seriously of hiring an express wagon to cart home all the post cards that have been sent to him the past week. Mr. Lowrey said he never thought that he had so many friends.

Paul Jarvis and John Gearin, employees at the Merrimack mills held a reception to their friends at their camp at Mud pond last evening. Upon the arrival of the party, refreshments were served after which an enjoyable entertainment was given. The party broke up at a late hour, voting the evening well spent.

Still another runner of promise has announced himself at the Tremont & Suffolk mills in the person of Mr. Anthony Farley. He is touted by his friends to be a world beater. The outing will be the place where he can show his great abilities and he'll have plenty of opportunity judging from the list of entrants already received.

Loomfixers Held Meeting
The members of Loomfixers' union held a largely attended and enthusiastic meeting in Carpenters hall in the Runkels building last evening. Business of much importance was transacted and two new members were admitted. Many of the members gave interesting talks on the good of the union. The secretary reported the union to be in the best financial condition in its long history.

THE KIMBALL SYSTEM WON
The St. Columba H. N. society ball club met defeat Saturday afternoon on their home grounds, 2 to 1, the Kimball System ball club being the winners. The feature of the game was the all round playing of Brice of the Sign men, he having 7 put outs in left field and he saved the game no less than twice for the Kimball system. Game was close throughout and was to doubt until the last man was retired. Cunningham, who pitched for St. Columba, was replaced by MacDonnell in the last of the game and held the Kimball system to but one scratch hit for the remaining innings. Next Saturday the Kimball system will play strong Coburn A. C. team at Shepley park and hope to make their 7th straight win.

WESTERN TENNIS ASSN.

CHICAGO, July 28.—The men's doubles and the women's matches in the first round of the Western Tennis association which were delayed by rain yesterday were started today on the courts of the Onwente Country club. The first round of men's singles yesterday developed no upsets, all the crack players coming through in most cases two sets were sufficient.

The coroner held a long inquiry during which Mrs. Angle upon advice of her counsel refused to make a statement as to the manner in which Ballou met with injuries. As Mrs. Angle would not talk and because the coroner could not determine the actual manner in which Ballou received his injury, Mrs. Angle is held criminally responsible and the finding is turned over to Albert Halliday, prosecutor of the Stamford city court.

This finding was expected after Coroner Phelan, when he closed his inquiry a week ago stated that if Mrs. Angle did not make a statement by Friday last he would hold her for trial. He admitted Mrs. Angle to bail owing to her nervous state and she was taken by her father, Leonard Blondell to Southport, Me.

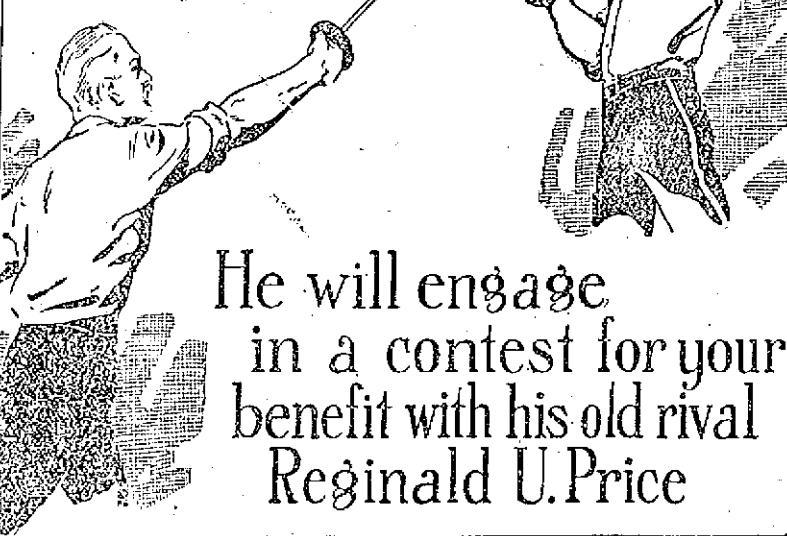

Her bail bond requires her presence whenever it shall be necessary.

FUNERALS
KOWALEWICH—The funeral of Francis Kowalewicz took place yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock from the chapel of C. H. Molloy in Market street.

"Count Discount" vs. Reg. Ular Price

This is a reproduction of an advertisement that appeared in this paper on July 22

"The Count" is an expert swordsman

He will engage in a contest for your benefit with his old rival Reginald U. Price

"Count Discount" is putting up some battle too, isn't he? You notice Reginald we call "Reg" for short because we never allow the "long price" to enter this store—hence "Count Discount" versus "Regular Price." The Count is making Regular Price ask for "quarter" too—that is 25 per cent off.

And what "Count Discount" is doing to Regular Price here now is where you come in. It's for your clothes economy that he is contesting and you win—if you will only take advantage of these bargains. If the prices quoted below do not tempt you come in and see the quality, back of them.

FOR MURDER OF BALLOU

Mrs. Angle Held Criminally Responsible for Death of Waldo Ballou in Coroner's Finding

STAMFORD, Conn., July 28.—Mrs. Helen M. Angle is held criminally responsible for the death of Waldo Ballou in this city on the night of June 23 in a finding announced by Coroner John J. Phelan today.

Ballou, who was a member of a prominent family, was picked up in a dazed condition outside a downtown business building in which Mrs. Angle had apartments. To the police that night Mrs. Angle said she found Ballou at the foot of a flight of stairs in the building after he had left her and that in the belief that he was dazed from a fall or from liquor she carried him outside and left him on the doorstep of the entrance. Ballou died from a fractured skull.

The coroner held a long inquiry during which Mrs. Angle upon advice of her counsel refused to make a statement as to the manner in which Ballou met with injuries. As Mrs. Angle would not talk and because the coroner could not determine the actual manner in which Ballou received his injury, Mrs. Angle is held criminally responsible and the finding is turned over to Albert Halliday, prosecutor of the Stamford city court.

This finding was expected after Coroner Phelan, when he closed his inquiry a week ago stated that if Mrs. Angle did not make a statement by Friday last he would hold her for trial. He admitted Mrs. Angle to bail owing to her nervous state and she was taken by her father, Leonard Blondell to Southport, Me.

The body was later sent to Forge Village for burial.

FEYLER—The funeral of Henderson Feyler of Littleton took place this morning at 8 o'clock from his home, 40 Whipple street and was largely attended. The funeral cortege proceeded to St. Peter's church where at 9 o'clock a high mass of requiem was sung by Rev. Fr. Crayton. Among the floral offerings were sprays from Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hunt, Mrs. William E. Hunt and William H. Harvey. Among the floral offerings were sprays from Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hunt, Mrs. William E. Hunt and William H. Harvey. GOLD SHIPMENT

$10,600,000 Aboard the
Liner Kronprinzessin
Cecilie for Europe

NEW YORK, July 28.—The latest gold movement to Europe which began on last Friday when $2,000,000 was sent to Paris was further augmented today by a shipment of $10,600,000 aboard the liner Kronprinzessin Cecilie. This is said to be the largest single gold shipment ever made from America to Europe.

Of today's shipment $8,000,000 is consigned to London bankers and $2,600,000 to Paris.

In addition to this sum $2,750,000 in gold bars has been engaged for shipment to Paris by the Germania, which is due to sail tomorrow.

Bankers lay the new demand for gold for export to almost entirely to the war scare in Europe, although they admitted that the fortuitous settlement on the London stock exchange which began yesterday might have had something to do with it.

Other important engagements will be made today, it was said, making the amount to go by the Germania at least $10,000,000 and the total of the movement since Friday on more than $20,000,000.

TRADE COMMISSION BILL

SEN. BRANDEGEE'S MOTION UP FOR
CONSIDERATION TODAY

WASHINGTON, July 28.—Senator Brandegee's motion to strike from the Interstate trade commission bill the section which would declare unfair competition unlawful and empower the proposed commission to define unfair competition and prevent corporations from using unfair methods in commerce was up for discussion when the senate today resumed consideration of the measure. The motion had been offered after adoption by a large vote of an amendment which would apply to the section of the bill relating to unfair competition.

The amendment would provide that no order or finding of the commission, or of court in connection therewith should be admissible as evidence in any civil or criminal proceeding under the anti-trust laws. Senator Brandegee's motion followed vigorous opposition by himself and Senator Sutherland to the amendment.

The vote on the amendment was the first reached and gave democratic leaders renewed hope of a final vote on the measure by Saturday night.

WHO IS TOWN SOLICITOR?

CAUSING STIR—SUPREME COURT
TO ANSWER QUANDARY

BOSTON, July 28.—Who is the town solicitor of Revere and has the office been abandoned or is it still there? It is Frank Paul, auditor appointed in the law action instituted by Roscoe Walworth against Andrew A. Cassasa, both of whom claim to be town solicitor. Yesterday submitted a lengthy typewritten report on the case to the supreme court on the day 1 for a writ of mandamus to restrain Mr. Cassasa from attempting to usurp the office of town solicitor of Revere. He also petitioned the selectmen of the town to call a special meeting to determine who was the legal adviser of the town May 1st.

Walworth claims the office by virtue of his election to be town counsel at a town meeting held April 15, 1914. Cassasa insists that the office in his hands was created by the selectmen at a meeting held April 15, 1914.

The auditor in his report finds that the selectmen claim the office of town solicitor was abolished, that they refused to call a special meeting as petitioned for, and that they were negligent of the public mind when they did so refuse.

ABSENCE OF GUIDEPOSTS

GOV. BALDWIN NOTICES SELECT-
OBEYED AND POSTS SET UP

HARTFORD, Conn., July 28.—Governor Baldwin is doing his best to travel in Connecticut. He has sent a letter to the selectmen of the various towns of the state, the governor today calls attention to the absence of guideposts. The governor says that such posts shall be set up at every cross road and reminds the selectmen that they may be penalized for failure to obey his law.

The absence of the guideposts, the governor says, is a great inconvenience to travelers. The governor is himself a great walker and has covered many miles of the state's roads on foot as well as on bicycle.

1000 SHEEP CREMATED

IN FIRE AT LOUISVILLE, KY., STOCK
MANY HOUSES DESTROYED

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 28.—Fire which started in the sheep pens of the Bourbon stock yards late last night destroyed a third of the plant, many Louisville & Nashville railroad cars, and damaged more than a score of other buildings that lined adjacent bordering the stock yards. Damage to the stock yards is estimated at about $175,000 and the total damage at approximately $1,000,000.

All the fire fighting apparatus of the city was called out to extinguish the flames, which threatened to destroy the cattle yards and buildings nearby. The blaze was gotten under control after several hours of hard work by the firemen. The origin of the fire has not been ascertained.

BOARD OF TRADE THE VESPER CLUB SAYS WEDDING WAS JOKE 2000 GIRLS TO STRIKE

Annual Outing at Bass
Prominent Speakers

The outing committee of the Lowell board of trade held a meeting last night and decided to hold the board's annual outing at the seashore. The committee are going to ask the members of the board who own automobiles to carry the board to Bass Point, Nahant, on August 27. This will mean the use of at least 100 automobiles and if the automobile owners will co-operate with the committee the outing will be the greatest ever.

A ride to the beach and a shore dinner are two attractions. The dinner will probably be served on the outer point of the promontory where the beach is bordered with the sea air, and the dinner, of course, would have a cabaret show attached. There will be two or three speeches by men from the national capital, Congressman John Jacob Rogers and Congressman Patrick H. Kelly, of Chicago. Mr. Kelly was lieutenant governor of Michigan for five years and Mr. Rogers says he is one of the most attractive personalities and able speakers he has met in Washington. The tentative arrangements for the outing are agreed upon by the outing committee suggests that the start be made from the vicinity of city hall at about 11 or 11:30 a. m. so that the dinner may be reached in season for dinner at 1 o'clock. It is believed that if this type of an outing can be arranged a far larger attendance than usual will respond.

Work on New Bridge to
noon—Steel Structure

The contract for the reconstruction of the Vesper country club bridge across the Merrimack river at Tyngs Island, a part of which was blown away by a cyclone a couple of weeks ago, has been awarded to the New England Construction company and work will be started this afternoon.

The old bridge was of steel with wooden sides and floorings and a couple of weeks ago when a strong gale visited that part of the country the work was torn down and blown away.

The bridge was insured against tornado loss and the insurance companies have adjusted the losses by paying the club $4800.

The New England Construction company will put men to work on tearing down what remains of the old bridge and a tornado proof steel bridge will be erected in its stead. The only wood work to be in the flooring. The cross pieces will be of steel and the cables and tower of the old bridge will be used again. Work will be rushed along and it is expected the bridge will be ready for travel in about six weeks.

HANS SCHMIDT ASKS NEW TRIAL
NEW YORK, July 28.—Hans Schmidt, convicted of the murder of Anna Anderson, whose body he dismembered and cast into the Hudson river, formally applied yesterday for a new trial.

SOUTH BOSTON BRIDE WILL NOT
NIGHT BEFORE THE FOURTH

BOSTON, July 28.—A curious situation exists in South Boston, where a bridegroom of less than a month's standing cannot get his bride, who claims that she thought the marriage a joke. The bridegroom has engaged counsel to protect his interests and the bride's mother threatens criminal action will be brought against the bridegroom.

The bridegroom is Harry Adams, 27 years old, living on Fourth street, near Atlantic. The bride was Bertha Williams, 18 years of age, of 24 Thomas park, South Boston. Her mother is Mrs. Helen Williams; her father is out of town.

The present situation arises from these circumstances: One the night before the Fourth Adams took the girl for a walk and wound up at the office of a justice of the peace in the South end, where they were married. Mrs. Williams declares she thought the ceremony a joke.

When Mr. and Mrs. Williams were told of their daughter's marriage to Adams they refused to let her live with him and notified the police at station 12, who told the mother to keep her daughter at home. As a result, Adams has been unable to obtain his wife, and in consequence suffers much anguish, he says.

Interviewed last night, Mrs. Williams was extremely reticent, but said: "My daughter is married and I propose to have the marriage annulled. I am at present playing a waiting game. I am going to try to proceed criminally against him."

To the question, "Why not seek redress through civil rather than criminal proceedings," she answered: "He has no money, and you can't get blood out of a stone."

MEMBERS OF BATHING SUIT MAK-
ERS' UNION IN NEW YORK WANT
MORE PAY

NEW YORK, July 28.—Two thousand girls, members of the bathing suit makers' union, have decided that a higher wage scale must be paid. The executive committee of the union yesterday voted to call a strike, the demand for an increased wage scale having been refused by the employers. A majority of the union's members are engaged in making bathing suits and sweaters for women. The strike order is expected to go into effect today.

SHAMROCK FOUR AT AZORES

HORTO, Fayal, Azores, July 28.—Shamrock IV, Sir Thomas Lipton's new challenger for the America's cup, arrived here today having taken seven days and three hours for the voyage from Falmouth, England.

During her trip, according to those on board the yacht proved herself an excellent seaboat. In hard blows she took the big seas like a duck and slipped through the water with great ease.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

LAKEVIEW PARK

"Lanky Bob" is the name of the boxing kangaroo that is the attraction on the open air stage at Lakeview theatre this week and he is a genuine product of Australia, right there with the punch and not at all adverse to administering a few kicks as well in the lively three round bout that he puts up with his sparring partner. Bob presents a very delectable and in fact week appearance as he enters the ring and extends his paws for the adjustment of the boxing gloves but after a few taps on the head have been handed him by his boxing partner, he starts in with a rush to mix it in a business like manner that is the finish sent his opponent through the ropes much to the delight of the large crowd assembled at the ring side. "Lanky Bob" will make his appearance at Lakeview every afternoon and evening of the present week. At the theatre today there is an excellent program of "movies" including the Mutual Weekly which presents a pictorial review of current events and today among the features being the romance of a bloody war, scenes of the recent Salem fire and many other interesting events. There are also a few comedy subjects and a strong dramatic western feature. Admission to the theatre is free and there is a new program shown every Monday, Thursday and Sunday.

THE OWL THEATRE
Miss Mary Pickford's success was genuine and complete in Lowell. Her part of Tess in "Tess of the Storm"

Country" could never be equalled by any other photo-play actress. She is supremely fascinating, her cleverness and wonderful personality are just suited to a part of this kind, and she certainly knows how to capture the hearts of her admirers. "Tess of the Storm Country" will again be shown today besides the regular show. Jack Dalton sings.

THE KASINO

Tonight the Kasino will have as a special attraction two of the most graceful demonstrators of the modern dance available in America today. Mr. Clayton Robinson and Miss Evelyn Deane, all of the modern steps in a manner indicating the purity of the movements in their original conception. To maintain wholesome dancing is the object of this instruction—for it is instruction as well as entertainment. Kasino patrons will enjoy the feature, and will improve their dancing as well. Miss Evelyn Deane will play for the artists, and will, of course, play for the audience before and after the exhibition. The Kasino is open tonight and every night and Saturday afternoon.

MATRIMONIAL

Harlan E. Knowlton and Miss Julia E. Spaulding were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Spaulding, 32 Grace street, the officiating clergyman being Rev. Charles H. Ellis, pastor of the Central Baptist church in Chelmsford. The couple were attended by Miss Lilian M. Russell as bridesmaid and Miss E. Spaulding as bride-maid. A brief reception was held and the couple left on an extended wedding tour. They will be at home to their friends in Billerica street, Chelmsford, after Sept. 1.

MANFIELD—DUPREY

Rebus A. Maxfield of this city and Miss Louise Bertha Duprey of Worcester were married at Marlboro, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Albert E. Wheelock. The bride was given away by Mrs. Richard Arnold of this city.

WOMAN TRAMP ARRESTED

Daughter of Wealth, is Held for Robbery at Taunton—Deserted by Husband

TAUNTON, July 23.—Worn and exhausted from days and nights spent in the woods with only wild berries for food, her face and clothing torn by thistles, Mrs. Mabel A. L. Robinson, 22-year-old daughter of a wealthy Canadian, N. H. farmer, is lodged here in the Taunton jail, facing many charges of robbery.

Specifically, the young woman is under arrest for the alleged theft of a horse from the Mansfield Milling company, Mansfield, and a wagon from Barnard Skinner of that town, for which she was remanded to the jail here from the Attleboro court yesterday upon default of $200 bonds for a continued hearing Aug. 4.

But today chiefs of police from Attleboro, Mansfield, Norton, Norwood, Central Falls, R. I., and many other places near here, and a posse from Rhode Island are going to subvert her to a third degree in the belief that she is the "woman tramp" who has alarmed the countryside for the last few weeks.

The woman's husband, who was with her a few hours before her arrest, this morning in Norwood Centre, has deserted her in her trouble, as far as the police can learn, and no trace of him can be found.

Says Man Blackless

Mrs. Robinson refuses emphatically to make known his whereabouts or to utter one word which would tend to clear herself and involve him, and repeated examinations of her along this line proved futile.

"He's not to blame and I won't tell you anything about him! I won't! I won't!" she declares, stamping her foot in anger.

According to the police, the story of the young woman's roamings is one of the most weird that ever came to their attention. It tells of a girl brought up amid luxurious surroundings, coerced from home by a man and forced to live the life of a tramp with him, sleeping in the woods in wet weather and dry, eating sordid, and then only of wild berries and stolen vegetables, forced to work as a servant, and then deserted by him in an hour of need.

The tale was secured in fragments. Mrs. Robinson was in her cell at the Taunton jail. Pretty once, perhaps, she looked old and haggard last night. Her eyes were lustreless, and a wealth of dark brown hair, frizzy and snarled, was tucked beneath a boy's cap.

The police learned that she left her home in Canada with her husband about one month ago, in a light buggy, they drove to Providence.

They had no money and were forced to stop at night in the woods. The horse was tied and allowed to graze. Their only food was berries or stolen vegetables.

Mrs. Robinson said they sold the horse and buggy in Providence for $40. With that money they lived a short while and then took to the woods again, finally reaching Mansfield in destitute circumstances.

Mrs. Robinson says she secured employment as a maid, worked for a few days and then wandered as far as Sharon, where she obtained another position, this time in the state sanatorium.

Since then, for the last two weeks, she declared, she and her husband had been living in the woods. According to the police they stole the horse and wagon in Mansfield. Residents of that town declared so after seeing the property and Mrs. Robinson yesterday.

Many other people also came forward and told of breaks in and about Mansfield, and of seeing a "woman tramp" on each occasion.

Mrs. Robinson admits the roaming, tells frankly of it, but denies the horse and wagon were stolen, or that her husband is to blame. She was driving the wagon when the police arrested her in Norwood.

REV. C. A. LINCOLN

The Sun has received from Rev. C. A. Lincoln a quite lengthy article on the subject of national prohibition, which lack of space prevents us printing in its entirety. Mr. Lincoln takes occasion to compliment The Sun upon the policy of refusing to print liquor advertisements, stating that in this respect The Sun leads in the right direction and is in good and ever increasing company. Mr. Lincoln argues for the nationwide abolition of the saloon, not believing that it would completely stop liquor drinking, but that it would remove from the gaze of the young and the slaves of appetite an ever-enticing source of temptation. He holds in spite of statements to the contrary that national prohibition is quite workable.

State prohibition of gambling, he says, works better than local option for this class against society, though our own city bears sufficient testimony to the fact that gambling is not yet abolished.

Arguing from a national standpoint, can we not say that national prohibition is on an equal footing with the abolition of slavery, which was enforced in spite of the unanimous disapproval in it of a great section of our country? The amendment to the constitution abolishing slavery has not settled the vexed race question, but it has abolished the legalized ownership of human beings which ownership the whole south admits to have been a bad thing for it. National prohibition will not automatically make every man in the country a total abstainer, but it will take state and nation out of the business of deliberately debauching its citizens; it will make it harder for men to keep clean habits and it will put every dispenser of intoxicating liquors absolutely on the defensive so that any wronged wife or mother can put him in the company of murderers and thieves, and it will make the environment of our American boys and girls much safer than it now is.

The liquor trade which is in a position to know a good deal about the effectiveness of prohibition and which is frankly admitting the business men of the country in opposition to national prohibition is distinctly of the opinion that national prohibition would work.

While the time may not be ripe yet for national prohibition, the only way to ripen it is to let the sunlight of truth shine clearly on the whole situation and this can be accomplished only through agitation. It was persistent agitation on the part of a few fanatics that finally accomplished the over-throw of slavery. The political temperance movement is having a phenomenal growth. Three years after the close of the Civil war there were only 3,500,000 people in our country who lived in prohibition territory. In 1914 there were 18,000,000 persons so situated and, making it 25,000,000, number had doubled, making it 25,000,000. By a conservative estimate it was found that 46,523,750 people lived in prohibition territory last year. This was a bit more than one-half of our total population. The number is still larger this year. The time for the complete abolition of the legalized liquor tariff seems to be drawing near.

"UNCLE" AFTER JUDGE

MONEY LENDER THREW COURT INTO UPROAR WHEN HE DEMANDED $1000 FROM JUDGE.

MONROVIA, N. Y., July 23.—The court of special sessions was thrown into an uproar yesterday when Abraham Rothschild, a money lender, entered the room and excitedly demanded of Judge Beall, then on the bench, that the judge return to him $1000 of borrowed money. Rothschild became so excited that Judge Beall left the bench and retired to his chambers.

"I have been trying in every way to collect this money," Rothschild shouted, "but I haven't been able to get a lawyer to take up my case simply because you are on the bench."

Judge Beall directed him to bring suit for any alleged indebtedness, but this Rothschild asserted meant delay, and delay, he said, was driving him into bankruptcy. After Judge Beall had left the bench Rothschild was quieted and induced to depart.

NATIONAL PHILATELIC SOCIETY

BOSTON, July 23.—Edward J. Wells of New York was re-elected president of the National Philatelic society last night. Other officers chosen were: B. L. Clark of Lynn, vice president; W. E. Goodwin of Dover, N. H., secretary; A. M. Wright of Rosindale, treasurer.

Nine-year-old Gerald Richter of Danvers, Cal., is the youngest member of the society when he was elected to membership yesterday.

WHEN AND HOW THE BODY POISONS ITSELF

The underlying cause of much headache, particularly migraine, or sick headache, bilious attacks, vertigo, or dizziness, is intestinal auto-intoxication. This process, recognized only in recent years, is the absorption into the blood of poisons produced in the intestines from the residue of food.

The two most prominent factors in causing this condition are constipation and excessive meat eating. It can therefore be largely avoided by care in the diet and the use of a laxative which will clear away the fermenting residue of food which is generating the poisons.

Pinkettes, the new laxative, are admirably suited to protect the body against the dangers of auto-intoxication for they gently assist nature and do not gripe or purge. Harsh purgatives leave the system in a worse condition than they find it but Pinkettes give just the stimulation to the organs of excretion that is needed to produce natural action and if they are used regularly for a time they will really correct constipation.

Your druggist sells Pinkettes or they will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 25 cents per bottle, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Send today for booklet and free sample.

HOLDS COURT IN AUTO

AFTER THE SPEEDERS IN NEW JERSEY—GUILTY DRIVERS ONLY SLOW DOWN AND PAY FINE

ATLANTIC CITY, July 23.—Nothing has prevented Justice of the Peace Joseph Shinn of Pleasanton, near here, from fining more automobiles for speeding except lack of time. Whenever State Inspector Anderson Shinn arrested a flitting motorist he had to lug him to Justice Weeks and get him freed before he could get busy presiding again. Thus precious moments were lost.

Even Justice Weeks couldn't make the days longer, nor could Inspector Shinn arrest the speeding minutes. But they began yesterday to abolish waste by both going out in the justice's touring car, with Deputy Hamilton sitting in the tonneau.

The first speeder they met was Emil Miller of Philadelphia. Inspector Shinn ranged alongside and arrested him, but told him he didn't have to do anything except slow down. After Mr. Miller had slowed down, the inspector turned to Justice Weeks and preferred charges of speeding against him.

The justice asked the prisoner the usual questions. The prisoner made the usual answers, and Deputy Hamilton, a clerk of the auto court took the minutes in shorthand. The justice had no gavel to bang, but he tooted his horn.

After he had found Mr. Miller guilty and had fined him $5, he directed that he be handed to Deputy Hamilton. Mr. Miller left court by letting it leave him.

The combination policeman and court did not cease operations until it had separated C. A. Babcock of Freehold, Thomas Langborne of Orange, and Arthur Purdum of Bluefield, Va., each from $2. All were more or less pleased with the idea of having the court brought to them, instead of being brought to court.

Whether or not Jersey courts will become so speedily eventually that they can be called out like fire departments to extinguish crime is a question under debate here.

New Proposals by the Federal Mediators in Chicago

CHICAGO, July 23.—New proposals submitted by federal mediators in an effort to avert a strike of 55,000 locomotive engineers and firemen on 23 western railroads were under consideration by both sides today.

"I am not at liberty to say what the proposals are," asserted Judge Martin A. Knapp, a member of the mediation board, "but we hope they will bring peace. The situation, however, still is grave."

THE DEATH RATE RISES

INCREASE IN NEW YORK DUE MOSTLY TO MEASLES, DIPHTHERIA AND TYPHOID

NEW YORK, July 23.—There were 1301 deaths last week in New York, an increase of 82 over the corresponding week in 1913. The increase is due to a larger number of deaths from measles, diphtheria and typhoid. Deaths from tuberculosis decreased. There were eight deaths from sunstroke. Infant mortality shows a decrease from the figures last year.

Deaths for the first 30 weeks of 1914 was 14,577 per 1000, a decrease of nearly a third of a point from last year's figures. Last week the death rate was 12.14. In the corresponding week in 1913 it was 12.13.

GOVERNOR OF NUEVO LEON ISSUES DRASTIC ORDER RESTRICTING THE CHURCH

TAMPEICO, July 27, via Laredo, July 25.—A decree limiting the scope of the Roman Catholic church in the state of Nuevo Leon on the ground of "public health, morality and justice," was issued yesterday by Antonio I. Villarreal, governor and military commander.

The decree issued in Monterrey, makes the following orders for government of Catholic schools and churches:

"1.—All foreign Catholic priests and Jesuits of whatever nationality will be expelled from the state of Nuevo Leon."

"2.—Of the remaining Catholic priests those who cannot prove their complete abstention from politics will be expelled."

"3.—Churches will remain open daily from 8 in the morning until 1 in the afternoon. Only priests having permission to do so will be permitted to officiate."

"4.—Confession is prohibited."

"5.—The public is prohibited from entering the sanctuary."

"6.—Church bells shall ring only to celebrate feasts in honor of the country or for triumphs of the constitutionalist arms."

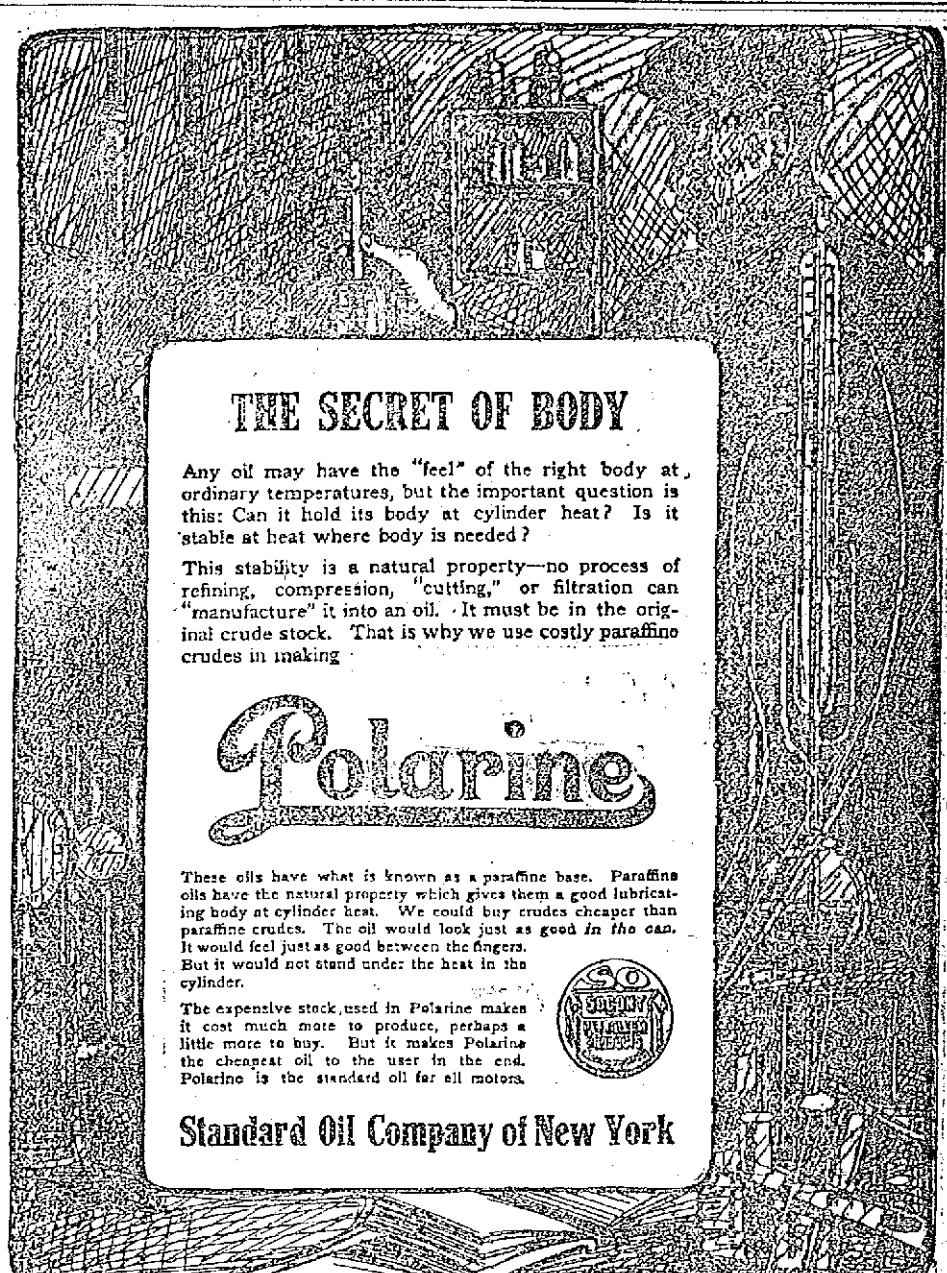

"7.—All Catholic colleges shall be

THE SECRET OF BODY

Any oil may have the "feel" of the right body at ordinary temperatures, but the important question is this: Can it hold its body at cylinder heat? Is it stable at heat where body is needed?

This stability is a natural property—no process of refining, compression, "cutting," or filtration can "manufacture" it into an oil. It must be in the original crude stock. That is why we use costly paraffino crudes in making

These oils have what is known as a paraffine base. Paraffine oils have the natural property which gives them a good lubricating body at cylinder heat. We could buy crudes cheaper than paraffine crudes. The oil would look just as good in the can. It would feel just as good between the fingers. But it would not stand under the heat in the cylinder.

The expensive stock used in Polarine makes it cost much more to produce, perhaps a little more to buy. But it makes Polarine the cheapest oil to the user in the end. Polarine is the standard oil for all motors.

THOS. F. SLATTERY KILLED

Fell Under Freight Train on His Way From Work at Billerica Car Shops

Thomas F. Slattery, aged 21 years, of 52 Canada street, died at 6.30 o'clock last night at St. John's hospital as a result of having both legs amputated when he fell under a freight train near the South Lowell depot, while returning from his work at the Boston & Maine repair shops in Billerica.

Nearly an hour the physicians at the hospital worked over the young man in an attempt to save his life but in spite of their efforts he died within two hours after the accident occurred.

Young Slattery had boarded the work train, which conveys the mechanics employed at the Billerica shops to this city every night, and had reached a point near the South Lowell station when he and several companions stepped off. As the work train was to shift a switch five or six of the young men attempted to jump on a freight which passed in the meantime. All succeeded in getting on to the freight except Slattery, who held on and fell on the tracks, the wheels of the heavy cars passing over both legs. The freight was brought to a stop and the injured man placed in the caboose where he talked of the accident on the way to the South Lowell depot. There, however, he lost consciousness and his condition was removed to the hospital. He had almost died to death.

The young man reached the hospital at about 5.30 o'clock and the attending surgeons found both limbs badly crushed and mangled. He never regained consciousness and died one hour later.

Mr. Slattery is survived by his father, Michael; three sisters, Mrs. Anthony Pacheco, Mrs. Katherine Perlen and Mrs. Margaret Sheehan.

MRS. THOMSON TELLS WOMEN

How She Was Helped During Change of Life by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I am just 52 years of age and during Change of Life I suffered for six years terribly. I tried several doctors but none seemed to give me any relief. Every month the pains were intense in both sides, and made me so weak that I had to go to bed. At last a friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me and I tried it at once and found much relief. After that I had no pains at all and could do my housework and shopping the same as always. For years I have praised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for what it has done for me, and shall always recommend it as a woman's friend. You are at liberty to use my letter in any way."—Mrs. THOMSON, 643 W. Russell St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Change of Life is one of the most critical periods of a woman's existence. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to carry women so successfully through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and today holds the record of being the most successful remedy for women's ills known.

STEAMSHIP ZEELAND REACHED NEW YORK AFTER CRASH WITH MISSOURI

NEW YORK, July 23.—The Red Star Line steamship Zealand, which was in collision in mid-ocean with the British freight steamer Missouri last Wednesday, arrived last night with part of the toll on the starboard side smashed in by the bows. The accident occurred in a dense fog about 10.30 o'clock in the forenoon. No one on either vessel was injured.

The Zealand came here from Dover and Antwerp. The Missouri was on her way from Baltimore for London and Antwerp.

The Zealand carried 28 first class and nearly 200 second class passengers. The Zealand had been especially strengthened at the point where the Missouri struck her. Otherwise, according to her captain, J. C. Moller, the Missouri's bow would have cut through the Zealand.

Capt. Moller said he slowed down the Zealand on approaching the fog bank.

"When I saw that the Missouri would not fall to strike us," he said, "I ordered the passengers away from the rails and sounded quarters" although later such precautions were found to be needless, as we were but slightly injured. The impact of the blow sent the Missouri astern and later Capt. Watkins of the freight ship sent word to me by wireless that no assistance was needed as only his ship's bow was injured."

Passengers on the Zealand said several women became hysterical but there was no panic.

Capt. Moller said the Zealand did not leak and that no plates were broken.

THE EUROPEAN SITUATION

Owing to the attitude of Austria towards Serbia the diplomatic relations of most of the great European powers are strained to the breaking point and any day may see the beginning of a war that would be terrible to contemplate. If there is any concerted action against Serbia there is reason to suppose that to some degree Russia, Germany, France and even England and Italy may be drawn into the vortex. The very magnitude of the possibilities must be the greatest factor in keeping about some measure of present calmness in the differences that have passed Austria into open conflict with its smaller neighbor.

Present conditions are simply the culmination of years of animosity between Austria and Serbia and the fruit of selfishly formulated designs on the part of Russia, Germany and the other great powers. For many years Serbia, being weak, has been a pawn in the game of statecraft and her people have outgrown their own territory and have become strong in neighboring states and countries. Austria has watched every indication of Serbian independence jealously, and has only waited for the opportunity to show the people of Serbia that their aspirations cannot be permitted to interfere with the ambitions of her powerful neighbor. The assassination of Archduke Francis Ferdinand gives the opportunity desired and though his death cannot justly be held to Serbia as a nation, it is used as a pretense for the demands of Austria.

Austria has made no attempt to hide the drift of her demands, as voiced in the ultimatum, the terms of which no country could accede to with dignity. Serbia went further than was expected in promising compliance, but Austria is not and will not be satisfied. Behind the external, too, is the factor of racial difference which keeps Serb and Slav in perpetual unrest. Russia is in sympathy with Serbia with which she is racially bound, and incidentally Russia has long been inimical to Austria. On the other hand Germany has openly espoused the cause of Austria, having a common ambition in territorial advancement which Serbia impedes, and Germany may see in the present struggle her long wished for opportunity to open up a path to the sea on the south. By the terms of the Triple Alliance Germany and Italy are bound to help their ally, Austria, and if Russia takes the field against Austria, all Europe may be plunged in a war such as recent times has not known. Russia is generally regarded as holding the key to the situation and on her decision will depend the trend of a world-wide agitation.

If Germany and Italy openly espouse the cause of Austria—and it is by no means improbable that they will—the Triple Entente, that is Russia, England and France, will naturally be expected to oppose Austria and her allies. The hope for a peaceful resolution remains in the desires of all the great powers to keep Serbia distinct, because of the neutrality it affords in a most strategic geographical position. England will not be anxious to take part in the affair, and it is to England that the world will look for suggestions that may open a way out without international strife. The Balkan war has left Southern Europe partially prostrated and a great war would now react disastrously on all of the nations interested. Austria, Russia and England have great international questions awaiting solution, and the welfare of mankind demands a peaceful settlement. Yet it is to be hoped that not even the least country of Europe will suffer any injustice in a game where there is so much selfishness and so little idealism.

REASSURING FACTS

It is very apparent that those who base their observation of national affairs on fact are apt to fight clear of the pessimistic prophecies which announced nothing but ruin under a revised tariff. It will be remembered that when the tariff bill was under discussion its enemies asserted that this country would be flooded with the manufactures of other nations and that labor would be damaged as a consequence. Recently some government figures which seemed to indicate greater imports under the new tariff were garbled and made to appear damaging to the domestic manufacturer, but it has been proved that the increase was merely an increase in foods, due to our poor crops of last year. This type of increase should be a public benefit, if domestic producers were less selfish, and no stretching of facts will prove it to be other than advantageous to the country. Senator Simmons recently read a comparative list of exports and imports in congress which conclusively proves that the tariff did not do any damage to American industry, beyond the temporary damage of readjustment. Following is an extract from his able speech:

Europe since the passage of the tariff bill ending May, 1914, $25,865,665. Imports from Great Britain for 11 months ending May, 1914—this year—$2,530,000.

Imports from Great Britain have fallen off, Great Britain was the country, the great manufacturing center, the home of paper, labor, which, according to protectionist argument, was to protect us with its cheap products, and yet there has been a falling off of more than $2,000,000 of imports from Great Britain during 11 months ending May, 1914, $25,865,665. Exports to Great Britain during 11 months ending May, 1914, $25,865,665, a falling off in our exports to Great Britain of less than $2,000,000.

Here are the figures for all of Europe, embracing the great manufacturing countries of the world; the countries from which we had the most to deal, according to protectionist argument, that were to come upon us like a mighty army and sweep away our factories, to take away the jobs of our laboring men. All of Europe—imports for eleven months ending May, 1914, $25,865,665. Imports from all of Europe for 11 months ending May, 1914, $25,865,665, a falling off of $2,412,000 in imports from all of Europe.

Now, take the exports. Exports to all of Europe for these 11 months, 1914, $25,865,665. For the same 11 months of 1913, exports to all of Europe, $1,566,187,565. Expressed in billions and in millions, there was exactly the same export trade during the 11 months just past and the 11 months of the fiscal year ending June, 1913.

From these figures it appears that our imports from Great Britain for the 11 months ending May, 1914, were $2,530,000 less than for the same months in 1913, and our imports from all of Europe were likewise $2,412,000 less in 1914 than in 1913, while our exports to Europe were almost precisely the same for the same period of time.

Disregarding THE EXPERT
Though our own city has decided in such an important matter as the production of the water supply to be guided by the advice of experts, it is to be feared that expert opinion is not made the basis of much political action throughout the country. Whether it be a matter in which millions of money or only a small amount be involved, self-satisfied officials consult no authority but their own desires and occasionally the desires of self-seeking outsiders. Whether the political scheme be desirable or economical or strictly necessary does not seem to be the leading consideration; it is sufficient that it be popular. The vote is the thing and it is with an eye on the voter that most of our public questions are settled. Unfortunately we reap the reward in higher taxes and a constantly increasing burden of government.

This unsatisfactory attitude is by no means confined to municipal affairs. The "Railway Age Gazette" comments sarcastically and ably on the recent rejection of expert recommendations in sequence by the chairman of the house committee on postoffice and post roads. The recommendations in question had to do with the rate of pay that railroads should receive for handling the parcel post, and naturally the expert committee favored a change that would be more favorable to the roads. But the political body threw down the suggestions of the experts and it is probable that for some time to come the railroads will do work for the government without proper compensation. It is universally acknowledged that the present rate is wholly inadequate.

Realizing the enormous monetary waste in municipal government, many municipalities have gone so far as to create a position of municipal expert or city manager whose duties are to see that the people get the worth of their money. This manager is not swayed by such influences as was plentifully uncovered at a recent municipal hearing but he acts as though the affairs of the municipality were the affairs of a great corporation. All our technical schools turn out experts in manufacture, mining and business, and it is a dream of the future that

HOW OUT-OF-DOOR LIFE AFFECTS BEAUTY

Exposure to sun and wind, dust and the elements, although often acting as a tonic to the system in general, and sometimes heightening the color of the skin, is still very damaging to the refined appearance of the complexion. The open air in itself is good, but the face should always be well protected against the extreme heat, wind and dust. The girls of our acquaintance who live a great deal out of doors by no means have the most beautiful complexions. You can best protect your skin against the elements or beauty if for social life you use a face lotion which you can easily make at home by getting four ounces spermacin from drugist and dissolving it in 1/2 pint of hot water, to which you add 2 teaspoonfuls of glycerine. This lotion is easier to apply than powder, does not rub off, looks like part of the skin, giving a natural velvety bloom while removing oiliness and such are discolorations and raising irritation and pimples.

no important step in city government will be taken without the advice of the political expert. In that day the city will get more for what it pays and the citizens will not be burdened with the various unjustifiable modes of looting the treasury without breaking any law.

POLICE PRECAUTIONS

All cities know only too well that frequently following a tragedy of more or less magnitude, the authorities decide that the perpetrator is of unsound mind and had been so for a long period previously. Lowell had one such case a short time ago and it is probable that another recent murder case will have a similar outcome. In like manner many police courts, epistles, disappearances from home and other sensational news stories have appended the explanation that "somebody" was of unsound mind or had spent some time in an institution. In all of this there is an obvious lesson for the police of all communities. An incident which is somewhat related, and which also has its lesson is the alleged murder confession of a supposedly insane individual to the employees of the Lowell pumping station on Saturday last. No credence is placed in his story and there is little doubt that he was deranged.

Still, it must not be forgotten that he who would invent a story of murder, or who would tell such a story sincerely while irresponsible should not be at large. It is too bad that so many dangerous persons are permitted to remain in the community until some crime reveals their danger to society.

THROWING STONES

From Pittsburgh comes news of an incident that should prove a warning to some of the juveniles of Lowell and to their families. Last Friday two men of foreign nationality were walking in a street of that city when a little boy indulged in the too frequent sport of throwing stones at them. Enraged, they attacked the boy who was defended by sympathizers. In a short time there was a riot in which knives and other weapons were freely used. As a result one man was killed instantly and two were probably injured fatally. The stone throwing boys are to be found in Lowell and many of them indulge in the amusement of throwing stones at foreigners. The foreigners as a rule mind their own business and do not interfere with anybody unless molested. Many of them are outrageously abused and have little redress even when they complain to the police.

SEEN AND HEARD

You can't hit the mark by shooting at your mouth.

"That was an awful break you made the other evening."

"What was?"

"Asking Lieutenant Dopester if he had killed anybody while he was serving in the army."

"What was the matter with that?"

"Didn't you know that he was only attending to the medical corps?"

Jones met his neighbor Smith, who carried a gun in his hand.

"Ben shooting this morning?" asked Jones.

"Yes, I had to kill my dog," answered Smith.

"Why was he mad?" asked Jones.

"Well, said Smith dryly, "he didn't seem to be any too well pleased."

SHE LEARNED SOMETHING
Miss Dixon, a charming society girl, had spent the entire summer in trying to convert the simple country people with whom she was boarding.

"Good-bye, Mr. Duggerell. I hope your visit here hasn't been entirely without good results."

"Smith said," replied the old farmer, "you've learnt a heap since you first came here, but back you went about the greatest one we ever had on our hands."

MARY SOME PINCHER
A teacher in a large city school sent one of her scholars to buy a pound of plums from a fruit vender on the street, and as she handed the little girl a dime, she said:

"Be sure, Mary, before buying the plums to pinch one or two. Just to make sure they are ripe."

In a little while the child returned with flushed cheeks and a triumphant look in her eyes.

Handing the teacher the bag of plums, she placed the dime on the desk and exclaimed:

"I pinched one or two as you told me, and when the man wasn't looking I pinched a bagful."

GREAT ON NANNY
When Uncle Ned, the old colored man who worked about the place, came one morning, Mrs. Stone said:

"Well, Uncle Ned, I hear you have another pair of twins at your house."

"Yess, missus," responded the man, "we has, bress dey little hearts!"

"Where you named 'em, yet?" asked the woman.

"Yess," said Ned, "Dona name 'em affish two ob de fust presidents ob dis country."

"Indeed!" said Mrs. Stone, "which two?"

"Ole Christofo Columbus an' Jule-yous Caesar," said the man. "We'se great ob namin' for de presidents ob our house," National Monthly.

Luke McLuke says:
When a man feels like whipping his wife and she don't like to brag about his strong will power.

What has become of the old-fashioned man who took snuff and blew it through his nose on a red handkerchief?

If your wife is fairly good looking and knows how to cook, don't holler because she can't discuss Ibsen with you. Soul mates are all very fine, but they make poor wives.

We have seen a lot of valuable documents in our time. But nothing else ever equalled in importance the papers the villain used to steal in the melodramas when we were a boy.

Some people seem to imagine that a newspaper man's sole occupation is keeping it out of the paper.

What has become of the old-fashioned school boy who used to come home with a black eye?

Lots of men who can stand around and solve the problems that beset the nation have an awful time trying to frame up some way to meet the grocery bill.

There was a time when married women felt sorry for old maids. We said there was a time.

A well-known poet and benedict is accredited with a bon mot. A lady the other day said to him:

"O, Mr. —, I have just seen your wife for the first time since your marriage. But I had supposed that she was a taller woman. The remains shorter than when I last saw her."

"Certainly," replied the poet, solemnly. "She has married and settled down you know."

COUNTRYSIDE ATTRACTIONS
There are beauties in the country which we have not our feet stir. When we leave the thrashing city on the clanging trolley car.

On the hillside where the verdure is adorned in garb of spring, lengthy billboards are proclaiming: Prinkles pills are just the thing!

When the meadow-lands are blooming and the peaceful cattle graze, there are wonderful attractions which will give health to our eyes.

Where the sunlight filters softly and the brooklet trills a song, Mother's milk will make you strong!

Where the hills in rugged splendor tower up to the sky, Is a mass of rainbow color haunted to the passer-by.

As the trolley swiftly bears us o'er the clinking rails, we read In tremendous headlines thrilly: Fatall's food is what you need!

Any place you chance to travel—north or south or east or west, In the landscape all embellished and in dancing order dressed;

Where Dame Nature's fate attractions seem the sweetest, we are told In artistic English letters: Sickums' blue will always hold!

Yonder are the snow-capped mountains and we gaze upon the scene, Till a billboard bids our vision stand steadily between.

As we murmur imitations and we growl and softly swear, This we read in catchy terseness: Shootum's shots will never tear!

COST OF WAR
One of the most widely prevalent of all errors is the notion that a war between two great powers is of immense advantage to the neutral nation, which "can sell to both of them."

In the familiar phrase, and of course, the groups of powers set the world aflame, so much the better for a neutral country, like ourselves. In such a conflict as that now threatened.

No theory falls more promptly under a little examination. A war is a terrible consumer of the capital of the world, or of the stored product of its labor, and the reservoir in which accumulates is essentially international; the reasons behind cur-

JULY FLOWERS
Elderberry blossoms rising above the other, a foam-white fountain of bloom springing from the green basin of the hollow under the bank, are a proof of Nature's occasional extravagance in decoration. As if it were not enough to have them to have all that show of the meadow rue heaped in great feathery drifts against the green of the chickadee—not to mention the white stars of the daisy, a little burst of the heat, but still trailing off in a brave procession far down the winding roadway.—Lewiston Sun.

THE AGE QUESTION
Now that women suffrage is coming to the front so rapidly, the question often arises as to why there is so small a registration of women where they are permitted to vote. One answer is that a great many women object to giving their ages. The attorney general of Kansas gets around the difficulty by saying that an election official will be exempt from just criticism if he assures himself that the lady is 21 years old and upward. He reminds the officials that registration of voters is only to prevent frauds, and not to give some official factotum the right to embarrass the new voters with irrelevant questions.—Lynn Item.

THE COLONEL AND BARNES
The colonel has been running amuck of late, attacking politicians who are at variance with him savagely, right and left. As a rule they are a very thick skinned class of people and not very sensitive to abuse, or to being slandered. Hence it is usually recorded as quite safe to say what one pleases about them. It seems, however, that Boss Barnes feels that the irrepressible Teddy has gone beyond the mark in calling him a liar, and has consequently sued him for libel. Now will he be good.—Fall River Globe.

MRS. CARMAN IS ILL
RETURNS HOME AFTER TRIP TO PENNSYLVANIA—DOCTOR SAYS WIFE IS NEAR BREAKDOWN
FREEPORT, L. I., July 25.—Mrs. Florence C. Carman, under indictment for manslaughter in the death of Mrs. Lulu D. Bailey of Hempstead, returned yesterday with her husband and daughter Elizabeth from Longmeadow, Pa., where she had been lying after being released from Mineola jail in $20,000 bail.

Mrs. Carman's features show the terrible strain she has been under the last four weeks. Deep lines are visible in her cheeks and her hair is grayer. She had to be assisted from the automobile by Dr. Carman and Mrs. Ida Powell, her sister.

Platt Conklin, the accused woman's aged father, stood at the door of their pretty home to welcome Mrs. Carman. Father and daughter embraced affectionately and walked arm in arm into the house.

The news of Mrs. Carman's homecoming caused a crowd to collect, and 12 automobiles filled with curiosity seekers pulled up to look at the now famous "murder window" in the Carman house.

Dr. Carman said to interviewers: "This being instantly started at is driving her crazy. At Longmeadow people used to come and gaze in at the window. She is a sensitive woman, and this ordeal is killing her."

"She is in a pitiful state, and is on the edge of a complete nervous breakdown. We went away for a rest, but we have been hounded and followed every minute since we left here. This talk by the officials that there was a 38-caliber revolver in this house previous to the shooting is nonsense. No such weapon was here, and the box of 38-caliber bullets which I turned over to the police was so covered with dust that it must have lain in the garret for years."

We are not afraid of a new indictment charging murder in the first degree, for there is no evidence to warrant such a finding. In fact, the pending indictment for manslaughter is a horrible injustice.

The Coleman girl and the alleged tramp, Farrell, are simply the tools of the Burns detectives, and Burns is responsible for the newest revolver story."

Dr. Carman also announced that he would resume his practice at once, and that conferences with Mrs. Carman, counsel John J. Graham and George M. Levy, preliminary to preparing a defense, would begin today.

GRAY BUYS MATTY ZIESER IN POLICE COURT

Lowell's Pitching Mainstay of Last Season Returns to This City

Hero of Post-Season Series With Hartford Expected Tomorrow

"MATTY" ZIESER

The glad news was received in local baseball circles this morning that Matty Zieser, dear to the hearts of the local fans on account of his wonderful pitching in this city during the past two years, is coming back to Lowell and very soon at that. In fact, it is thought that Matty will arrive in town tomorrow.

Manager Gray has been dicker with the Red Sox for the return of his "old reliable" for the past three weeks but the deal was uncompleted up to this morning. Evidently Manager Bill Carrigan decided that his pitching staff was in excellent shape for the pennant hunt and determined to sell Zieser. Anyhow, Matty is now on his way to Lowell and will wear a local uniform for the remainder of the New England league season.

It is almost needless to recall the great box work which Zieser performed for Lowell last season for the fans are well acquainted with the Chicago Dutchman's record. It was Zieser's pitching which proved the greatest factor in the post-season series as well as in bringing home the pennant. It is a cinch Matty will be given an ovation when he takes the mound for the first time.

ATHLETES AND ATHLETICS

Well, we're up another notch. Now to pull down Lynn and jump into that first division.

It looks as though Burke had found his bat all right. His three bingles yesterday cheered the heart of Jimmy Gray as nothing else could have done.

Once more both the Red Sox and the Athletics won. It was Connie Mack's fifth consecutive win. Dutch Leonard shut out the Naps 2-0 in an errorless game.

All that is necessary is to touch every base. If the runner touched first base when he ran over it that is all that is required in matter which was the turned after passing the bag.

Frank McPherson and Billy "it" McMahon played errorless ball and worked very well together. It is said the Terry McPherson of the Lowell club is after the services of McPherson.

Tris Speaker had another busy day. Eight putouts was his record in the field, with one assist, and the bat he used yesterday landed on the ball for a triple and a brace of doubles out of three trips to the plate.

Shorten, the sensational Worcester outfielder, has at last jumped into the lead in the fight for first place among New England league sluggers. Shorten has an average this week of .314.

The team in Manchester, however, will have to cheer signs of life. Though Manchester has always been known as a good sporter, the New Hampshire fans will not support a steady loser.

Those who went out to Spaulding park yesterday saw one good ball game. It was tip and tuck all the way through but Lohman held the visitors in the hollow of his hand when they tried to overcome the locals' run lead.

Tomorrow the local team journeys to Lawrence and a special car will be sent down river to accommodate the fans from this city. The last time that the two clubs met in Lawrence nearly half of the spectators were from Lowell.

Sporting Editor: On a ball hit to the infield a batter runs over first base and then turns to his right only to find that an overthrow has been made to the first baseman. Must the runner touch first base before continuing on to second?—A. F.

Sheehan got a good start. The triple scored DeGroot and started the run-getting. Sheehan looked rather awkward around the second sack although he scratched everything that came his way. The new infielder is really a shortstop and it will take a few games to accustom him to his new berth.

Lawrence now has a four game lead over Worcester. The game in the down river city yesterday between the two leaders proved a hard fought struggle with Lawrence hitting the ball harder and oftener. Lawrence will have to take a decided slump for either Worcester or Portland to pick up the leadership now.

Thompson of Lawrence is the logical leader of the circuit's pitchers although several heavyweights who have worked in a few games lead him. Thompson and Greenidge are the only Lowell batters who are hitting over the .300 mark. Weaver still leads the local twirlers. Stimpson is hitting for .322 and Greenidge for .317.

Dave Caldwell, the ter-collegiate half-mile champion, will be one of the prominent figures at the Caledonian games next Saturday. Caldwell is the middle distance crack who broke John Paul Jones' record last spring. Jimmy Duffy who ran in this city last Memorial day, will compete in the pole-mile run at the same games.

The shift to Manchester of the Fitchburg franchise ought to help out the New England gate receipts to a big extent. Manchester has been without baseball for so long that the fans up that way are well nigh starved for a sight of two league teams battling. It is the best move that has been made in the league this season, we think.

Our old friend, Jake Boules is making good at Bridgeport and is a strong contender for the pennant. New London and Waterbury are ahead of Bridgeport in the standing at present, but Jake's team is coming right along. The Lowell team never had a harder working or more conscientious player than the same Jake.

Speaking of Jake Boules, Saturday's Springfield Union says:

Manager Jake Boules of the Bridgeport club has complained to President Wednesday's double header in Pittsfield between Bridgeport and Pittsfield. Boules claims Keenan put him out of the field before the second game resumption. Keenan, on the other hand, reported to Boules that the play had been called for the second game.

Boules has another kick against

Keenan in that the umpire allowed interference by Ruffalo on Senno, when he was rounding third in the 11th inning of the first game. Keenan has he will investigate the complaint.

Minor Cases Before the Court—Woman Threw Stone Into Station

John Miller and Ella M. Sullivan were arraigned in the local court today on two complaints charging them with unlawfully occupying a camp in the city and a statutory offence. The case went to trial under plea of not guilty and as the government failed to submit sufficient evidence, both were discharged.

The complainant in the case was Marie Lavele, owner of the camp. She and several witnesses claimed that the two defendants spent considerable time in and about the camp during the past few days and as a result Officer Keenan was summoned to arrest them. The judge found no evidence on which to hold the defendants on such a serious charge.

Another chapter in the theft and disposal of a copper boiler valued at $50, the property of Edward Cawley, was revealed today when Joseph Buzarsky was charged with receiving stolen property from James Harrison and John Lavery. Mr. Cawley testified that the boiler was taken from his building on Church street, and the two boys were called to identify the man to whom they sold it. However, it seems that a settlement is on the way and the case was continued for one month.

Autofel Fined Charles Lefebvre will undoubtedly stop his automobile the next time he is haled by a police officer. According to Patrolman O'Sullivan, Lefebvre did not sound his horn when he turned the corner of Alken and Hill streets yesterday, and so the officer attempted to stop him to give him a warning. However, Lefebvre put on his speed and hence his appearance in court this forenoon. He was fined $5 and warned not to let the matter occur again.

Larceny Charge Ernest Turner entered a plea of guilty to a complaint charging him with the larceny of a gold watch, chain and chain, all valued at $12, from one Joseph Moore. The case was continued until tomorrow for sentence.

Patrolman O'Sullivan and Sergeant Duncan were called to a house on Charles street early last evening where it is alleged that a fight took place between two men. As a result James was arraigned in court today, accused of drunkenness. The police officers testified that upon entering the house they found the defendant swinging a huge club with which he threatened anybody who came near him. The defendant's son testified that his father was intoxicated last evening and was causing a disturbance in their home. Smith asked for an opportunity to take the pledge but his honor opined that a 15 days stay at the Lowell jail would do considerable good. He appealed.

Non-support of his wife, Matilda, was the charge preferred against Joseph Landry, a young man of rather neat appearance. The complainant said that she had been unlawfully neglected of late and her husband had refused to work. The husband said he had been ill. The case was continued two weeks.

In police court today, George E. Hancos was complained of by his wife for drunkenness. Mrs. Hancos testified that George had been leading a very unsteady life of late and that she did not care to have him around her household. The witness said that the defendant recently entered her house and took a gold watch which he pawned in a local pawnshop. Hancos was committed to the Lowell jail for three months.

Stephen Hobbie pleaded not guilty to assault and battery upon John Santos and had his case continued until tomorrow for trial. James Morrison was asked to pay a fine of two dollars for keeping an unlicensed dog.

Thomas O'Laughlin was accused of being drunk on two successive days. It seems that he was arrested on July 27 and after being haled out was arrested again.

O'Laughlin pleaded guilty to both complaints and was fined $10.

Kathleen McPherson failed to keep her promise to remain quiet and was sent to jail for three months. Three first offenders were released. While two $5 fines were imposed.

Three Stone Into Station Elizabeth Riley was arrested on the sidewalk in front of the police station about 9:45 o'clock this forenoon after she had thrown a heavy stone through a window into the office occupied by Deputy Downey. What the woman's grievance was is not known.

The woman had been on previous occasions charged with drunkenness and is well known at the station. Witnesses say that Mrs. Riley walked in front of the window and after taking a large stone from under her coat, threw it at the window. The stone smashed the window and also went through a linen curtain, landing in the centre of the office.

The woman's action cannot be understood unless she wanted to be arrested.

FITCHBURG BALL CLUB GOES TO MANCHESTER

MANCHESTER, N. H., July 28.—The franchise of the Fitchburg, New England league has been transferred to this city. The club will open here tomorrow against the Lynn team at Textile field. Arrangements have now been made to play double-headers on Saturday so the local manufacturer's league can complete its schedule. The Red Sox are to play here Aug. 17 and the Athletics on Sept. 2, and Washington on October 7.

SALEM BUILDING RULES

Precautionary Plans Against Another Conflagration—Fireproofing of Roofs Ordered

BOSTON, July 28.—Precautionary plans against another conflagration in Salem were adopted yesterday by the rebuilding commission, to the effect that no wooden buildings more than two and one-half stories high may be erected in the fire district, and that buildings of even this height must have armored roofs, metal cornices and gutters and eaves that are well protected from fire hazard.

The commission held an all-day session at city hall, discussing plans for making the new Salem a better, busier and more fireproof city. There was a warm debate over the building of new fire houses and a school in the destroyed district, but nothing was decided.

Permission was granted to allow a temporary roof to be constructed over the standing walls of the St. Joseph's church on Lafayette street. If the fire inspectors declare the walls of the building safe, the parochial school will be opened on the street floor of the edifice. Temporary church services will be held in the basement.

Edward W. Longley, a member of the commission, stated yesterday that the work of rebuilding would be hastened as much as possible. Plans for the widening of Shaw boulevard, which runs along the water front, and of Derby street have been decided upon.

he said. The commission also plans to commence the work of repairing the streets and sidewalks immediately.

The food supply depot at the army was discontinued yesterday. The Forest River park refugee camp will be kept some time. A new system of supply distribution was installed and food, clothing, etc., given out in the future will be given through vouchers. Nearly 600 still remain at the refugee camp.

Over half of the people who were made homeless by the fire are now employed, according to the statement of the employment bureau. All of the skilled men who were out of work have positions. Only about 450 untrained help remain to be placed.

The city will provide work for many men when the burned district is cleared up. The men will dig sewers, clear out the burned trees and repair sidewalks and streets. Between 30 and 40 men are placed daily by the employment bureau.

Tomorrow morning an exhibition of fireproof building material will be opened by the chamber of commerce in the army. The chamber hopes in this way to encourage many to build a greater share of the 60 factories and 2500 homes to be replaced out of non-combustible substances.

Scores of companies will have space at the exhibit. Those showing their products will pay rent. The money obtained will go for the expense of the project and all funds remaining will help swell the relief fund.

DUBLIN RIOT CHANGES PLANS FOR HOME RULE

LONDON, July 28.—The first effect of the Dublin tragedy has been to smash Dr. Asquith's plans for taking up the amending bill today. The premier announced yesterday that the matter had been indefinitely postponed. The Irish members are so exasperated over the killing of four persons and the wounding of many others in the clash between the regular troops and the nationalist volunteers that they are in no frame of mind to grant any concessions to Ulster. The liberties and many liberals support them.

The government announced in the house of commons yesterday that Deputy Police Commissioner Harrell, who ordered out the troops, had been suspended and that his superior, Commissioner Sir John Ross, who expressed a desire to share the responsibility, had resigned his office.

A special inquiry will be held, probably by a judicial commission. In the meantime the demand for the removal of the Scottish borderers from Dublin has not been granted, largely because an attempt to march them out would be the signal for attacks by the mobs. They will remain prisoners in barracks until the anger of the people has cooled.

The nationalist members of parliament held a meeting yesterday afternoon and showed more ardor against the cause than the government. They consider Victor Agnew's official family prejudice against the nationalist.

A heated discussion was started in the house of commons by John Redmond, the nationalist leader, who demanded an impartial inquiry into the conduct of the troops and their punishment if the shooting was not justified. He demanded also that the regiment should be removed from Ireland, that the proclamation against the importation of arms into Ireland should be withdrawn because it constituted a serious danger and that the law be administered impartially.

He called for the suspension of Sir John Ross, the police commissioner of Dublin, and said: "We had an experience of him in the Larkfield riots. He is unfit to hold his office. He is a well-known politician and a man of no account."

A Redmond compared "this monstrous business" with the parole of armed volunteers in Belfast. "To such a state of impotence has the British government been reduced in Ireland," he said, "that a subordinate official is able to call in soldiers without consulting the executive of the country."

He expressed the hope that the Irish people would not blame the troops too much, and concluded with a great cheer.

"Four-fifths of the Irish people will not submit any longer to be bullied and punished for conduct which is allowed to go scot free in Ulster by another section of their fellow countrymen."

MORE RIOTING IN DUBLIN DUBLIN, July 28.—Rioting broke out again last night but subsided without serious results.

The rumor went about that the Scottish borderers, who did the killing yesterday, would entrain at the Ardara street station. A great crowd, for the most part from the slums, surrounded the station and amused themselves by stoning the street.

Six hundred volunteers paraded through the streets a crowd of 400 following them, marching in step and singing.

Feeling runs high throughout nationalist Ireland. Town councils are adopting resolutions denouncing "the massacre".

The soldiers of the Limerick and Kilkenny garrisons are confined to barracks and concerts by military bands in several towns have been cancelled.

The Lord Mayor of Dublin has called a meeting of the magistrates to consider the action of the castle authorities in calling out the police and soldiers without consulting the city officials.

The police threaten a strike unless those members of the department who were dismissed for disobedience of orders are reinstated.

It is announced here that Sir John Ross, the police commissioner, resigned as a protest against the suspension of Deputy Commissioner Harrell. The nationalists are delighted, as Commissioner Ross was unpopular.

MR. DELARONDE INJURED Charles D. Delaronde, father of Gias A. Delaronde of the A. G. Pollard Co., returned yesterday from a seven-months' stay at Holyoke, where he was the guest of relatives. Mr. Delaronde, who is 72 years of age, suffered a bad accident on his return trip, which will keep him confined to his home for some time. He is alleged to have fallen from a platform, injuring his head badly. He was given first aid and then traveled back to Lowell, arriving at his son's summer home at Willow Dale in a very exhausted condition. This morning, however, he was reported as resting comfortably.

AN APPEAL FOR $300,000

From Wealthy Friends in This Country in Aid of Irish Volunteers and Home Rule

PHILADELPHIA, July 28.—Following is the text of the appeal issued yesterday by Michael J. Ryan, president of the United Irish League of America: "To Americans of Irish blood or birth:

"John E. Redmond, chairman of the Irish parliamentary party and head of the Irish National Volunteers, has appealed to me, as president of the United Irish League of America, to Americans of Irish blood or birth, for aid to the defenseless people of Ireland.

"All sincere men had hoped that it would not be necessary to employ force but now we see the army arrayed against the law, and massacring those who stand for respect to the will of the majority and constituted authority.

"For years 'gun-running' by the so-called unionists of a part of Ulster has been permitted without obstruction. If a small minority of the people have the right to arm themselves, it ought not be denied the overwhelming majority, such as the nationalists of Ireland are.

Speedy Action Required "It is, however, useless to debate. Speedy action is now required by all who profess sympathy with the cause of human liberty. Money is needed, and money will be most effective by being placed in the hands of Mr. Redmond at once.

"There are vast numbers of the Irish race in the United States who are possessed of great wealth, and speaking for Mr. Redmond to these I now turn and make a personal appeal.

"I ask 100 Americans to each give $100.
"I ask 200 Americans to each give $50.
"I ask 1000 Americans to each give $100.
"These three divisions will aggregate $200,000.

"There ought to be at least this small number of men in all the cities and towns of the 48 states of the American Union to make up this honor roll.

Text for the Race "This is the moment for action, and our race is put to the test. I request all subscriptions to be sent to Thomas B. Fitzpatrick, national treasurer, 100 Kingston street, Boston, Mass.; or if men prefer it, they may remit directly to John E. Redmond, care of the house at 1000 Broadway, New York City.

MUSICIANS' OUTING The members of the local Musicians' union are making arrangements for their annual outing which will be held sometime next month. This is an event that is long looked forward to by the musicians and last year's affair was so successful that all are deeply interested to make the 1914 outing a banner one in the history of the organization. The outing last year was conducted at Nahant, N. H. and was largely attended, many sisters coming from out-of-town. This year the place has not yet been selected, but it is probable that Nahant will again be the choice of the committee. The affair is in the hands of the entertainment committee consisting of the following: William Regan, William E. Vin, James C. Usher, Charles B. Thompson and Z. T. Bissonette.

AID FROM MANCHESTER

IRISH SOCIETIES FORM ALLIANCE TO FURTHER THE IRISH HOME RULE

MANCHESTER, N. H., July 28.—Twelve of the leading Irish societies of this city last night formed what is to be known as the Manchester Home Rule Alliance and, at a public mass meeting Friday night, to be held in A. O. H. hall, will permanently organize to aid the cause of home rule in Ireland.

The Irish-American citizens of this city have been aroused by the Dublin "massacre" and plan to inaugurate a movement in this city that will carry its influence throughout the cities and towns of the state.

At the mass meeting on Friday night a statement will be issued to the citizens of the state urging that they cooperate with the movement of the nationalists of Ireland in their efforts for home rule, and that they recognize it as a movement in behalf of right and justice.

The Irish societies of the city plan to give the home rule movement practical aid and will take such steps as will tend to further the plans of John Redmond, leader of the home rule cause in the house of commons and the national volunteer movement.

The outing last year was conducted at Nahant, N. H. and was largely attended, many sisters coming from out-of-town. This year the place has not yet been selected, but it is probable that Nahant will again be the choice of the committee. The affair is in the hands of the entertainment committee consisting of the following: William Regan, William E. Vin, James C. Usher, Charles B. Thompson and Z. T. Bissonette.

DECLINES AT OPENING

UNSETTLEMENT DUE TO CONDITIONS ABROAD—AVANCE OF SELLING IN LAST HOUR

NEW YORK, July 28.—Further unsettlement occurred in the stock market today as a result of feverish conditions abroad. London's range for Americans was from two to almost three points under yesterday's close. Declines here were slightly less severe. Canadian Pacific, Smelting, Republic Steel and American Car losing from 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 points, while Erie, Southern Railroad, Southern Valley, New Haven, St. Paul, Lehigh Valley, United States Steel, Bethlehem Steel and Amal, were off a point each. Trading had little of yesterday's activity but continuance of paid exports called renewed attention to the foreign situation.

The list registered further declines in the second hour, many important issues falling under yesterday's low while not a few of the better class, including Canadian Pacific and Baltimore & Ohio, broke to lower quotations recorded in years. The deliberate decline was attended by cables from various European centres intimating that Austria intended to occupy the Servian capital.

Foreign exchange was again subject to violent fluctuations as a result of the heavy gold outflow, which was increased by additional large shipments to London. Posted rates were only nominal as many bankers and institutions declined to buy or sell exchanges at all.

Stocks were unloaded on an increasing scale when Austria's war declaration became known. Blocks of from 1000 to 2000 shares changed hands and the whole market bent under the weight of the enormous offerings. International shares were forced down violently.

An avalanche of selling, largely foreign, overtook the market in the last hour, creating a condition little short of complete demoralization. Canadian Pacific fell until its loss reached a fraction less than 20 points. All the other investment stocks yielded from four to six points. There were occasional rallies, but the support accorded was largely sufficient to prevent the weight of the offerings, which continued to the end.

Austria's declaration of war against Servia provoked a convulsive upheaval in this market, leading stocks showing maximum declines of five to 20 points, Canadian Pacific being the chief sufferer. The closing was extremely weak.

A. O. H. DELEGATES RETURN

From the Convention at Norfolk, Va.—Report it Most Successful Ever Held

The Lowell delegates to the A. O. H. convention at Norfolk, Va., returned home today. They were Rev. John P. Flynn, O. M. L., James O'Sullivan, P. J. McCann, Patrick W. Moran and John J. Murphy. They report the convention to be the best ever held by the order in point of action, enthusiasm and numbers.

The order placed itself on a strong platform in favor of the home rule cause and in support of the Irish Volunteers, and this particular feature aroused more enthusiasm than any other in the convention.

James O'Sullivan took a prominent part in the work of the convention, serving on the most important committees and making several speeches that won great applause.

Hon. Bourke Cockran made one of the greatest speeches of his life and it was applauded to the echo.

Among the other great orators were Archbishop O'Connell of Richmond, Va., and Rev. Fr. Fitzgerald, state chaplain of Clinton, Mass.

Among the delegates was Rev. James Quinn, O. M. L., of Texas, Rev. Fr. Hickley, Rev. Fr. Sherry, O. M. L., of Ottawa University, Rev. Charles McCarthy, O. M. L., of this city was a guest at the convention and enjoyed the proceedings very much.

The general verdict of all who attended, and they numbered about 700, was that this convention was the most enthusiastic and successful ever held by the order.

A cablegram of sympathy and pledge of support was sent to John Redmond, voicing the sentiment of the convention.

Mayor Curley of Boston was a guest at the banquet in the evening and electrified the audience by his eloquence.

FOR PEACE CONFERENCE

TAMPICO, Mexico, July 27, via Laredo, Texas, July 28.—Upon receipt of official information here today that Provisional President Carranza will send two delegates immediately to Saltillo to arrange the transfer of executive authority of Mexico to the constitutionalists, Carranza announced he would leave tomorrow for Monterrey.

It was announced Carranza would not select a commission but would conduct his own negotiations with the Carralists, who were expected to reach Saltillo about the same time Carranza does.

U. S. STEEL DIVIDEND

NEW YORK, July 28.—The United States Steel Corporation today declared its regular quarterly dividend of 1 1/2 per cent on the common stock and 1 1/2 per cent on the preferred.

BALL PLAYERS FINED

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., July 28.—Fines of $2 and costs each were imposed upon eight members of the Bridgeport club of the Eastern association in the city court today for violation of the Sunday observance law in playing a game on Sunday, May 17. Judge Coughlin in passing sentence said he did not consider Sunday baseball playing a crime, but under the statutes he would have to find the accused guilty.

I. W. W. LEADER JAILED

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., July 28.—Charles Plunkett, one of the nine leaders of the I. W. W. arrested here a month ago while holding meetings to denounce John D. Rockefeller, Jr., for his refusal to interfere in the Colorado mine strike, was sentenced to two months in the penitentiary after a trial before Judge Moorehouse. Plunkett was charged with inciting to riot.

RUSSIA'S FAMOUS COSSACKS ON MARCH; THE
THE CZAR AND KING GEORGE OF ENGLAND

The danger of a general European war rests with Russia and England. If the czar decides to send his Cossacks and other troops against Austria and her allies in case war is declared England will back him up with her enormous navy, the greatest in the world. Germany will not likely make a move until she knows what Russia and England will do. England has troubles of her own at home with Ulster, and it is thought King George would hesitate long before he ordered his ships to make a hostile move.

THE MEXICAN SITUATION

REPORT THAT DIAZ AND HUERTA PLAN COUNTER REVOLUTION IS DENIED

WASHINGTON, July 28.—Joseph Castellot, personal representative here of Provisional President Carranza, today emphatically denied published reports from Toronto that Gen. Felix Diaz was exporting Gen. Huerta there to plan a counter revolution in Mexico. The report, said Mr. Castellot, is attributed to Luis Elguero, one of the delegates to the Niagara conference and the best proof of its falsity is the fact that Mr. Elguero is now in Europe and has not been heard from for several weeks.

In any case, however, he would never have said anything so absurd.

Mr. Castellot declared satisfactory progress toward a peaceful settlement with Carranza was being made.

The only disturbing factor in the general situation from the viewpoint of administration officials was the decree by Gen. Antonio Villarreal expelling foreign priests from the state of Nuevo Leon, of which he is military governor and restricting the activity of the Catholic church. The Washington government some time ago began cooperation with Carranza of the church question, hoping to mollify the attitude of the constitutionalists. Discrepancies are now expected to be resolved.

TAKEN FROM CELL

Becky Edelson, Anarchist, Weak From Hunger Strike, Taken to Tarrytown

NEW YORK, July 28.—Becky Edelson, faint from more than a week's fast, broken intermittently by taking small quantities of food surreptitiously, was taken to Tarrytown today from her cell in the workhouse. Mrs. Edelson had declared to serve a three months sentence rather than furnish a $500 bond to keep the peace. She was thin and pale and her condition was considered sufficiently serious to warrant sending a workhouse doctor with her.

Mrs. Edelson's trip to Tarrytown was in defiance to a writ of habeas corpus requiring her presence in court there as a witness in the trial of nine of her associates in the Industrial Workers of the World.

WENT OVER EMBANKMENT

Occupants of Auto Badly Injured When Machine Dropped About Forty Feet

FALL RIVER, July 28.—While motoring from Taunton to their summer home at Tiverton, R. I., last night Mrs. Edward E. Whitmarsh, her sister-in-law Ellen E. Whitmarsh and William Andrews of Tiverton were seriously injured when their machine went over the side of a 40-foot embankment on Belger marsh road in Tiverton. Andrews suffered a fracture of the collarbone and Mrs. Whitmarsh and Miss Whitmarsh were badly shaken up.

CHARGE OF SWINDLING

Nestor Wilmarth, Belgian Banker, Sentenced to 10 Years and Fined $500 in Brussels

BRUSSELS, July 28.—Nestor Wilmarth, Belgian banker, railroad man, newspaper proprietor and sportsman, was sentenced today to ten years' imprisonment and $500 fine on a charge of swindling the public out of $2,100,000 by over-issuing shares in the Ghent-Brussels railway in 1912.

Five accomplices also were sentenced.

The railway is the only privately owned line in Belgium, and the operations of Wilmarth and his associates played a number of small tricks in difficulties. He disappeared in 1902 and after a world-wide search was arrested at Rheims, France.

WESTMINSTER DUCHESS

TO SEE THE INTERNATIONAL CUP RACES FROM SIR THOMAS LIPTON'S BOAT

DUCHESS OF WESTMINSTER

LONDON, July 28.—The duchess of Westminster will be in the party of Sir Thomas Lipton when he sails for New York, Aug. 27, to witness the tacking of the Britannia IV, his challenger, for the America's cup. Her grace is immensely interested in the race and will watch it with the eye of a sailor, having handled large boats and having been skipper in many a brush with yachts. She was born on the shore of the Solent, and her experience with sailboats covered the period of her girlhood and has since been extended whenever circumstances permitted.

The trip follows a new settlement with the duke, which increases the duchess' allowance from $10,000 to $50,000 a year.

MUNICIPAL COUNCIL

here of the council state that they have not yet assimilated the evidence in the case.

Mayor Murphy called to order at 11:50 with all members present. The mayor read the petition of Daniel M. Leary for a permit to keep gasoline in Howe street.

William D. Recan, Esq., appeared for the petitioner and the matter was referred to Commissioner Carmichael as was also like petitions by Wilfred Blochin and E. Martel.

Several petitions for pole locations on city attachments were properly referred.

Weight of Cotton

The appointment of James J. Walsh as a cotton weigher for the Massachusetts mills was granted.

Win A. Arnold was appointed constable to serve civil processes.

Petitions for sewers by Samuel Tompkins and others were referred to the commissioner of streets and highways and orders for sidewalks in Marion street were adopted.

Drowned in Hale's Brook

The mayor read a communication from Harry Andrews, administrator for the estate of Martin Andrews, who lost his life by falling into Hale's brook on March 31, 1914. The communication was in the form of a claim for loss of life. It being maintained that the bridge across the brook should have been closed by the city as it was not a public way. The matter was referred to the law department.

John Donnelly Again

Mayor Snaps Cows

Mayor Murphy requested permission to exchange six cows for five, the exchange to be made with a man in Chelmsford. The mayor explained that the six cows belonging to the city are old and have outgrown their usefulness as milk producers, while the five cows to be received in exchange are young. The authority to make the exchange was granted.

Outfit for Farm

A contract with Mansfield & Witham for outfit for the Chelmsford street hospital at $1.50 per 100 pounds was approved and the order adopted.

Changed His Mind

At the last meeting of the council a petition for a gasoline license, Mr. B. French, was given leave to withdraw, and today Commissioner Donnelly asked that the council rescind its action and that the petition be granted. It was so voted.

An order introduced by Commissioner Brown providing for the payment of city bills of the first day of the month instead of on the fifteenth day of the month, for the purpose of simplifying the bookkeeping, was adopted.

Wants Street Sealer

An order presented by Commissioner Morse for the purchase of a Buffalo Ditts improved sealer, with an extra set of ten teeth, was presented and adopted. The sealer to be purchased through the purchasing agent.

Mr. Morse explained that the sealer would do the work of several men and that Lowell should have had one years ago.

Waiting Decennial Census

The following communication from the chief of the state bureau of labor and statistics was received and placed on file:

Boston, July 21, 1914.

To the Mayor and City Council, Lowell, Mass.: I beg to call your attention to the provisions of section 3, chapter 322, acts of the year 1914, being an act to amend the act relating to the decennial census. This section reads as follows:

"Upon the petition of a city government of any city filed with the director of the bureau of statistics prior to the first day of January in the year 1915 for an enumeration of the city in such manner as to show the number of inhabitants and legal voters in each street, square or avenue, or in such blocks or squares of the city as may be designated, and specifying the details with which it is desired that the results thereof shall be tabulated, the enumeration shall be made, provided that the director is able to procure such maps or plans as may be necessary for this purpose. The tabulations herein provided for shall be limited to such inquiries as appear upon the regular schedules for the census of population provided for in section 1 of this act, and upon the completion of the tabulations as aforesaid made for any city under the provisions of this section, the director shall issue his warrant as provided in section 24 of part 1 of chapter 450 of the acts of the year 1909, requiring the assessors of the cities concerned to assess a tax to the amount of such expense, and the said amount shall be collected and paid over to the treasurer and receiver general in the same manner as other state taxes. A copy of any tabulations made in accordance with this section, shall, as soon as possible thereafter, be filed by the director of the bureau of statistics with the city clerk of the city for which they were prepared."

SERVIANS READY TO DIE TO LAST MAN AS EUROPE SITS ON THE EDGE OF A TERRIBLE WAR VOLCANO

1-SERVIAN INFANTRY 2-EMPEROR FRANCIS JOSEPH 3-CZAR OF RUSSIA 4-CROWN PRINCE ALEXANDER OF SERBIA

Serbia was prepared to smother her last soldier, regular or reservist, in her difficulty with Austria. Though possessing only a small standing army—32,000 in time of peace and 240,000 in time of war—it was apparently certain that Russia would hasten to her aid and that thus Europe might be involved in a general war. Crown Prince Alexander, who has been really the ruler of Serbia since his father, King Peter, dropped the active reins of government, planned to lead his troops in person. The aged Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria took active charge of the situation as far as his country was concerned.

EXTRADITION POSTPONED

Joseph J. Duddy, Alleged Accomplice, Wanted in West Virginia Is Also Wanted in Boston

BOSTON, July 28.—A hearing on the question of extradition to West Virginia of Joseph J. Duddy, an alleged accomplice of Lawrence Robinson, who killed Police Inspector Norton while resisting arrest and subsequently committed suicide in jail, was held before Attorney General Boynton today. By agreement of counsel, extradition was postponed until after Aug. 1, when Duddy is to be tried here on a charge of murder.

Duddy is wanted in West Virginia on a charge of larceny.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

COLUMBUS, Neb., July 28.—Early arrivals to the state democratic convention to adopt a platform were agreed that the deliberations would be harmonious. Pre-convention talk of differences over the property of putting a woman suffrage plank in the platform did not materialize into any pronounced sentiment in favor of such action.

Representatives of United States Bryan and Hitchcock were in the city early and all agreed that any differences that there might have been between President Wilson and Senator Hitchcock would be buried at today's convention.

EXCUSE ME

PARIS MURDER TRIAL

Continued

Attorneys representing the family of the murdered editor.

Madame Calliaux again fainted in court today and Judge Albaladejo suspended the sitting.

Madame Calliaux had been becoming visibly weaker as the sitting continued and appeared unconscious of what was occurring in court. A hot water bottle was placed beneath her feet and a cushion at her back soon after she entered the court.

Meanwhile Maitre Seligman continued his address. He said:

"The sons of Gaston Calmette asked us to bring them to this court to seek justice. We refused to do so, but do not forget, gentlemen of the jury, with what anguish the orphans await your verdict. You have heard witness after witness speak in praise of the late M. Calmette. There has been only one discordant note and that came from M. Calliaux. What connection with the case has the fortune of the murdered man? How many millions must a man have in order to permit his being assassinated with complete impunity?"

Mme. Calliaux Collapsed

Following Maitre Seligman came Maitre Chenu and his cutting analysis of the actions of Madame Calliaux on the day of the tragedy was too much for the woman on the floor of the prisoner's enclosure. As she swooned Maitre Chenu was saying:

"I will speak of nothing except the assassination of M. Calmette. I will ask the accused whether when she spoke of her love for her daughter, she thought of the two children of M. Calmette, whose pictures never left him. I shall not attempt to go into the biography of Mme. Calliaux. She is a cool, sensible woman, without emotion or pity. She has tears only for herself. She worked with tenacity to break up her lover's home. You see the result: the mistress triumphed over the lawful spouse. They are bound up in each other in their happiness. In their hopes, even in their murder plans."

"M. Calliaux is a man of inordinate and limitless ambition, whose power rests on his own audacity and on the fear he inspires."

"M. Calliaux omitted to tell his wife of the assurances given by President Poincaré that Calmette was incapable of printing private letters. They did not fear that. What they feared was the publication of the report by Victor Fagere on the Rochette swindle."

The husband's violent words at the lunch table decided the wife to substitute herself for him and she prepared the assassination with as much calm as a society woman filling in calls between two tea parties."

COUNT SAYS CALMETTE WAS IN THE PAY OF HUNGARIAN GOVERNMENT

NEW YORK, July 28.—The disclosure of the relations between Gaston Calmette and the present Hungarian government, though advantageous to the defense of Mme. Calliaux in her trial for the killing of Calmette, was in fact a move in Hungarian party politics. Count Michael Karolyi, leader of the Hungarian radicals, said last night on the eve of his departure for Hungary. Count Karolyi confirmed his part in furnishing Calliaux with the papers which the latter presented in Paris yesterday. He said this was not done as a service of one friend to another in trouble, though he responded affirmatively to a question whether M. Calliaux was a friend of his.

The papers were of this year's date, the count said, and were two in number. One letter addressed to Calmette by persons in Budapest, and the other from him to them. Both were written in French. The letters dealt with arrangements for favorable statements by the Figaro on Hungarian affairs.

Count Karolyi handed the two documents to M. Calliaux on his passage through Paris on his way to this country. This was after the indictment of Mme. Calliaux. The publication yesterday in the Paris court of the fact of which the letters are evidence, was very satisfactory to him, the count said.

"The letters," he continued, "furnish proof that Calmette, of whom I had been sought to make a hero, was actually in the pay of the Hungarian government, and had undertaken to speak favorably of it in the Figaro though Hungary adhered to an alliance hostile to the international group of which France is a member. The Figaro has been lending this support to the Hungarian government for nearly a year and a half."

Count Karolyi, who is one of the leaders of the opposition in Hungary, said he succeeded in securing proofs of the "publicity" work of the Hungarian government with French and also English papers. The letters concerning the Figaro, he declared, are only two out of a lengthy correspondence. Supplementary disclosures will be made at other opportune times, he intimated.

This "publicity" work had been done out of a "reptile" fund of over four million Hungarian crowns ($800,000), he added.

THEIR SILVER WEDDING

CAPTAIN AND MRS. BROWN CELEBRATE THE EVENT AT THEIR HOME IN 80, WHIPPLE STREET

Captain and Mrs. Timothy Brown of 87 South Whipple street are today observing their silver wedding, the couple having been married 25 years ago at St. Peter's church, this city.

Capt. Brown is favorably known in this city, having been connected with the Lowell fire department since 1890. He is now at the head of Truck Co. No. 1, located in Lawrence street. Ted, as he is known, was born in Lowell and 24 years ago last May 1, he was appointed on the fire department. In 1895 he was promoted to lieutenant and some eight years ago he was given another promotion, that of captain.

Mrs. Brown, whose maiden name was Mary Ferguson, is a native of Ireland. She came to Lowell when still in her teens and was united in marriage to Mr. Brown on July 28, 1889. The couple have four children, Walter, Fred, Marie and William. There was no formal observance of the event, but the evening at family reunion will take place at the home of the happy couple. Captain and Mrs. Brown have a great many friends throughout this city.

MURDER OF HUSBAND

MRS. BESSIE J. WAKEFIELD TAKES STAND IN HER OWN DEFENSE

NEW HAVEN, July 28.—Taking the stand in her own defense today Mrs. Bessie J. Wakefield, on trial for the murder of her husband, William O. Wakefield, denied flatly that she had killed James Plew in murdering Wakefield or that she had any knowledge or belief that Plew intended to harm or kill her husband. Plew has already been executed as the actual murderer of Wakefield. She described the fight between Plew and Wakefield at the Bristol home the night of the crime and denying that she had any part in the killing said that when Plew asked Wakefield out later in the evening she besought her husband not to do so but to remain at home with her. The return of Plew from Cheshire that day after the murder and his statements to her were also retold.

LONDON, July 28.—Authoritative advice received here from Bucharest states that Germany has asked for positive assurances from Roumania of her intentions in connection with the Austro-Serbian situation.

CHICAGO, July 28.—Immense expansion of trade in wheat followed announcement today that war had been officially declared. Within a few minutes the market touched a point about three cents a bushel higher than prices earlier in the session and 21-2 above last night.

News of the mobilization of British battle squadrons came just before the gong cleared the pit on the board of trade here today. The market closed widely excited, with September wheat going up nine cents a bushel in 24 hours. The close was at the topmost point of the day.

NEW YORK, July 28.—News of the actual declaration of war between Austria and Serbia was followed by selling on a very active scale on the stock exchange today. Prices fell more rapidly, Canadian Pacific dropping over six points while other prominent stocks were offered at increasing recessions. Large blocks of stocks were thrown over in urgent haste, presumably for foreign holders.

HELSINKI, July 28.—An unconfirmed despatch from Gumbinnen, eastern Prussia, to the Tagliche Rundschau today says that Russia has occupied Wirtanen, Russian Poland, with a force of engineers, cavalry, artillery and two regiments of infantry, while Russian guards have been placed along all roads on the frontier.

The despatch adds that a squadron of German U-boats has advanced to Bjorkulmen, on the Russian frontier.

"Oh, it's always fair weather when Lowell and Lawrence get together," piped Louis Pieper when somebody asked him this morning if he thought it was going to rain. "Rain, well I should say not," quoth the Lawrence manager. "We've got to increase our lead over Jesse Burkett's squad and this is the easiest way I know of."

In spite of the fact that Lowell has had very poor success against the down river leaders so far this season, Manager Gray and his club felt that the time had come to begin to even up matters and entered the contest with the grim determination to put over a win.

Jimmy Ring, whose recent work on the mound has not been up to the standard set by the youngsters in the first few games he pitched for the local club, was picked for mound duty several days ago and has been given a layoff in order to rest up his salary whip for Pieper's sluggers.

Even as the Lawrence manager had prophesied the weather cleared up in the first half after the showers in the morning and both teams displayed their appreciation of the change in the atmosphere from the humidity of the past few days by a snappy preliminary practice.

Manager Gray received a telegram from Frank Swayne, the outfielder purchased from the Lancaster, Pa., club, which stated that he would arrive in Lowell either Wednesday or Thursday. This news was welcome for the club in certain need of a centerfielder.

With Sheehan at second and Swayne in the outfield the local club will not shape up badly at all. There is heard to be something doing in the pitching staff before long, however, for Lowell now has no less than seven hurlers on the salary list.

Matty Zieser, who was bought today from the Red Sox, has had very poor success this season on account of his lack of control. He was returned to the Red Sox from the Scranton club, where he made several bad starts.

Manager Gray, however, expects the Dutchman to go better among familiar environments.

Managers Gray and Pieper held a long consultation over the transfer of the Fitchburg franchise to Manchester to which each of them agreed by telegram in the morning. The deal, of course, was only pushed through with the unanimous consent of the managers around the circuit. In the opinion of each of them the move was a big boost for the game in all the cities of the New England League.

Mr. Pieper once more picked Thompson as being the league's potchster at short in leading the league pitchers at present and the southpaw has been particularly effective against Lowell.

Umpire Doherty called the game as Martin Halloran and "Billy" Merritt settled in the grandstand.

First Inning
O'Connell hit a slow roller to Burke. Burke let out a kick in his arm and the ball reached Kelly a yard ahead of the runner. Wacob dropped Lynch's third strike, but the Lawrence shortstop was out on "Pete's" throw to Kelly. Kelly then ran off the bag and grabbed Luyster's high fly. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Aubrey made a nice catch of Dee's fly. DeGroot lifted a weak fly to Peplowski. Peplowski took care of Sheehan's fly to deep left. It was a short inning. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Score: Lowell 0, Lawrence 0.

Second Inning
Simpson was waiting for Brugy's long fly to left and Louis Pieper's coaching was all in vain. The umpire called Mahoney out on strikes and Larry went into a rage. Ring shut the ball over the middle of the plate and Conley singled to center. Simpson made a nice catch of Peplowski's fly to left. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Mahoney and Aubrey proved Simpson's fate when he groundered toward second base. Thompson completely fooled Weaver; "Buck" being retired on strikes. Peplowski made a beautiful catch of Burke's long fly to left center. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Score: Lowell 0, Lawrence 0.

Third Inning
DeGroot robbed Aubrey of a hit in right field when he took the ball on the run and nearly fell after making the catch. De took Thompson's grounder and shot the ball to first for the put-out. Thompson legged it in great style and the home only beat him by a small margin. O'Connell knocked a single over second which Sheehan managed to get one hand on, but could not hold. Wacob caught the foot O'Connell, trying to steal second with a perfect peg to Dee. "Shorty" playing the ball well. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Kelly died at first when he rolled a grounder to Lynch. Aubrey ran in toward the plate and took Wacob's pop fly. Ring lifted another high fly which sacrifice bunt, sending Kelly to second. On a short pass ball by Brugy, Kelly attempted to take third but Brugy's throw to Conley nipped him. Kelly was slow in starting or he might have made third in safety. Ring closed the inning by striking out. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Score: Lowell 0, Lawrence 1.

Sixth Inning
Louis Pieper went into the third base coaching box in the sixth inning with a broad smile upon his countenance. Louis and the bleacherites exchanged pleasantries. "Shorty" De made a nice stop and throw of O'Connell's hard grounder, getting him at first. Sheehan followed with a spectacular one-liner stab of Lynch's hot grounder and sent a long fly to Peplowski. DeGroot scratched a hit to Mahoney. Sheehan flied to Lynch. DeGroot stole second.

THE FIRE CHIEF

Fire Chief Edward F. Saunders has put aside his automobile and has gone back to the horse and wagon. The chief asked for an automobile several months ago and he expressed a preference for the Knox machine. The matter was taken up by the city council and the council visited the Knox factory at Springfield. It seemed a foregone conclusion at that time that the council would approve the purchase of a Knox automobile for the chief, but the machine has never been purchased and the chief has been pulling along with the old machine, also known as the Knox. The chief finally refused to be coaxed. The chief finally refused to be coaxed.

Asked why he preferred a Knox machine, the chief said: "I prefer a Knox because I think it will stand up better than any other machine I know of and, besides, we have been offered a $2200 Knox for $2700. Another very important fact in favor of the Knox machine is that if a part breaks a new part can be had within ten or twelve hours by telephoning to the factory, while in the case of another machine one would have to wait a week or ten days."

DECLARATION OF WAR IS SENT TO SERBIA

VIENNA, July 28.—Official notification of the declaration of war was sent to Serbia today by the Austro-Hungarian government.

The declaration of war was gazetted here late this afternoon. The text is as follows:

"The royal government of Serbia not having replied in a satisfactory manner to the note remitted to it by the Austro-Hungarian minister in Belgrade on July 23, 1914, the imperial and royal government finds itself compelled to proceed to safeguard its rights and interests and to have recourse for this purpose to force of arms."

"Austria-Hungary considers itself, therefore, from this moment in a state of war with Serbia."

(Signed)
"Count Berchtold, Minister of Foreign Affairs."

—ENGLAND'S BATTLE SQUADRON MOBILIZED

LONDON, July 28.—The refusal by Germany and Austria-Hungary to participate in a mediation conference on the Austro-Serbian conflict, reports of the rapid movement of Austro-Hungarian troops and the persistent downward trend of European stock markets were the outstanding developments of the European situation today. Preparations for war proceeded on all sides. Even England's battle squadrons have all been mobilized in readiness for eventualities and the publication of official news as to the movements of British warships has ceased. The first and second battle squadrons have taken on their full war stores and are ready to slip their anchors at a moment's notice, while the destroyer flotillas around the coast also have been prepared and armed guards were placed today around all the magazines and oil depots.

Germany's definite refusal to participate in the ambassadorial conference proposed by Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary, in an effort to maintain peace, is regarded here as tantamount to a declaration of Germany's determination that Austria-Hungary shall have an entirely free hand in chastising Serbia unless the Balkan kingdom accedes in full to the demands of the dual monarchy.

According to advices received here, Germany's refusal was couched in terms of sympathy with Sir Edward Grey's object but contended that the suggested conference would place Austria-Hungary in the invidious position of appearing like the Balkan state before a European tribunal to explain its actions and therefore likely to increase rather than decrease the difficulties of the situation.

Apparently authentic reports current here assert that Russia has been given positive assurance that Austria-Hungary has no intention of annexing Serbian territory. It is true this might be thought help the efforts to localize the war.

Thus far there has been no official confirmation of the reports of hostilities between Austria and Serbia, but among the rumors published is one of the seizure of the Serbian ships carrying contraband by an Austrian patrol on the Danube.

The actual cause of Austria-Hungary's decision to enter into hostile conflict with Serbia was the reply sent by the Balkan state to the note from Vienna demanding that Serbia take steps to put a stop to the Pan-Serbian propaganda on Austrian territory and also punish those Serbians indirectly concerned in the assassination in Bosnia on June 28 of Archduke Francis

Ferdinand, heir to the Austro-Hungarian throne, and his wife.

The response of Serbia was considered by the foreign office in Vienna "unsatisfactory" and in a semi-official communication made public yesterday the Austro-Hungarian government said that the reply was filled with the spirit of dishonesty.

In the meantime, Sir Edward Grey took the initiative of requesting the European powers to permit their arm-

MARRIED WOMEN MISSING

Mrs. Atkins and Mrs. Hayes, Principals in $100,000 Case Gone—Both Being Sued for Divorce

BOSTON, July 27.—Mrs. Martha Atkins, a wealthy Waltham woman, is missing from her present place of residence at White Oak, Ga., and by her disappearance a new and distinctly unusual twist has been given to the complicated case in which she and Mrs. Caroline L. Hayes, the escaped Boston Inmate hospital inmate, are the principals and which, among other things, involves the alleged misappropriation of $100,000.

Word of Mrs. Atkins' disappearance, which so closely follows the sensational escape of Mrs. Hayes from the Inmate hospital, reached Boston this week from the publisher of the White Oak home where Mrs. Atkins has been living.

According to the latter's letter, strange missives, some of which bore Boston addresses, had been received by her late last month, and on July 4, after telling him she had received "good news" she left the house and has not been heard from since.

She is alleged to have been under the influence of the Hayes woman, and it was from her estate, over which conservators recently were appointed, that the Hayes woman is alleged to have misappropriated $100,000 in property. The presence of Mrs. Atkins in Boston is necessary in event of criminal proceedings which are said to be contemplated against Mrs. Hayes.

Both Sued for Divorce

Both women are being sued for divorce. The names of prominent Back Bay citizens have been mentioned in connection with the case. Sensational actions culminating in the dramatic escape of Mrs. Hayes from the Austin Farms hospital and in the disappearance of Mrs. Atkins, have marked its course throughout, and with both women unaccounted for, the situation has become even more complicated.

Mrs. Atkins is the wife of Arthur M. Atkins, a prominent automobile man. She is wealthy in her own right, but for years is alleged to have been under the influence of Mrs. Hayes. It was as the result of this alleged influence that two conservators were appointed to care for her estate recently, and following their appointment a mysterious shortage of $100,000 worth of jewelry, silverware, personal property, bonds and real estate was discovered.

Mrs. Hayes is the wife of Dr. John J. Hayes of 541 Columbus avenue. She married the aged physician after a romantic courtship which started while Dr. Hayes, called at her apartment at 494 Massachusetts avenue while she was suffering from pneumonia. She was married under the name of Mrs. Caroline L. Hayes, and was a supposed wealthy widow worth many millions of dollars.

MAN CRUSHED TO DEATH

Fireman Killed at Concord, N.H. Fire—Two Others Injured—Buried Under Lumber

CONCORD, N. H., July 28.—One fireman lost his life and two others were seriously injured by being caught under a pile of lumber at a fire which destroyed $75,000 worth of property of the Granite State Manufacturing company, the state prison contractors, yesterday afternoon.

Amos Turner, a permanent man at the central fire station, was killed. Phillip O'Connell and Clarence Clark, call men attached to the department, were those injured.

Hurled Beneath Pile

At the time of the accident the men were engaged in fighting the fire in the big lumber piles north of the state prison, when, without warning, one of them toppled over, burying the three. They were using a high power stream assistance. One of the piles, lighting the flames in front of them, and using a bunch of wood as protection from the intense heat.

So intent were they on what was in front, that they did not notice the fire eating around behind them until, with warning, the pile toppled over, burying them.

Mark Wakfield, foreman of the combination company, was the first to reach the men. He first came upon Turner, but on lifting him up he realized that the end had come to him, and with the men who rallied to his assistance, he removed Clark and then O'Connell, both of whom were able to help in their extrication.

Both O'Connell and Clark were badly crushed about the body and legs and were burned about the face, head and legs.

The fire, which destroyed three store-houses in the prison grounds, just north of the shops. The manufacturing company manufactures chairs by convict labor. There was no disorder among the convicts. W. F. Whitney of Ashburnham, Mass., is the principal owner of the company.

The fire is believed to have started in the night in the rear of the company's main storehouse, and spread from a switching locomotive, which was working about the side tracks in the lumber yard.

An effort was made to stop the blaze and the men about the house thought it had been successfully checked, but impelled by the strong northwest wind it had run under the main storehouse. The storehouse was filled from end to end with chairs ready for shipment and it is estimated there were more than 1,000,000 feet of this was burned.

So intense was the heat from the burning piles when the department arrived that the south side of the factory of the Concord Woodworking company was smoking, but by using the fire-fighting apparatus in the shop the building was saved. Property on the east side of North State street was also in danger, and it became necessary to use garden hose and to employ bucket brigades to keep the roofs wet.

The state prison was in danger from the flames for a time, but the precautions taken by Warden Howe and Deputy Bailey were effective in keeping the fire outside the walls.

Lines of hose were laid out from the hydrants in the yard, and manned by officers and trustees. With these the roofs of the shop and other buildings were protected, and after the danger had passed to a degree, the lines were run through the big gates outside the yard, and the men assisted the regular firemen in the work of stopping the advance of the fire towards the buildings.

There was very little excitement inside the walls of the structure. The prisoners watched the fire with interest, but soon after it started they were placed in their cells.

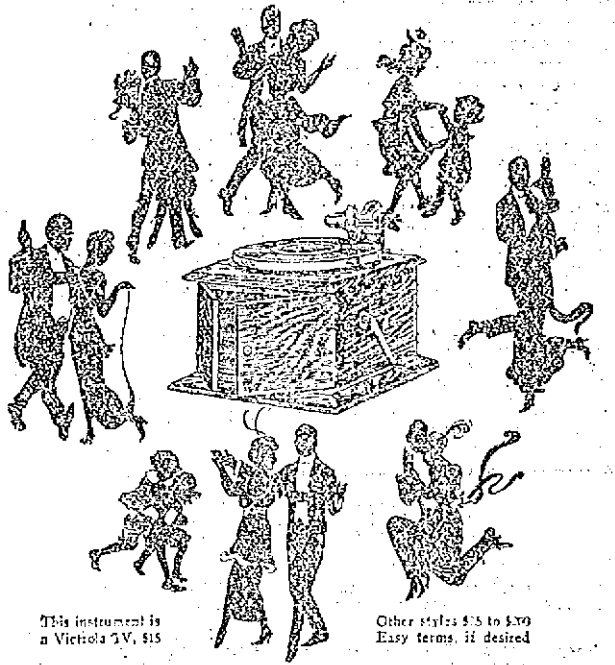

An added danger was presented by the embers which started fires on the slopes of Battlesnake hill and around the Calvary cemetery. One of these fires threatened the prison stable, and it was only saved after considerable work by the men of the institution. The embers also threatened the new plant of the New England Box Co., which is situated in the yard.

A QUARTER CENTURY AGO

Nowadays we think nothing of the ride to Lakeview beyond the time that it takes to get there, for the scenery en route has long since ceased to attract us, for familiarity if it doesn't always breed contempt, breeds indifference. But such was not the case quarter of a century ago when Lakeview and electric car travel were entirely new to Lowell, and when just 25 years ago one day this week, the first trip on the electric to Lakeview was made the old Sun dished up the ride as follows:

"Thursday afternoon when the sky was pouring a deluge of water on the city, 150 prominent citizens representing every shade of political belief and every branch of trade, and all the professions, boarded the new electric cars on Bridge street near Paige street and started for Willow Dale (Lakeview) at that time was also known as Willow Dale.)

"It was a jolly party. Every man succeeded in getting wet before the party started but not a single man faltered. It was a free racket, the Lowell and Dracut horse railroad setting the bill for the baptism of the new electric road and the formal opening of the new 54 acre park. All the officials of the road were present and they worked like beavers to make everyone comfortable. The ride was very enjoyable, the beautifully decorated cars chugging over the rails of Bridge street, River street, Hamblett street, on through the beautiful country, emerald green from the recent rains, through Collinsville, passing by the modest Catholic church, and the mill, and the houses of the operatives. On over the smooth road, flashing by farms with beautiful crops, over the corduroy road around a curve and with a cheer the gentlemen on board the four electric cars alight before the new hotel and the dance pavilion, on the shores of the pretty pond. Trees that have stood since the time when the Indians wandered through this territory crowded up to the very doors of the hotel whose broad piazzas extend on every side. The pond and rippling water in the piazzas and a navy of 20 boats and the steam launch 'Crown Prince' are at hand to take pleasure parties to any part of the pond. The hotel will be a model one. A big open fireplace in the dining hall will do duty when the weather is cool, and the billiard and several game rooms upstairs and the private dining rooms will hold many merry parties before the year is many weeks older. The dance hall is a large one and like the dining room has large piazzas that overlook the pond.

A palatable lunch was served by the Waverly house caterers and the large party did it full justice. The side out, the grove and the luncheon struck everyone in a tender spot and Mayor Palmer returned thanks for the company and incidentally complimented the railroad men for their enterprise and said that whatever returned to the benefit of the company would be a benefit to the city. Col. Haggott also made remarks. When the gentlemen had thoroughly inspected all the new points of the great enterprise, the return trip was made. The cars darted out of the grove while 150 voices were cheering the enterprise of the railroad men. On the home stretch the cars flew over the ground and the mild evening air made one's blood tingle and every man felt a keen anticipation for the return. In half an hour the party was deposited at the corner of Merrimack and Bridge streets opposite the Sun building and an interesting experience was at an end.

Notes: Please don't misinterpret the foregoing statement to wit: "In half an hour the party was deposited at the corner of Merrimack and Bridge streets." It wasn't a case of "this side up, no no hooks" for every man in the party could have gone before his wife and proven an alibi. The word "deposited," in this case, simply meant "detained," or "left the cars," as you will.

The second trial trip of the new electric while the old Sun declares to have been a success it was not without a mishap as the following account of the trip will show:

"The second trial trip of the new electric cars on the Willow Dale line of the Lowell and Dracut street railroad occurred Sunday afternoon, and the passengers who took the trip the entire distance and two short trips from the car house to the Prescott street square were made, and each was witnessed by a large gathering of people. The sidewalks from River street to Merrimack street were lined with people who had heard that the line was in operation. About 2 o'clock the car left the stable and proceeded to Willow Dale, making the first trip over the entire road. Messrs. McQueen, of Boston, President August Fels, P. P. Sullivan and the electric car men were the passengers. The car came to the city and went to the stable where another car was attached and the return trip made. A number of persons were given a free ride to Collinsville and back to the car house on Hamblett street. The first smash-up occurred near Parker and Haggott's mill (the old paper mill near Parker avenue). J. P. McKissock was driving his bay mare on the road when it became frightened at the car and backed the vehicle on the track in front of the car. The buggy was badly wrecked and the occupants, Mr. McKissock and Mr. Charles Barker, thrown out. The former was thrown against the car dasher but was saved from serious injury by J. G. Baker who caught him. Mr. Barker was slightly bruised by the fall. The horse was slightly hurt but will come out all right. The vehicle will be taken in charge by the carriage-repairer. The electric cars can be propelled at a rate of 30 miles an hour but seven miles an hour will be the average speed for a trip." Three cheers for E. Garfield, always on deck.

The opening trips didn't always make seven miles an hour nor in some cases one mile, for with the newness of the motor operandi and the immense crowds that broke down and delayed the cars, it was not always possible to run smoothly and on schedule time and electric car riding soon became a fixture in Lowell.

"As She Sees It" Not Around

Says the old Sun: "The public bath house on the Merrimack river is now open and in charge of E. F. Freeman. It accommodates 35 bathers at a time. It is open from 8 a. m. to 12 m. and 1 to 6 and 7 to 9 p. m. Thursday will be reserved for women."

The city authorities probably meant to pay the tax on a graceful compliment by indicating that they were as urgently in need of a bath as the men and they got away with it, for in these days, Mrs. "As She Sees It" was coaching her literary efforts to school compositions and was not doing the Joan of Arc stunt for "equal rights."

for all women, with a vote included." Just imagine the "belle" that would appear in the Center-Citizen today were the city authorities to limit ladies to one free bath a week, giving the rest of the week to the men.

Butler on the "America"

Probably there are many Lowell men and women who have read from day to day of the preparations being made for the coming international boat race when Sir Thomas Lipton is to make one more attempt to lift "the American cup," who are not aware of the fact that the famous yacht "America," after which the international trophy has been made was for many years owned by Gen. Benjamin F. Butler of this city, and that while Paul Butler was getting international fame in the frailty of a craft about the canoe, his father was cruising about in the boat that made yacht racing internationally famous. The Sun of 25 years ago had the following: "General Butler, accompanied by Paul Butler, Walter C. Lawson, W. S. Butler, wife and daughter, Ex-Gov. Smythe and wife of New Hampshire, is cruising on the yacht 'America.' Continued to last page

VITAL FORCE

Disease germs are on every hand. They are in the very air we breathe. A system "run down" is a prey for them. One must have vital force to withstand them. Vital force depends on digestion—on whether or not food nourishes—on the quality of blood coursing through the body.

GETTING READY FOR WAR

Local Greeks Will Offer Services to Greek Government for the Servian Trouble

The Greeks of this city, especially the veterans of the Turkish-Balkan war are hoping that their king will send in a call for volunteers in the event of Greece lending a hand to the Servian government with the threatening trouble that is now pending with Austria-Hungary, and it was stated this morning that over five hundred volunteers are ready to respond to a call to arms.

The local Greeks are following the crisis with deep interest and their patriotic blood is boiling. There are nearly five hundred veterans in Lowell and all are anxious to see more fighting. A large number of them had not seen real fire for upon their arrival in Greece after the last recruiting they were assigned to guard duty on territory captured by the Greek army and they were not given a real opportunity to handle the gun and they hope that a call for volunteers will be sent to the state by their chief executive.

It is understood that in the event of the Greek government sending help to Servia over 100,000 soldiers will be detailed to the battlefield and they hope a call for volunteers in foreign lands will be sent in. It was to be judged by the attitude of local Greeks toward the Austria-Hungary government, it is fair to assume that there is a bitter feeling between the latter country and Greece.

The Lowell Greeks are in fine physical condition and their training is excellent, for since the return of the veterans of the Balkan-Turkish war they have organized into a military regiment and every Sunday they parade to Pawtucketville, where they are put through maneuvers by competent officers. Despite the fact that a number of their local comrades have lost their lives on the battle field and also that several of those who returned to Lowell have since died from their injuries, they still retain that fighting spirit that was so characteristic with them at the outbreak of the war.

The chief topic of discussion in the Market street cafes is the Servian trouble and the possibilities of a call to arms and it is possible that a message will be sent from Lowell to King Constantine to the effect that the boys from the Spindle City are anxious to go to the front and the service of over five hundred men will be offered. However the men are awaiting further developments before such a step is taken.

AMONG THE TOILERS

Mr. Robert Brown of the John Pilling Shoe Co. is spending two weeks in New York.

Joseph Cote and Bonetto (Carber of the Merrimack mills spent an enjoyable day at Nahant, Sunday.

Miss Mae Wayne of the Prescott mills has returned from a pleasant vacation spent at Hampton beach.

Thomas Holton, employed at the Lowell Bleachery mills, is spending two weeks at Hampton beach.

Walter Kelley, formerly employed at the American Hide and Leather Co., is now working in Boston.

Mr. Chester Bradley has accepted a position with the American Safety Tread Co.

John Sullivan of the Merrimack mills has returned from Hampton beach where he spent two weeks.

John Conway of the Barry Shoe Co. contemplates taking a trip to New York in the very near future.

Joseph Walsh of the Pilling Shoe Co. will probably enter the ten mile run motor-cycle event at Reading Saturday.

Mr. Michael Flanagan, formerly employed at the Hamilton Manufacturing Co., is now working for the water works department.

Miss Gertrude McCarthy of the Bigelow Carpet Co. has returned from a delightful vacation spent at Salisbury beach.

The Pointsettia Girls have returned from their vacation spent at Salisbury beach. They say that they had a delightful time.

George "Hickey" Lyons of the Sun Lowell shops is putting up a grand game of ball for the South Ends these days.

Frank McCabe, who was until recently working at the Carpenters' trade has accepted a position with the American Hide and Leather Co.

Joe Stowell of the Hamilton Manufacturing Co. is talking about the loomfixers' convention yet. Enthusiasm is a great thing.

William Esmond, formerly employed at the Merrimack mills, has accepted a position with the Tremont & Suffolk mills.

Carter Sullivan of the Merrimack mills is spending a week with relatives at his summer cottage at Ipswich.

Miss Mary Johnson of the Silesia Worsted Co., North Chelmsford, will spend the next two weeks with friends in Gardner, Mass.

Abo Buckley, of the U. S. Bunting Co., is without a doubt the greatest outfielder that has played up around these parts in many years.

Jack Donnelly, of the Stirling mills has signified his intention of encomping with the O. M. L. Cadets next week.

The young men who have been leaning out over the window sills on the second story of the Bigelow Carpet mill had better be careful, it's quite a drop.

Thomas Brown of the Barry Shoe Co. has returned from his trip to the Adirondacks. He brought home quite a collection of interesting photographs of that picturesque region.

Thomas Hartley, employed at the Waterhead mills, who was seriously injured last Saturday in a ball game at the Tewksbury infirmary, is improving rapidly.

Leo Leno of the American Hide and Leather Co. has painted some remarkable portraits. Mr. Leno is also very fond of music and is an accomplished violinist.

One industrious mill employee who spends his spare time in exploring the wild and uninhabited regions in and about Lowell has discovered a new resort in Little Canada and has christened it "Saunders beach."

Joseph Quinn, secretary of the Machinists' union is kept quite busy these days organizing. This union, which is the largest in the city never retires but is always on the lookout for new members.

Jack Dudley and Thomas Rafferty, employees at the Field and Lumber Shoe Co. made quite a catch of the Dory tribe at Silver Lake, Sunday. They have another excursion planned for next Saturday and Sunday.

James Hogan of the Field and Lumber Shoe Co. and party enjoyed the automobile ride to Bass Point, Sunday, immensely. His friends are delighted with the running qualities of his new Buick Six.

Next Saturday the annual outing of the employees of the U. S. Cartledge Co. takes place. This is an annual event and is also the greatest factory outing of the season.

The Plumbers have made final arrangements for their annual outing which will be held next Saturday at Bass Point, and present indications seem to point to its being the most successful held in years.

James Sharkey, formerly employed at the Bigelow Carpet Co., is taking up a course in embalming at a Boston embalming school. Mr. Sharkey has had much experience having worked for J. F. Rogers and Co., undertakers of this city.

Mr. Robert Walmsley, boss weaver at the Massachusetts mills, has taken up golf as his favorite pastime. Mr. Walmsley was always enthusiastic over athletics and at one time was a semi-professional ball player.

All aboard for the second annual excursion of the Silesia Worsted Co. employees which takes place Saturday. The excursionists will journey to Ipswich beach for the day and from all accounts it will be one long to be remembered.

Abin Caster of the Reine Electric Co. expressed himself last night as perfectly willing to meet the terrible looking kangaroo at the Lowell fair. He has some reputation in the main science and his friends will endeavor to try to bring them together.

Harry Snyder of the Neare, Adams Shoe Co. was shocked indeed at the desolate appearance of Salem. Mr. Snyder was born in Salem and the fire ate its way right through the very district in which he once resided.

Frank Curran, of the American Hide and Leather Co. was a much surprised young man when he received a telephone call Saturday at Revere beach to come home, the person calling, reminding him of the fact that it was 6 o'clock.

Walter Lowney of the Merrimack mills is thinking seriously of hiring an express wagon to cart home all the past cards that have been sent to him the past week. Mr. Lowney said he never thought that he had so many friends.

Paul Jarvis and John Gearin, employees at the Merrimack mills held a reception to their friends at their camp at Mud pond last evening. Upon the arrival of the party, refreshments were served after which an enjoyable entertainment was given. The party broke up at a late hour, voting the evening well spent.

Still another runner of promises has announced himself at the Tremont & Suffolk mills in the person of Mr. Anthony Farley. He is touted by his friends to be a world beater. The outing will be the place where he can show his great abilities and he'll have plenty of opportunity judging from the list of entrants already received.

The members of Loomfixers' union held a largely attended and enthusiastic meeting in Carpenters hall in the Russell building last evening. Business of much importance was transacted and two new members were admitted. Many of the members gave interesting talks on the good of the union. The secretary reported the union to be in the best financial condition in its long history.

THE KIMBALL SYSTEM WON

The St. Columba H. N. society hall club met last Saturday afternoon on their home grounds, 3 to 7, the Kimball system. The system was won in a doubt until the last man was retired. Cunningham, who pitched for St. Columba, was replaced by MacDonald in the last of the game and held the Kimball system to but one scratch hit for the remaining innings. Next Saturday the Kimball system play the strong Coburn A. C. team at Seaside park and hope to make this their 7th straight win.

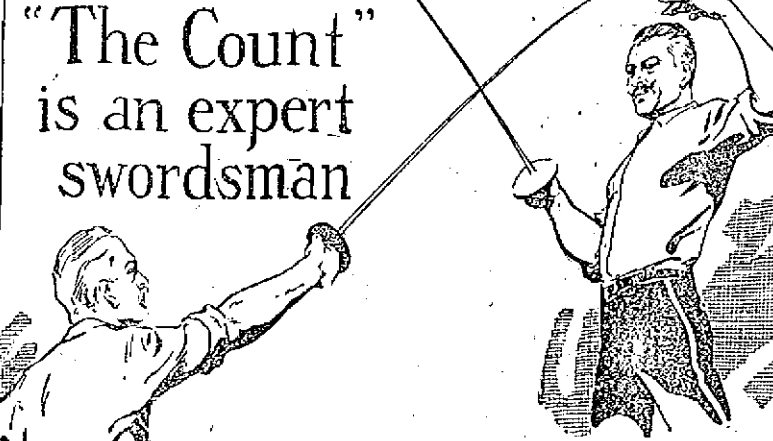

WESTERN TENNIS ASS'N.

CHICAGO, July 28.—The men's doubles and the women's matches in the tournament of the Western Tennis association which were held here yesterday were started today by the courts of the Onwentsen Country club. The first round of men's tennis yesterday developed no upsets, all the crack players coming through. In most cases two sets were sufficient.

"Count Discount" vs. Reg. Ular Price

This is a reproduction of an advertisement that appeared in this paper on July 23

"The Count" is an expert swordsman

He will engage in a contest for your benefit with his old rival Reginald U. Price

"Count Discount" is putting up some battle too, isn't he? You notice Reginald we call "Reg" for short because we never allow the "long price" to enter this store—hence "Count Discount" versus "Regular Price." The Count is making Regular Price ask for "quarter" too—that is 25 per cent off.

And what "Count Discount" is doing to Regular Price here now is where you come in. It's for your clothes economy that he is contesting and you win—if you will only take advantage of these bargains. If the prices quoted below do not tempt you come in and see the quality back of them.

FOR MURDER OF BALLOU

Mrs. Angle Held Criminally Responsible for Death of Waldo Ballou in Coroner's Finding

STAMFORD, Conn., July 28.—Mrs. Helen M. Angle is held criminally responsible for the death of Waldo Ballou in this city on the night of June 23 in a finding announced by Coroner Phelan today.

Ballou, who was a member of a prominent family, was picked up in a dying condition outside a downtown business building in which Mrs. Angle had apartments. To the police that night Mrs. Angle said that she found Ballou at the foot of a flight of stairs in the building after he had left her and that in the belief that he was seized from a fall or from liquor she carried him outside and left him on the doorstep of the entrance. Ballou died from a fractured skull.

The coroner held a long inquiry during which Mrs. Angle upon advice of her counsel refused to make a statement as to the manner in which Ballou met with injuries. As Mrs. Angle would not talk and because the coroner could not determine the actual manner in which Ballou received his injury, Mrs. Angle is held criminally responsible and the finding is turned over to Albert Phillips, prosecutor of the Stamford city court.

This finding was expected after Coroner Phelan when he closed his inquiry a week ago stated that if Mrs. Angle did not make a statement by Friday last he would hold her for trial. He admitted Mrs. Angle to bail owing to her nervous state and she was taken by her father, Leonard Blomfield to Southport, Me.

Her bail bond requires her presence whenever it shall be necessary.

FUNERALS

KOWALSKY.—The funeral of Francis Kowalsky, took place yesterday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the chapel of C. H. Molloy in Market street.

The body was later sent to Fargo Village for burial.

FEYLER.—The funeral of Henderson Feyler of Littleton took place from the Eden cemetery chapel. The bearers were Warren T. Griffin, Willis Hill, William E. Hunt and William H. Harvey. Among the many beautiful flowers were: Large wreath inscribed "Husband and Father," from family; and other tributes from Mrs. Hazle Perkins Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Warren T. Griffin, Mr. and Mrs. William Harvey and Mr. W. E. Hunt. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Raymond G. Clark and appropriate selections were sung by Miss Morris. Undertaker Greig of Westford was in charge.

CARNEY.—The funeral of Harold Carney, the boy who lost his life by drowning in the Spicket river at Lawrence Saturday night, took place this morning from the home of the parents in Hampshire street. Lawrence. The body was brought to Lowell by train and burial took place in St. Patrick's cemetery. There were many floral offerings, showing the esteem in which the little fellow was held, and the funeral was largely attended.

arrangements were in charge of Undertaker C. R. Molloy of this city.

LOUGHRAN.—The funeral of the late Edward Loughran took place this morning at 8 o'clock from his home, 40 Whipple street and was largely attended. The funeral cortege proceeded to St. Peter's church where at 9 o'clock a high mass of requiem was sung by Rev. Fr. Crayton. Among the floral offerings were sprays from Mr. and Mrs. T. A. McCann, Mrs. Quirk, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Monahan, Mr. James Jameson of Lancaster, N. H., and Mrs. McCusker. The bearers were Timothy Bagley, John Quirk, Thomas Kennedy, Jeremiah McGilchrist, Jr., Edward F. O'Brien and Edward Haley. Burial was in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery, where the final prayers were read by Rev. Fr. Crayton. Undertakers M. H. McDonough Sons had charge.

GOLD SHIPMENT

Liner Kronprinzessin
Cecilie for Europe

NEW YORK, July 28.—The latest gold movement to Europe which began on last Friday when $2,000,000 was sent to Paris was further augmented today by a shipment of $10,600,000 aboard the liner Kronprinzessin Cecilie. This is said to be the largest single gold shipment ever made from America to Europe.

Of today's shipment $1,000,000 is consigned to London bankers and $4,600,000 to Paris.

In addition to this sum $2,500,000 in gold bars has been engaged for shipment to Paris by the Germans, which is due to sail tomorrow.

Bankers lay the new demand for gold for export to almost entirely to the war scare in Europe, although they admitted that the fortuitous settlement on the London stock exchange which began yesterday night had had something to do with it.

Other important engagements will be made today. It was said, making the amount to go by the Germania at least $20,000,000 and the total of the movement since Friday on more than $25,000,000.

TRADE COMMISSION BILL

SEN. BRANDEGEE'S MOTION UP FOR
CONSIDERATION TODAY

WASHINGTON, July 28.—Senator Brandegee's motion to strike from the interstate trade commission bill the section which would declare unfair competition unlawful and empower the proposed commission to define unfair competition and prevent corporations from using unfair methods in commerce was up for discussion when the senate today resumed consideration of the measure. The motion had been offered after adoption by a large vote of an amendment which would apply to the section of the bill relating to unfair competition.

The amendment would provide that no order of finding of the commission or of court in connection therewith should be admissible as evidence in any suit, civil or criminal brought under the anti-trust laws. Senator Brandegee's motion followed vigorous opposition by himself and Senator Sutcliffe to the amendment.

The vote on the amendment was the first reached and gave democratic leaders renewed hope of a final vote on the measure by Saturday night.

WHO IS TOWN SOLICITOR?

CAUSING STIR—SUPREME COURT
TO ANSWER QUANDARY

BOSTON, July 28.—Who is the town solicitor of Revere and has the office been abolished or is it still there? H. Frank, Esq., auditor appointed in the last action instituted by Revere voters against Andrew A. Casassa, both of whom claim to be town solicitor, yesterday submitted a lengthy typewritten report on the case to the supreme court, but he does not pass upon the question of who is the actual legal adviser of the town. He leaves it to the court, which will probably give a hearing on the case in a few days.

Revere Walsworth filed a petition in the supreme court on May 1, for a writ of mandamus to restrain Mr. Casassa from attempting to usurp the office of town solicitor of Revere. He also petitioned the selectmen of the town to call a special meeting to determine who was the legal adviser of the town May 1st.

Walsworth claims the office by virtue of his election to it town council at a town meeting held April 12, 1914. Casassa insists that the office is his because he was elected by the selectmen at a meeting held April 15, 1914. The auditor in his report finds that the selectmen claim the office of town solicitor was abolished, that they refused to call a special meeting as petitioned for, and that they were contemptuous of the public mind when they did so refuse.

ABSENCE OF GUIDEPOSTS

GOV. BALDWIN NOTIFIES SELECTMEN THAT LAW MUST BE OBEYED AND POSTS SET UP

HARTFORD, Conn., July 28.—Governor Baldwin is determined that no traveler in Connecticut shall lose his way if a guide post will prevent it. In a letter to the selectmen of the various towns of the state, the governor today calls attention to the absence of guideposts, says the law requires that such posts shall be set up at every cross road and reminds the selectmen that they may be penalized for failure to do so.

The absence of the guide posts, the governor says, is a great inconvenience to travelers. The governor himself has a great wander and has covered many miles of the state's roads on foot as well as on horseback.

1000 SHEEP CREMATED

IN FIRE AT LOUISVILLE, KY., STOCK YARDS, 30 RAILROAD CARS AND MANY HOUSES DESTROYED

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 28.—The fire which started in the sheep pens of the Louisville stock yards here last night, destroyed a third of the plant, forty Louisville & Nashville railroad cars, some of which were loaded with live animals, and a thousand sheep, and damaged more than a score of cottages that lined streets bordering the stock yards. Damage to the stock yards is estimated at about $175,000, and the total damage at approximately $1,000,000.

All the fire fighting apparatus of the city was called out to extinguish the flames, which threatened to destroy the entire yards and buildings nearby. The blaze was gotten under control after several hours of hard work by the firemen. The origin of the fire has not been ascertained.

BOARD OF TRADE

Annual Outing at Bass
Point—Trip in Autos—
Prominent Speakers

The outing committee of the Lowell board of trade held a meeting last night and decided to hold the board's annual outing at the seashore. The committee are going to ask the members of the board who own automobiles to carry the board to Bass Point, Nahant, on August 27. This will mean the use of at least 100 automobiles and if the automobile owners will co-operate with the committee the outing will be the greatest ever.

A ride to the beach and a shore dinner are two attractions. The dinner would probably be served on the outer point of the promontory where the breeze is laden with the salt sea air, and the dinner, of course, would have a cabaret show attached. There will be two or three speeches by men from the national capital, Congressman John Jacob Rogers and Congressman Patrick H. Kelly of Michigan. Mr. Kelly was lieutenant governor of Michigan for five years and Mr. Rogers says he is one of the most attractive personalities and able speakers he has met in Washington.

The tentative arrangements for the outing as agreed upon by the outing committee suggests that the start be made from the vicinity of city hall at about 11 or 11:30 a. m., so that Nahant may be reached in season for dinner at 1 o'clock. It is believed that if this type of an outing can be arranged a far larger attendance than usual will respond.

THE VESPER CLUB

noon—Steel Structure

The contract for the reconstruction of the Vesper Country club bridge across the Merrimack river at Tyngs Island, a part of which was blown away by a cyclone a couple of weeks ago, has been awarded to the New England Construction company and work will be started this afternoon. The old bridge was of steel with wooden sides and floorings and a couple of weeks ago when a strong gale visited that part of the country the work was torn down and blown away. The bridge was insured against tornado loss and the insurance companies have adjusted the losses by paying the club $1500.

The New England Construction company will put men to work on tearing down what remains of the old bridge and a temporary steel bridge will be erected in its stead. The only work to be done in the tearing down of the old bridge will be of steel and the cables and tower of the old bridge will be used again. Work will be pushed along and it is expected the bridge will be ready for travel in about six weeks.

SAYS WEDDING WAS JOKE

SOUTH BOSTON BRIDE WILL NOT
NIGHT BEFORE THE FOURTH

BOSTON, July 28.—A curious situation exists in South Boston, where a bridegroom of less than a month's standing cannot get his bride, who claims that she thought the marriage a joke. The bridegroom has engaged counsel to protect his interests and the bride's mother threatens criminal action will be brought against the bridegroom. The bridegroom is Harry Adams, 27 years old, living on Fourth street, near Atlantic. The bride was Martha Williams, 15 years of age, of 21 Thompkins park, South Boston. Her mother is Mrs. Helen Williams; her father is out of town. The present situation arises from these circumstances: One the night before the Fourth Adams took the girl for a walk and wound up at the office of a justice of the peace in the South end where they were married. Miss Williams declares she thought the ceremony a joke.

When Mr. and Mrs. Williams were told of their daughter's marriage to Adams they refused to let her live with him and notified the police at station 12, who told the mother to keep her daughter at home. As a result, Adams has been unable to obtain his wife and in consequence suffers much anguish, he says.

Interviewed last night, Mrs. Williams was extremely reticent, but said: "My daughter is married and I propose to have the marriage annulled. I am at present playing a waiting game. I am going to try to prove a criminal against him." To the question, "Why not seek redress through civil rather than criminal proceedings," she answered: "He has no money, and you can't get blood out of a stone."

2000 GIRLS TO STRIKE

MEMBERS OF BATHING SUIT MAKERS' UNION IN NEW YORK WANT
MORE PAY

NEW YORK, July 28.—Two thousand girls, members of the bathing suit makers' union, have decided that a higher wage scale must be paid. The executive committee of the union yesterday voted to call a strike, the demand for an increased wage scale having been refused by the employers. A majority of the union's members are engaged in making bathing suits and sweaters for women. The strike order is expected to go into effect today.

SHAMROCK FOUR AT AZORES

HORTO, Paval, Azores, July 28.—Shamrock IV, Sir Thomas Lipton's new challenger for the America's cup, arrived here today having taken seven days and three hours for the voyage from Falmouth, England.

During her trip, according to those on board the yacht proved herself an excellent seaboat. In hard blows she took the big seas like a duck and slipped through the water with great ease.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

LAKEVIEW PARK

"Lanky Bob" is the name of the boxing kangaroo that is the attraction on the open air stage at Lakeview theatre this week and he is a genuine product of Australia, right there with the punch and not at all adverse to administering a few kicks as well in the lively three round bout that he puts up with his sparring partner. "Lanky Bob" presents a very decided and in fact most appearance as he enters the ring and extends his paws for the adjustment of the boxing gloves but after a few taps on the head have been handed him by his boxing partner he starts in with a rush to mix it in a business like manner that in the first sent his opponent through the ropes, much to the delight of the large crowd assembled at the ring. "Lanky Bob" will make his appearance at Lakeview every afternoon and evening of the present week. An excellent program of "movies" including the Mutual Weekly which presents a pictorial review of current events and today among the features being the royal visit of Austria by Archduke Ferdinand for a few days and many other interesting events. There are also several good comedy subjects and a strong dramatic western feature. Admission to the theatre is free and there is a new program shown every Monday, Thursday and Sunday.

TWO OWL THEATRE

Miss Mary Pickford's success was genuine and complete in Lowell. Her part of Tess in "Tess of the Stormy Country" could never be equalled by any other photo-play actress. She is supremely fascinating, her cleverness and wonderful personality are just suited to a part of this kind, and she certainly knows how to capture the hearts of her admirers. "Tess of the Stormy Country" will again be shown today besides the regular show. Jack Dalton sings.

THE KASINO
Tonight the Kasino will have as a special attraction two of the most graceful demonstrators of the modern dance available in America today. Mr. Clayton Robinson and Miss Evelyn Darnbach are the artists and they will depict all of the modern steps in a manner indicating the purity of the movements in their original conception. To maintain wholesome dancing is the object of this instruction—for it is instruction as well as entertainment. Kasino patrons will enjoy the feature, and will improve their dancing as well. Miss Evelyn Darnbach will play for the artists, and will, of course, play for dancing before and after the exhibition. The Kasino is open tonight and every night and Saturday afternoon.

MATRIMONIAL

Harlan E. Knowlton and Miss Julia E. Spaulding were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Spaulding, 32 Grace street, the officiating clergyman being Rev. Charles H. Ellis, pastor of the Central Baptist church in Chelmsford. The couple were attended by Miss Lilian M. Russell of Boston as bridesmaid, and Earl E. Spaulding as best man. A brief reception was held and the couple left on an extended wedding tour. They will be at home to their friends in Billerica street, Chelmsford, after Sept. 1.

MAXFIELD—DUPREY
Rufus A. Maxfield of this city and Miss Louise Bertha Duprey of Worcester were married at Marlboro, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Albert B. Whetlock. The bride was given away by Mrs. Richard Arnold of this city.

WOMAN TRAMP ARRESTED

Daughter of Wealth, is Held for Robbery at Taunton—Deserted by Husband

TAUNTON, July 28.—Worn and exhausted from days and nights spent in the woods with only wild berries for food, her face and clothing torn by thistles, Mrs. Mabel A. L. Robinson, 30-year-old daughter of a wealthy man, N. H. Robinson, is lodged here in the Taunton jail, facing many charges of robbery.

Specifically, the young woman is held for the alleged theft of a horse from the Mansfield Milling company, Mansfield, and a wagon from the Skinner of that town, for which she was remanded to the jail from the Attleboro court yesterday upon default of $200 bonds for continued hearing Aug. 4.

But today chiefs of police from Attleboro, Mansfield, Norton, Norwood, Central Falls, R. I., and many other places near here, and across into Rhode Island are going to submit her to a third degree in the belief that she is the "woman tramp" who has earned the countrywide for the last few weeks.

The woman's husband, who was with her a few hours before her arrest this morning in Norwood Centre, has deserted her in her trouble, and as far as the police can learn, and no trace of him can be found.

Mr. Robinson refuses emphatically to make known his whereabouts or to let one word which would tend to hurt herself and involve him, and related examinations of her along this line proved futile.

"He's not to blame and I won't tell anything about him," I won't tell anything about him," she declares, stamping her foot in anger.

According to the police, the story of a young woman's roamings is one of the most weird that ever came to their attention. It tells of a girl brought amid luxurious surroundings, forced from home by a man and forced to live the life of a tramp with him, sleeping in the woods in wet weather and dry, eating sordid, and then only of wild berries and stolen vegetables, forced to work as a servant, and then deserted by him in an hour of need.

The tale was secured in fragments. Mrs. Robinson was in her cell at the Taunton jail. Pretty once, perhaps, she looked old and haggard last night. Big, brown eyes were lusterless and a wealth of dark brown hair, trowed and snarled, was tucked beneath a boy's cap.

The police learned that she left her home in Canaan with her husband about one month ago, in a light buggy, they drove to Providence.

They had no money and were forced to stop at night in the woods. The horse was tied and allowed to graze. Their only food was berries or stolen vegetables.

Mrs. Robinson said they held the horse and buggy in Providence for $40. With that money they lived a short while and then took to the woods again, finally reaching Mansfield in destitute circumstances.

Mrs. Robinson says she secured employment as a maid, worked for a few days and then wandered as far as Sharon, where she obtained another position, this time in the state sanatorium.

Since then, for the last two weeks, she declared, she and her husband had been living in the woods. According to the police they stole the horse and wagon in Mansfield. Residents of that town declared to after seeing the property and Mrs. Robinson yesterday.

Many other people also came forward and told of breaks in and about Mansfield, and of seeing a "woman tramp" on each occasion.

Mrs. Robinson admits the roaming, tells frankly of it, but denies the horse and wagon were stolen, or that her husband is to blame. She was driving the wagon when the police arrested her in Norwood.

REV. C. A. LINCOLN

THE SUN has received from Rev. C. A. Lincoln a quite lengthy article on the subject of national prohibition, which lack of space prevents its printing in its entirety. Mr. Lincoln takes occasion to compliment The Sun upon the policy of refusing to print liquor advertisements, stating that in this respect The Sun leads in the right direction and is in good accord with increasing numbers. Mr. Lincoln argues for the nationwide abolition of the saloon, not believing that it would completely stop liquor drinking but that it would remove from the gaze of the young and the slaves of appetite an ever-enticing source of temptation. He holds in spite of statements to the contrary that national prohibition is quite workable.

State prohibition of gambling, he says, works better than local option for this sin against society, though our own city bears sufficient testimony to the fact that gambling is not yet abolished.

Arguing for a national standard, we do not say that national prohibition is on an equal footing with the abolition of slavery which was enforced in spite of the unanimous disbelief in it of a great section of our country. The amendment to the constitution abolishing slavery has not settled the vexed race question but it has abolished the legalized ownership of human beings which ownership the whole south now admits to have been a bad thing for it. National prohibition will not automatically make every man in the country a total abstemious, but it will take state and nation out of the business of deliberately debauching its citizens; it will make it easier for men to keep clean habits and harder for them to become intemperate; it will put every dispenser of intoxicating liquors absolutely on the defensive so that any wronged wife or mother can put him in the company of murderers and thieves, and it will make the environment of our American boys and girls much safer than it now is.

The liquor trade, which is in a position to know a good deal about the effectiveness of prohibition and which is frantically circularizing the business men of the country in opposition to national prohibition is distinctly of the opinion that national prohibition would work.

While the time may not be ripe yet for national prohibition, the only way to ripen it is to let the sunlight of truth shine clearly on the whole situation and this can be accomplished only through education. It was persistent agitation on the part of a few men that finally accomplished the overthrow of slavery. The political temperance movement is having a phenomenal growth. Three years after the close of the Civil war there were only 2,500,000 people in our country who lived in prohibition territory. In 1900 there were 18,000,000 persons so situated and, eight years after, the number had doubled, making it 36,000,000. By a conservative estimate it was found that 4,923,750 people lived in no-license territory in 1910. This was a bit more than one-half of our total population. The number is still larger this year. The time for the complete abolition of the legalized liquor tariff seems to be drawing near.

"UNCLE" AFTER JUDGE
MONEY LENDER THREW COURT INTO UPROAR WHEN HE DEMANDED $4000 FROM JUDGE

YONKERS, N. Y., July 28.—The court of special sessions was thrown into an uproar yesterday when Abraham Rothschild, a money lender, entered the room and excitedly demanded of Judge Beall, then on the bench, that the judge return to him $3200 of borrowed money. Rothschild became so excited that Judge Beall left the bench and retired to his chambers. "I have been trying in every way to collect this money," Rothschild shouted, "but I haven't been able to get a lawyer to take up my case simply because you are on the bench."

Judge Beall directed him to bring suit for any alleged indebtedness, but this Rothschild asserted meant delay, and delay, he said, was driving him into bankruptcy. After Judge Beall had left the bench Rothschild was quieted and induced to depart.

NATIONAL PHILATELIC SOCIETY
BOSTON, July 28.—Edward L. Weiss of New York was re-elected president of the National Philatelic society last night. Other officers chosen were E. L. Clark of Lynn, vice president; W. E. Goodwin of Dover, N. H., secretary; A. M. Wright of Hingham, treasurer.

Nine-year-old Gerald Richter of Darien, Conn., became the youngest member of the society when he was elected to membership yesterday.

WHEN AND HOW THE BODY POISONS ITSELF

The underlying cause of much headache, particularly migraine, or sick headache, bilious attacks, vertigo, or dizziness, is intestinal auto-intoxication. This process, recognized only in recent years, is the absorption into the blood of poisons produced in the intestines from the residue of food.

The two most prominent factors in causing this condition are constipation and excessive meat eating. It can therefore be largely avoided by care in the diet and the use of a laxative which will clear away the fermenting residue of food which is generating the poisons.

Pinklets, the new laxative, are admirably suited to protect the body against the dangers of auto-intoxication for they gently assist nature and do not gripe or purge. Harsh purgatives leave the system in a worse condition than it was and it but Pinklets give just the stimulation to the organs of excretion that is needed to produce natural action and if they are used regularly for a time they will really correct constipation.

Your druggist sells Pinklets or they will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 25 cents per bottle, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Send today for booklet and free sample.

HOLDS COURT IN AUTO

AFTER THE SPEEDERS IN NEW JERSEY—GUILTY DRIVERS ONLY SLOW DOWN AND PAY FINE

ATLANTIC CITY, July 28.—Nothing has prevented Justice of the Peace Joseph Weeks of Pleasantville, near here, from fining more automobilists for speeding except lack of time. Whenever State Inspector Anderson Shinn arrested a flitting motorist he had to lug him to Justice Weeks and get him fined before he could get busy arresting, again. Thus precious moments were lost.

Even Justice Weeks couldn't make the days long, and he could inspect Shinn arrest the speeding minutes. But they began yesterday to abolish waste by both going out in the justice's touring car, with Deputy Hamilton sitting in the tonneau.

The first speeder they met was Emil Miller of Philadelphia. Inspector Shinn ranged alongside and arrested him, but told him he didn't have to do anything except slow down. After Mr. Miller had slowed down, the inspector turned to Justice Weeks and preferred charges of speeding against him.

The justice asked the prisoner the usual questions. The prisoner made the usual answers, and Deputy Hamilton, as clerk of the auto court, took the minutes in shorthand. The justice had no gavel to bang, but he tooted his horn.

After he had found Mr. Miller guilty and had fined him $5, he directed that it be handed to Deputy Hamilton. Mr. Miller left court by letting it leave him.

The combination policeman and court did not cease operations until it had found C. C. Babcock of Freehold, Thomas Langhorne of Orange, and Arthur Purdie of Bluefield, Va., each from $5. All were more or less pleased with the idea of having the court brought to them, instead of being brought to court.

Whether or not Jersey courts will become so speedy eventually that they can be called out like fire departments to extinguish crime is a question under debate here.

SOLD DRUG TO PUPILS

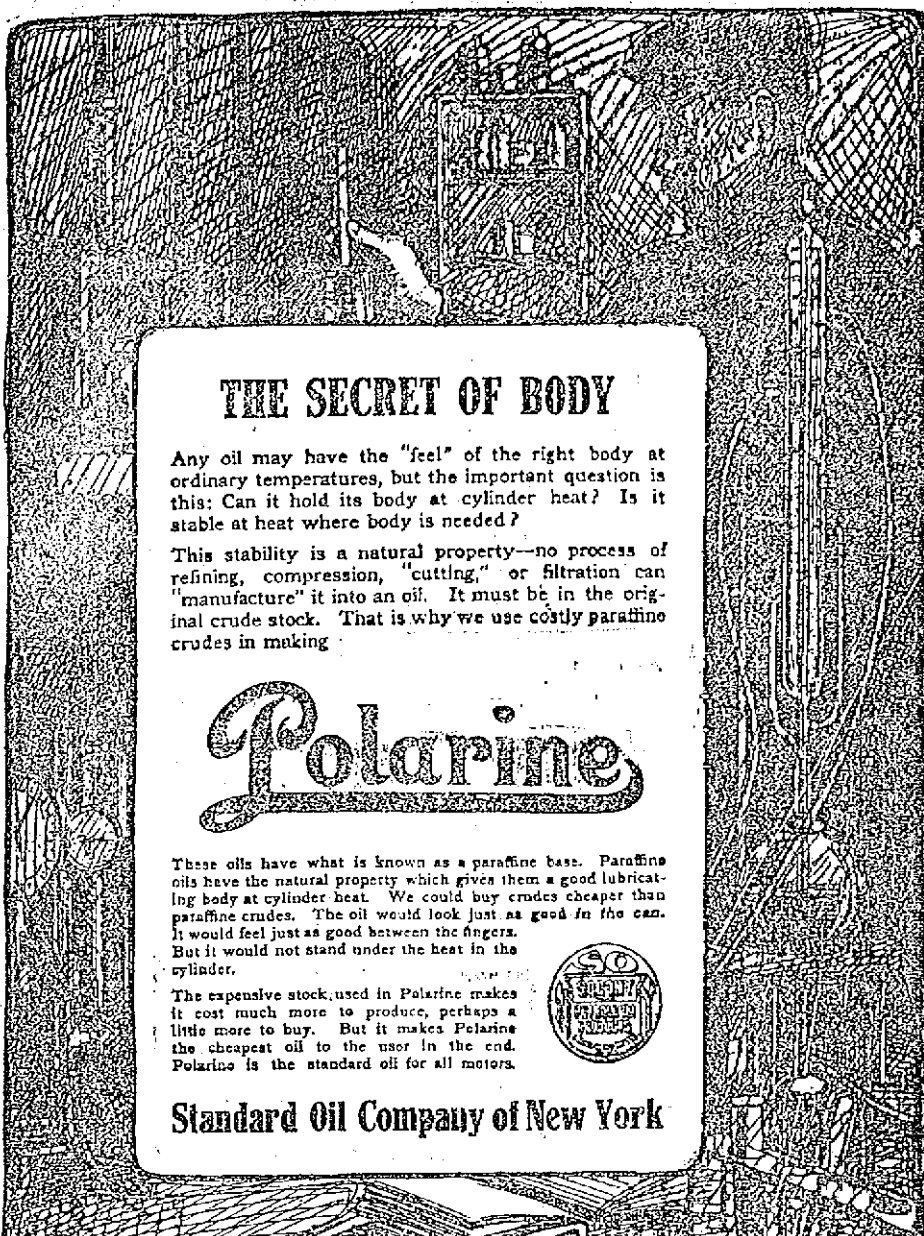

ARREST ALLEGED SELLERS OF HEROIN TO NEW YORK CHILDREN—GANG CAPTURED

NEW YORK, July 28.—Following many complaints received by Police Commissioner Woods that school children in Queens were able to buy heroin almost for the asking it was learned that the supply of the drug that reached Queens from Manhattan was taken over on the Astoria boat, leaving Ninety-second street shortly before 11 o'clock at night.

Inspector Dominick Henry assigned Detectives Fapp and Kunick to get in with the distributors of the heroin. The detectives crossed on the 11 o'clock boat last night with three men and two women, and represented that they, too, were distributors of heroin to school children and others who cared to buy.

On arriving at Astoria the two detectives accompanied the three men and two women to Joseph Bouger's hotel at Fulton avenue and Mills street, near the ferry entrance. The men and women engaged rooms, and a

THE SECRET OF BODY

Any oil may have the "feel" of the right body at ordinary temperatures, but the important question is this: Can it hold its body at cylinder heat? Is it stable at heat where body is needed?

This stability is a natural property—no process of refining, compression, "cutting," or filtration can "manufacture" it into an oil. It must be in the original crude stock. That is why we use costly paraffine crudes in making

These oils have what is known as a paraffine base. Paraffine oils have the natural property which gives them a good lubricating body at cylinder heat. We could buy crudes cheaper than paraffine crudes. The oil would look just as good in the can. It would feel just as good between the fingers. But it would not stand under the heat in the cylinder.

The expensive stock, used in Polarine makes it cost much more to produce, perhaps a little more to buy. But it makes Polarine the cheapest oil to the user in the end. Polarine is the standard oil for all motors.

Standard Oil Company of New York few minutes later were arrested by Inspector Henry and a squad of detectives who came in two automobiles.

In the rooms raided were many packages of heroin done up for ready sale. There were packages that could have been bought for a few cents and packages which would have cost more.

One of the prisoners, said to be Thomas Ruthman of 151 Bay street, Astoria, is said to be the heroin wholesaler. The others were called distributors. They said they were John Duranty of 16 Mill street and John Bannon of 666 Sixth avenue, Astoria; Margaret O'Connor of 1308 Second avenue and Elizabeth Belt of 168 East Ninety-second street, Manhattan.

TO AVERT STRIKE

New Proposals by the Federal Mediators in Chicago

CHICAGO, July 28.—New proposals submitted by federal mediators in an effort to avert a strike of 85,000 locomotive engineers and firemen on 58 western railroads were under consideration by both sides today.

"I am not at liberty to say what the proposals are," asserted Judge Martin A. Knapp, a member of the mediation board, "but we hope they will bring peace. The situation, however, still is grave."

THE DEATH RATE RISES

INCREASE IN NEW YORK DUE MOSTLY TO MEASLES, DIPHTHERIA AND TYPHOID

NEW YORK, July 28.—There were 131 deaths last week in New York, an increase of 82 over the corresponding week in 1913. The increase is due to a larger number of deaths from measles, diphtheria and typhoid. Deaths from tuberculosis decreased. There were eight deaths from sunstroke. Infant mortality shows a decrease from the figures last year.

The death rate for the first 30 weeks of 1914 was 14.37 per 1000, a decrease of nearly a third of a point from last year's figures. Last week the death rate was 12.44, in the corresponding week in 1913 it was 12.13.

MRS. THOMSON TELLS WOMEN

How She Was Helped During Change of Life by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I am just 52 years of age and during Change of Life I suffered for six years terribly. I tried several doctors but none seemed to give me any relief. Every month the pains were intense in both sides, and made me so weak that I had to go to bed. At last a friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me and I tried it at once and found much relief. After that I had no pains at all and could do my own work and shopping the same as always. For years I have praised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for what it has done for me, and shall always recommend it as a woman's friend. You are at liberty to use my letter in any way."—MRS. THOMSON, 19 W. Russell St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Change of Life is one of the most critical periods of a woman's existence. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to carry women so successfully through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from twelve roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and today holds the record of being the most successful remedy for women's ills known.

When I saw that the Missouri would not fail to strike us," he said, "I ordered the passengers away from the rails and sounded quarters" although later such precaution was found to be needless as we were but slightly injured. The impact of the blow sent the Missouri astern and later Capt. Watkins of the freight ship sent word to me by wireless that no accident was needed as only his ship's bow was injured.

Passengers on the Zealand said several women became hysterical but there was no panic.

Capt. Moller said the Zealand did not leak and that no plates were broken.

COLLISION IN MID-OCEAN

STEAMSHIP ZEELAND REACHED NEW YORK AFTER CRASH WITH MISSOURI

NEW YORK, July 28.—The Red Star Line steamship Zealand, which was in collision in mid-ocean with the British freight steamer Missouri last Wednesday, arrived last night with part of the rail on the starboard side smashed in by the bows. The accident occurred in a dense fog about 10.30 o'clock in the forenoon. No one on either vessel was injured.

The Zealand came here from Dover and Antwerp. The Missouri was on her way from Baltimore for London and Antwerp.

The Zealand carried 25 first class and nearly 200 second class passengers. The Zealand had been especially strengthened at the point where the Missouri struck her. Otherwise, according to her captain, J. C. Moller, the Missouri's bow would have cut through the Zealand.

Capt. Moller said he slowed down the Zealand on approaching the fog bank.

"When I saw that the Missouri would not fail to strike us," he said, "I ordered the passengers away from the rails and sounded quarters" although later such precaution was found to be needless as we were but slightly injured. The impact of the blow sent the Missouri astern and later Capt. Watkins of the freight ship sent word to me by wireless that no accident was needed as only his ship's bow was injured.

Passengers on the Zealand said several women became hysterical but there was no panic.

Capt. Moller said the Zealand did not leak and that no plates were broken.

AUTOMOBILE NEWS

IN SCENIC MOTORLAND

Interesting Trip for Motorists
Go—Other Automobile News

Vacation perplexities are often multiplied by the possession of an automobile. For in addition to the momentous question of "where to go," one must answer the not less important one of "How shall I find the way?" Then is added the choosing of not only one or two hotels but the selection of twenty or thirty. In short the man with the motor demands the best roads, the most attractive scenery, and the most delightful stopping places on each and every day of his two weeks' vacation. With the multiplicity of travel and resort bureaus, this would seem a simple matter, but since it costs from five to ten dollars to join each of these, one would first have to find out which one if any could or would give him the information in an unbiased way. For these reasons, travelers are coming more and more to see the advantage of taking a tour which has been laid out in advance by experts, and which has taken into account all of the points not given in the regular guide books. The latest claimant to motorizing favor is a little booklet now in press, describing "The Scenic Motorway," which covers seven states and a part of Canada. This tour arranged by Mr. Henry MacNair, former editor of the Blue Book features the New York-Montreal run, the Berkshire, Adirondack, Green and White mountains, and the famous New England coast. Convenient stops are arranged at selected hotels, which cater to the discriminating guest, and the desirability of good roads and scenic beauty has been consistently observed. The information in the booklet is given in tabular form. Forty full page maps each representing about fifty miles of road are placed consecutively on alternate pages, and opposite each is a brief description of points of interest and mileage at the principal turns, together with a cut of the most desirable hotel. This one has consistently been for him all the information he needs about that particular forty-mile stretch. This entirely novel idea has been worked out with care by Mr. MacNair, who covered the entire trip according to schedule last October, and vouches for the accuracy of the information.

Indeed some parts of the route had never been logged before, and are presented correctly for the first time. Copies of the little booklet may be obtained by motorists from the principal travel and resort bureaus, automobile clubs and hotels, or from Scenic Motorway Headquarters at 337 Fifth Avenue, New York City. This entire trip is so crowded with scenic and historic interest, that it would be difficult to give a comprehensive idea of its manifold attractions in a limited space, but a brief outline of the journey is worthy of consideration. While a circular trip such as this one may start at any point with equal facility, the text begins at New York, and describes the scenes along the Hudson river route to Poughkeepsie, with an alternative trip through the Westchester Hills, where at Bronxville one will find an attractive hotel. In the hills, one passes magnificent estates all the way to and through the Berkshires, those friendly hills whose fame is secure and undying. Lenox is the model capital and Pittsfield the commercial center of this section. The main trip goes through Troy to Saratoga Springs, and thence to the Adirondacks with beautiful Lake Placid, Loon Lake and Upper Saranac, all with delightful hotels, where fishing, hunting and the gentler sports of golf and tennis are always in progress. From Flagstaff, one may make the run to Montreal, that quaint old French city, and descend through the islands of Lake Champlain to Burlington, "Queen City," with its entire modern hotel. The direct route from Pittsfield through the heart of the Green mountain country is given for those whose time is limited. From Burlington the run is made to Lake Memphremagog over the most beautiful road in Vermont, never before logged. At Newport the beaten path follows the shores of Lake Willoughby, the Luzerne of America, down through St. Johnsbury to Bethlehem, the first of the White mountain stops. Thence comes Bretton Woods, with its magnificent hostelry and the world famous Crawford Notch, with its mountain climbing "curves." Circling the famous Presidential range, with towering Mt. Washington overlooking them all, one ascends Pinkham Notch to Gorham, and follows the Androscoggin river into Maine. The explorative one will not choose this trip however, but will go from Newport to the northernmost peaks of the White mountains, and the most beautiful lake lies in a most gorgeous setting, and thence to Bethel, joining the main trip. From Bethel a quick run is made to Portland, but for the traveler who can spare another week, the trip through Maine is recommended, where one may enjoy the beauties of Bangor, Moosehead, Bangor, and Harbor and the jagged coast. Portland sits on a little promontory jutting out into lovely Casco bay, with its myriad of islands. Down to Kewascott one goes seeing but little of the coast until he leaves the Wentworth. Then is a wide expanse of the open sea on our left as we pass by beach and Swansboro, two of the most attractive of the shore resorts. Now an all-park-way drive stretches to Boston where one may well spend a day in visiting the ancient landmarks so carefully preserved. Through the "Fens" and beyond we speed on the park-way, and Newport is reached in record time. Here the "Old Stone Mill" and the fashionable colony of so-called "cottagers" are the attractions. Across the bay lies Narragansett pier, social sister to Newport, with a splendid caravansary. Then ensues the "Shore Drive" through Rhode Island, Connecticut and New York, crowded with attractive stopping places and teeming with points of historic interest. At New Haven one finds the most modern hotel in the state. Then there is ancient Yale inviting a tour of sight-seeing. The run to New York over the famous Post road, a very much beaten track, not yet built to withstand the combined destruction of hoofs, chains and rubber, but with so much of surrounding charm that one forgets the occasional source.

The shop is a large roomy machine shop, with an endless variety of tools necessary for such kind of work and a large force of skilled workmen. The Upton & Gilman Machine Co. specialize on big heavy jobs, such as ordinary garages cannot attend to because of various causes, among them, the lack of facilities. A big feature of this shop is the oxy-acetylene welding, which has won quite a name, not only in this city but also in cities and towns throughout the state.

Lowell Auto Lamp Co.
A new name has been added to The Sun's automobile directory, that of the Lowell Auto Lamp Co., the proprietors of which are the Ward brothers, who are well known about Lowell, having worked at the mechanical business for a number of years. Their work at present is to repair lamps, radiators, etc., in such a skillful way that the customers can scarcely believe that the brand new looking article was the crushed, dented thing they brought into their shops a few days before.

Ray F. Lovejoy is offering gasoline at 15 cents a gallon today and is prepared for a big rush of business. Viewed, the puncheon line is proving very popular among the auto owners.

A. R. Ruggles, formerly of the Ruggles Motor company, has joined forces with James Ruggles of the Moody Bridge Garage. Mr. Ruggles will have charge of the sales department and Mr. Ruggles will devote himself to the garage end of the business. Mr. Ruggles, local agent of the Regal car, sold a Regal touring car to Vasil Mackay of Boston. Mr. Fuller of Branch street bought a King touring car from Mr. Sackley recently.

15 YEARS IMPRISONMENT.
LAWRENCE, WHO LED TO ARREST OF ROBINSON, PARTICIPATED IN TRIPLE MURDER.
GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., July 25.—Walker Lawrence of Covington, Ky., was today sentenced to 15 years' imprisonment in Marquette prison for participation in the robbery and triple murder in the Thomson jewelry store here last September. Lawrence agreed to plead guilty to a manslaughter charge. His confession led to the arrest in Boston of Lawrence Robinson, who recently committed suicide while being tried for the shooting and killing of Inspector Norton, who attempted to arrest him for the Grand Rapids authorities. According to Lawrence, Robinson was directly responsible for the shooting of the three men in the Thomson store.

Bank for Playground.
Through the efforts of Mrs. Hanchett and Mrs. Metcalf a bank for the Aiken street playground has been obtained from Mr. William T. White of the American Hide & Leather company. Supt. Kernan was very glad to get the bank, as he says its use is absolutely necessary on the Aiken street grounds.

DRUNK ON DUTY

Officer Connolly Found
Helpless—Friends Believe He Was Drugged

Lieutenants Freeman, Connors and Maher have been appointed as a trial board by Mayor Murphy to take evidence in the case of Patrolman Michael Connolly, who is charged by Redmond Welch, superintendent of police, with being drunk while on duty. Supt. Welch notified Mayor Murphy this morning and the trial board was appointed at once. The notification stated that Mr. Connolly was found helplessly drunk on his beat in Belvidere this morning. His relatives assert that from all they can learn the officer was induced to drink drugged liquor. He was never known to be under the influence of liquor before and this occurrence is a great shock to them. He is the officer who with his brother was publicly commended last year for arresting a professional burglar loaded with loot from a house on the Highlands.

tribunal of the European powers on the same status as the little Balkan nation.
Austria-Hungary in the interval had proceeded rapidly with the mobilization of her great army, and the entire railroad system was utilized for the movement of troop trains, the telegraph system was virtually monopolized for government business, and a strict censorship was imposed.
Serbia also had mobilized her forces and had withdrawn the garrison of Belgrade, the capital to the interior as the chief city of Serbia occupied a vulnerable position.

Every war action and admiralty in Europe was coupled with preparations for contingencies, even the small countries, such as Holland, Belgium and Switzerland taking precautionary measures.
Then today came the formal declaration of war by Austria-Hungary, one of the members of the triple alliance, the other two parties to which are Germany and Italy.

The notification of the fact was sent this afternoon to the Serbian government which had its temporary headquarters at Kracovie.
It is anticipated here that a declaration of the beginning of hostilities would follow quickly on Germany's decision to hold aloof from any scheme of mediation. The German foreign office had said that a conference of ambassadors would in its opinion serve no useful purpose while "conditions" between Vienna and St. Petersburg were still in progress.
The attitude of Russia was watched carefully today in official circles here and the firm belief was expressed that Russia would enter the lists in support of the little Slavic kingdom as soon as fighting started in earnest.

GLASGOW, Scotland, July 25.—Three Italian warships visiting the Clyde were ordered today to return to Italian waters.

ACTIVE HOSTILITIES BETWEEN AUSTRIA AND SERBIA BEGAN THIS MORNING

PARIS, July 25.—The Austrian ambassador to France today said it was probable that active hostilities between Austria-Hungary and Serbia began this morning but at 11 o'clock he had not received any telegram to that effect from Vienna.

The suspension of all trading in futures was decided on at a general meeting today of the commercial exchange dealing in grain, sugar and all commodities in bulk. This decision will remain in force until an improvement occurs in the international situation.

BERLIN, July 25.—The German admiralty today ordered the concentration of the German fleet in home waters.

GERMAN GOVERNMENT WILL NOT ENTER CONFERENCE OF EUROPEAN POWERS

BERLIN, July 25.—The German government today returned an unfavorable reply to the British proposal for a conference of the ambassadors in London of the European powers in an endeavor to bring about a settlement of the Austro-Servian controversy.

In its communication Germany declares that it considers the suggestion of Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary, as well meant and good in principle but not feasible in practice and impossible to carry out. The communication says it cannot be expected that a great power having a dispute with a smaller neighbor will submit the matter to the decision of a European assembly. Far less can it be hoped that two great powers will submit to be summoned in the role of accused before such a tribunal.

Germany makes the counter suggestion that negotiations for peace be conducted between the cabinets instead of by a conference.

GREAT EXODUS OF AUSTRIANS AND HUNGARIANS FROM SERBIA

BELGRADE, July 25 (by indirect route).—Many Serbian families have left the capital for the country districts and there has been a great exodus of Austrians and Hungarians from Belgrade and other parts of Serbia. Perfect order prevails in the capital, the police duties having been undertaken by a corps of volunteers composed of students.

AUSTRIA-HUNGARY HAS DECIDED TO REFUSE SIR EDWARD GREY'S PROPOSAL

VIENNA, July 25.—The imperial Austro-Hungarian foreign office declared today that even should Serbia now comply with the demands contained in the Austrian note, the government of the dual monarchy would not be satisfied. Officials at the ministry stated that Serbia's reply had made it impossible for Austria-Hungary to adhere to her former standpoint and compliance by Serbia with the demands made on her could no longer influence the course of action of the Austro-Hungarian empire.
It was said officially here today that Austria-Hungary had decided to refuse Sir Edward Grey's proposal of an ambassadorial conference in London.

GRAY BUYS MATTY ZIESER IN POLICE COURT FITCHBURG BALL CLUB GOES TO MANCHESTER

Lowell's Pitching Mainstay of Last Season Returns to This City

"MATTY" ZIESER

The glad news was received in local baseball circles this morning that Matty Zieser, dear to the hearts of the local fans on account of his wonderful pitching in this city during the past two years, is coming back to Lowell and very soon at that. In fact, it is thought that Matty will arrive in town tomorrow.

Manager Gray has been dickered with the Red Sox for the return of his "old reliable" for the past three weeks but the deal was not completed up to this morning. Evidently Manager Bill Carrigan decided that his pitching staff was in excellent shape for the pennant hunt and determined to sell Zieser. Anyhow, Matty is now on his way to Lowell and will wear a local uniform for the remainder of the New England league season.

It is almost needless to recall the great box work which Zieser performed for Lowell last season for the fans are well acquainted with the Chicago Dutchman's record. It was Zieser's pitching which proved the greatest factor in the post-season series as well as in bringing home the pennant. It's a cinch Matty will be given an ovation when he takes the mound for the first time.

ATHLETES AND ATHLETICS

Well, we're up another notch. Now to pull down Lynn and jump into that first division.

It looks as though Burke had found his ball all right. His three bingles yesterday cheered the heart of Jimmy Gray as nothing else could have done.

Once more both the Red Sox and the Athletics won. It was Connie Mack's fifth consecutive win. Dutch Leubsdorf shut out the Naps 3-0, in an errorless game.

All that is necessary is to touch every base. If the runner touched first base when he ran over it that is all that is required no matter which way he turned after passing the tag.

Frank McPherson and Billy "Big" McMahon played errorless ball and worked very well together. It is said that Terry McGovern of the Lewiston club is after the services of McPherson.

This Speaker had another busy day. Eight putouts was his record in the field, with one assist, and at the bat the Red Sox won by a score of 3-0. Gray had a triple and a brace of doubles out of three trips to the plate.

Shorten, the sensational Worcester outfielder, has at last jumped into the lead in the fight for first place among New England league sluggers. Shorten boasts an average this week of .574.

The team in Manchester, however, will have to show signs of life. Although Manchester has always been known as a good sporting town, the New Hampshire fans will not support a steady loser.

Those who went out to Spaulding park yesterday saw one good ball game. It was the Red Sox center fielder, Benji Lohman, who held the visitors in the hollow of his hand when they tried to overcome the locals' one run lead.

Tomorrow the local team journeys to Lawrence and a special car will be sent down river to accommodate the fans from this city. The last time that the two clubs met in Lawrence nearly half of the spectators were from Lowell.

Sporting Editor: On a ball hit to the infield a batter runs over first base and then turns to his right only to find that an overthrow has been made to the first baseman. Must the runner touch first base before continuing on to second?—A Fan.

Sheehan got a good start. His triple scored DeGroot and started the run-getting. Sheehan looked rather awkward around the second sack although he grabbed everything that came his way. The new infielder is really a shortstop and it will take a few games to accustom him to his new berth.

Lawrence now has a four game lead over Worcester. The game in the down river city yesterday between the two clubs proved a hard fought struggle with Lawrence hitting the ball harder and oftener. Lawrence will have to take a decided slump for either Worcester or Portland to pick up the leadership now.

Thompson of Lawrence is the logical leader of the circuit's pitchers although several heavy hitters who have worked in a few games lead him. Stimpson and Greenhalge are the only Lowell batters who are hitting over the .300 mark. Weaver still leads the local twirlers. Stimpson is hitting for .322 and Greenhalge for .317.

Dave Caldwell, the inter-collegiate half-mile champion, will be one of the prominent figures at the Caledonian games next Saturday. Caldwell is the middle distance crack who broke John Paul Jones' record last spring. Jimmy Duffy who ran in this city last Memorial day, will compete in the five-mile run at the same games.

The shift to Manchester of the Fitchburg franchise ought to help out the New England game receipts to a big extent. Manchester has been without baseball for so long that the fans up that way are well high starved for a sight of two league teams battling. It is the best move that has been made in the league this season, we think.

Our old friend, Jake Boules is making good at the Bridgeport and is a strong contender for the pennant. New London and Waterbury are ahead of Bridgeport in the standing at present, but Jake's team is coming right along. The Lowell team never had a harder working or more conscientious player than the same Jake.

Speaking of Jake Boules, Saturday's Springfield Union says: "The Bridgeport manager Jake Boules of the Bridge-

Minor Cases Before the Court—Woman Threw Stone Into Station

John Miller and Edna M. Sullivan were arraigned in the local court today on two complaints charging them with unlawfully occupying a camp in Danvers and a statutory offence. The case went to trial under a plea of not guilty and as the government failed to submit sufficient evidence, both were discharged.

The complaint in the case was Mrs. Marie Lavoie, owner of the camp. She and several witnesses claimed that the two defendants spent considerable time in and about the camp during the past few days and as a result Officer Sullivan was summoned to arrest them. The judge found no evidence on which to hold the defendants on such a serious charge.

Another chapter in the theft and disposal of a copper boiler valued at $35, the property of Edward Cawley, was revealed today when Joseph Buynarsky was charged with receiving stolen property from James Harrison and John Lavery. Mr. Cawley testified that the boiler was taken from his building on Church street, and the two lads were called to identify the man to whom they sold it. However, it seems that a settlement is on the way and the case was continued for one month.

Autoist Fined
Charles Lefebvre will undoubtedly stop his automobile the next time he is hailed by a police officer. According to Police Officer Bradley, Lefebvre did not sound his horn when he turned the corner of Allen and Hall streets yesterday, and so the officer attempted to stop him to give him a warning. However, Lefebvre put on his speed and hence his appearance in court this forenoon. He was fined $2 and warned not to let the matter occur again.

Larceny Charge
Ernest Turner entered a plea of guilty to a complaint charging him with the larceny of a gold watch, chain and chain all valued at $32, from one Joseph Moore. The case was continued until tomorrow for sentence.

Patrolman O'Sullivan and Sergeant Dunham were called to a house on Charles street early last evening where, it is alleged, one James Smith and his son were in a fight. As a result, Smith was arraigned in court today, accused of drunkenness. The police officers testified that upon entering the house they found the defendant swinging a huge bread knife with which he threatened the officers who were present.

Patrolman O'Sullivan and Sergeant Dunham were called to a house on Charles street early last evening where, it is alleged, one James Smith and his son were in a fight. As a result, Smith was arraigned in court today, accused of drunkenness. The police officers testified that upon entering the house they found the defendant swinging a huge bread knife with which he threatened the officers who were present.

Non-support of his wife, Matilda, was the charge preferred against Joseph Landry, a young man of rather neat appearance. The complaint said that she had been unreasonably neglected of late and her husband had refused to work. The husband said he had been ill. The case was continued two weeks.

In police court today, George E. Hancosch was complained of by his wife for drunkenness. Mrs. Hancosch testified that George had been leading a very unsound life of late and that she did not care to have him around her household. The witness said that the defendant recently entered her house and took a gold watch which he pawned in a local pawnshop. Hancosch was committed to the Lowell jail for three months.

Stephen Bobbie pleaded not guilty to assault and battery upon John Santos and had his case continued until tomorrow for trial. James Morrison was asked to pay a fine of two dollars for keeping an unleashed dog.

Thomas O'Laughlin was accused of being drunk on two successive days. He was committed to the city jail for 30 days after being bailed out was arrested again.

O'Laughlin pleaded guilty to both complaints and was fined $10.

Catherine McCarney has failed to keep her promise to remain sober and was sent to jail for three months. Three first offenders were released, while two 16 fines were imposed.

Three Stone Into Station
Elizabeth Riley was arrested on the sidewalk in front of the police station about 10 o'clock this forenoon after she had thrown a heavy stone through a window into the office occupied by Deputy Downey. What the woman's grievance was is not known. The woman has been in court on previous occasions charged with drunkenness and is at present on parole.

Witnesses say that Mrs. Riley waited in front of the window and after taking a large stone from under her cape, threw it at the window. The missile smashed the window and also landed in the room, landing in the center of the office.

The woman's action cannot be understood unless she wanted to be arrested.

The Red Sox are to play here Aug. 17 and the Athletics on Sept. 2, and Washington on October 7.

Precautionary Plans Against Another Conflagration—Fireproofing of Roofs Ordered

BOSTON, July 28.—Precautionary plans against another conflagration in Salem were adopted yesterday by the rebuilding commission, to the effect that no wooden buildings more than two and one-half stories high may be erected in the fire district, and that buildings of even this height must have armored roofs, metal cornices and gutters and cellars that are well protected from fire hazard.

The commission held an all-day session at city hall, discussing plans for making the new Salem a better, surer and more fireproof city. There was a warm debate over the building of new fire houses and a school in the destroyed district, but nothing was decided.

Permission was granted to allow a temporary roof to be constructed over the standing walls of the St. Joseph's church on Lafayette street. If the fire inspectors declare the walls of the building safe, the parochial school will be opened on the street floor of the edifice. Temporary church services will be held in the basement.

Edward W. Longley, a member of the commission, stated yesterday that the work of rebuilding would be hastened as much as possible. Plans for the widening of Shaw boulevard, which runs along the water front, and the Derby street have been decided upon, he said. The commission also plans to commence the work of repairing the streets and sidewalks immediately.

The food supply depot at the army was discontinued yesterday. The Forest River park refugee camp will be kept some time. A new system of supply distribution was installed and food, clothing, etc., given out in the future will be given through vouchers. Nearly 500 still remain at the refugee camp.

Over half of the people who were made homeless by the fire are now employed, according to the statement of the employment bureau. All of the skilled men who were out of work have positions. Only about 450 semi-trained help remain to be placed.

The city will provide work for many men when the burned district is cleaned up. The men will dig sewers, clear out the burned trees and repair sidewalks and streets. Between 30 and 40 men are placed daily by the employment bureau.

Tomorrow morning an exhibition of temporary building material will be opened by the chamber of commerce in the army. The chamber hopes in this way to encourage many to build a greater share of the 60 factories and 2500 homes to be replaced out of non-combustible substances.

Scores of companies will have apogee at the exhibit. Those showing their products will pay rent. The money obtained will go for the expense of the project and all funds remaining will help swell the relief fund.

MORE RIOTING IN DUBLIN
DUBLIN, July 28.—Rioting broke out again last night but subsided without serious results.

The rumor went about that the Scottish Borderers, who did the killing yesterday, would enter at the Ansons street station. A great crowd, for the most part from the slums, surrounded the station and amused themselves by stoning the street cars.

Six hundred volunteers paraded through the street a crowd of 400 following them, marching in step and singing.

Feeling runs high throughout nationalist Ireland. Town councils are adopting resolutions denouncing "the massacre."

The soldiers of the Americk and Kilkenny garrisons are confined to barracks and concerts by military bands in several towns have been cancelled.

The Lord Mayor of Dublin has called a meeting of the city magistrates to consider the action of the police and soldiers in calling out the police and soldiers without consulting the city officials.

It is announced here that Sir John Ross, the police commissioner, resigned as a protest against the suspension of Deputy Commissioner Harrell. The nationalists are delighted, as Commissioner Ross was unpopular.

Mrs. DELARONDE INJURED
Charles D. Delaronde, father of Chas. A. Delaronde of the A. G. Pollard Co., returned yesterday from a seven-months' stay at Holyoke, where he was the guest of relatives. Mr. Delaronde, who is 42 years of age, suffered a bad accident on his return trip, which will keep him confined to his home for some time. He alighted from the train at Manchester, N. H., and fell on the platform, injuring his head badly. He was given first aid and then traveled back to Lowell, arriving at his home in a very exhausted condition. This morning, however, he was reported as resting comfortably.

AN APPEAL FOR $300,000

From Wealthy Friends in This Country in Aid of Irish Volunteers and Home Rule

PHILADELPHIA, July 25.—Following is the text of the appeal issued yesterday by Michael J. Ryan, president of the United Irish League of America: "To Americans of Irish blood or birth:

"John E. Redmond, chairman of the Irish parliamentary party and head of the Irish National Volunteers, has appealed to me, as president of the United Irish League of America, to Americans of Irish birth or blood, for aid to the defenceless people of Ireland.

"All sincere men had hoped that it would not be necessary to employ force but now we see the army arrayed against the law, and massacring those who stand for respect to the will of the majority and constituted authority.

"For years 'gun-running' by the so-called unionists of a part of Ulster has been permitted without obstruction. If a small minority of the people have the right to arm themselves, it ought not to be denied the overwhelming majority, such as the nationalists of Ireland are.

Specific Action Required
"It is, however, useless to debate. Speedy action is now required by all who profess sympathy with the cause of human liberty. Money is needed, and money will be most effective by being placed in the hands of Mr. Redmond at once.

"There are vast numbers of the Irish race in the United States who are possessed of great wealth, and sneaking for Mr. Redmond to these I now turn and make a personal appeal.

"I ask 100 Americans to each give $1000.
"I ask 200 Americans to each give $500.
"I ask 1000 Americans to each give $100.
"These three divisions will aggregate $300,000.

There ought to be at least this small number of men in all the cities and towns of the 48 states of the American Union to make up this honor roll.

Text for the Race
"This is the moment for action, and our race is put to the test. I request all subscribers to be sent to Thomas B. Fitzpatrick, national treasurer, 109 Kingston street, Boston, Mass., or if men prefer it, they may remit directly to John E. Redmond, care of the house of commons, London, Eng., and notify Mr. Fitzpatrick of their action. I call on all our people who are not in possession of an abundance of this world's goods to each contribute one day's pay, or one week's pay, as they may afford, and so will the fund accordingly.

"Not asking any man to do that which I will not do myself, I subscribe $1000. (Signed) Michael J. Ryan, 'National President United Irish League of America.'

MUSICIANS' OUTING
The members of the local Musicians' union are making arrangements for their annual outing which will be held sometime next month. This is an event that is long looked forward to by the musicians and last year's affair was so successful that all are deeply interested to make the 1914 outing a banner one in the history of the organization. The outing last year was conducted at Nahansett grove and was largely attended, many visitors coming from out-of-town. This year the place has not yet been selected, but it is probable that Nahansett will again be the choice of the committee. The affair is in the hands of the entertainment committee consisting of the following: William Regan, William Flynn, James C. Usher, Charles B. Thompson and Z. I. Bismontette.

DECLINES AT OPENING

UNSETTLEMENT DUE TO CONDITIONS ABROAD—AVALANCHE OF SELLING IN LAST HOUR

NEW YORK, July 28.—Further unsettlement occurred in the stock market today as a result of feverish conditions abroad. London's range for American was from two to almost three points under yesterday's close. Declines here were slightly less severe. Canadian Pacific, Smelting, Republic Steel and American Car losing from 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 points, while Erie, Southern Railway, Southern Pacific, New Haven, St. Paul, Lehigh Valley, United States Steel, Bethlehem Steel and Amal were off a point each. Trading had little of yesterday's activity but continuance of gold exports called renewed attention to the foreign situation.

The list registered further declines in the second hour, many important issues falling under yesterday's low while not a few of the better classes, including Canadian Pacific and Bethlehem Steel, broke to lowest quotations recorded in years. The deliberate decline was attended by cables from various European centres intimating that Austria intended to occupy the Serbian capital.

Foreign exchange was again subject to violent fluctuations as a result of the heavy gold outflow, which was increased by additional large shipments to London. Exposed rates were only nominal as many bankers and institutions declined to buy or sell exchange at all.

Stocks were unloaded on an increasing scale when Austria's war declaration became known. Blocks of from 100 to 200 shares changed hands and the whole market bent under the weight of the enormous offerings. International shares were forced down violently.

An avalanche of selling, largely foreign, overtook the market in the last hour, creating a condition known as the "Austrian panic." Canadian Pacific fell until its loss reached a fraction less than 20 points. All the other investment stocks yielded from four to six points. There were occasional rallies, but the support recorded was hardly sustained as the weight of the offerings, which continued to the end.

Austria's declaration of war against Serbia provoked a convulsive upheaval in this market, leading stocks showing maximum declines of five to 20 points. Canadian Pacific being the chief sufferer. The closing was extremely weak.

the baseball game employees of the Standard Bottling Co. noticed that their little stand had been broken into.
After an investigation it was found that the thieves took away a few dollars worth of cigars, etc. The police have been notified.

RUSSIA'S FAMOUS COSSACKS ON MARCH; THE THE CZAR AND KING GEORGE OF ENGLAND

RUSSIAN COSSACKS—2. CZAR OF RUSSIA—3. KING GEORGE OF ENGLAND

The danger of a general European war rests with Russia and England. If the czar decides to send his cossacks and other troops against Austria and her allies in case war is declared England will back him up with her enormous navy, the greatest in the world. Germany will not likely make a move until she knows what Russia and England will do. England has troubles of her own at home with Ulster, and it is thought King George would hesitate long before he ordered his ships to make a hostile move.

convention at Norfolk, Va., returned home today. They were Rev. John P.
Flynn, O. M. I., James O'Sullivan, P. J.
McConn, Patrick W. Moran and John J.
Murphy. They report the convention to be the best ever held by the order in point of action, enthusiasm and numbers.

The order placed itself on a strong platform in favor of the home rule cause and in support of the Irish Volunteers, and this particular feature aroused more enthusiasm than any other in the convention.

James O'Sullivan took a prominent part in the work of the convention, serving on the most important committees and making several speeches that won great applause.

Don Bourke Cockran made one of the greatest speeches of his life and it was applauded to the echo.

Among the other great orators were Archbishop O'Connell of Richmond, Va., and Rev. Fr. Fitzgerald, state chaplain of Clinton, Mass.

Among the delegates were Rev. James
Quinn, O. M. I., of Texas, Rev. Fr. Hickey, Rev. Fr. Sherry, O. M. I., of Ottawa university, Rev. Charles McCartin, O.
M. I., of this city was a guest at the convention and enjoyed the proceedings very much.

The general verdict of all who attended, and they numbered about 700, was that this convention was the most enthusiastic and successful ever held by the order.

A cablegram of sympathy and pledge of support was sent to John Redmond, voicing the sentiment of the convention.

Mayor Curley of Boston was a guest at the banquet in the evening and electrified the audience by his eloquence.

REPORT THAT DIAZ AND HUERTA PLAN COUNTER REVOLUTION IS DENIED

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Joseph Castiell, personal representative here of Provisional President Carranza, today emphatically denied published reports from Toronto that Gen. Felix Diaz was expecting Gen. Huerta to plan a counter revolution in Mexico. The report, said Mr. Castiell, is attributed to Luis Figueroa, one of the delegates to the Niagara mediation conference and the best friend of Huerta. He is now in Europe and has not been heard from for several weeks. "In any case, however, he would never have said anything so absurd," Mr. Castiell declared, satisfactory progress toward a peaceful settlement with Carranza was being made. The only disturbing factor in the present situation from the viewpoint of administration officials was the decision by Gen. Antonio Villareal, expelled former president from the state of Nuevo Leon, of which he is military governor, and restricting the activity of the Catholic church. The Western Union telegraphed some time ago that Carranza was considering the possibility of the church question, hoping to modify the attitude of the constitutionalist. Representations are now expected to be received.

TAKEN FROM CELL

Becky Edelson, Anarchist, Weak From Hunger Strike. Taken to Tarrytown.

NEW YORK, July 25.—Becky Edelson, taken from more than a week's fast, broken intermittently by taking small quantities of food surreptitiously, was taken to Tarrytown today from her cell in the Tombs, where she had been confined for three months, rather than furnish a $300 bond to keep the peace. She was thin and pale and her condition was considered sufficiently serious to warrant sending a workhouse doctor with her. Mrs. Edelson's trip to Tarrytown was in obedience to a writ of habeas corpus, requiring her presence in court there as a witness in the trial of nine of her associates in the Industrial Workers of the World.

When Mrs. Edelson reached Tarrytown she appeared to be in a state of collapse. She had to be carried from the automobile to the courthouse and assisted up the stairs.

WENT OVER EMBANKMENT

Occupants of Auto Badly Injured When Machine Dropped About Forty Feet.

FALL RIVER, July 25.—While motoring from Taunton to their summer home at Taunton, R. I., last night Mrs. Edward P. Whitmarsh, her sister-in-law, Miss L. Whitmarsh, and William Andrews of Taunton were seriously injured when their machine went over the side of a 45 foot embankment on Taunton road in Taunton. Mrs. Andrews suffered a fracture of the collar bone and Mrs. Whitmarsh and Miss Whitmarsh were badly shaken up.

CHARGE OF SWINDLING

Nestor Wilmar, Belgian Banker, Sentenced to 10 Years and Fined $500 in Brussels.

BRUSSELS, July 25.—Nestor Wilmar, Belgian banker, railroad man, newspaper proprietor and sportsman, was sentenced today to ten years' imprisonment and $500 fine on a charge of swindling the public out of $1,000,000 by over-lending shares in the Ghent-Termonzee railway in 1912.

Five accomplices also were sentenced. The railway is the only privately owned line in Belgium, and the operations of Wilmar and his associates placed a number of small banks in difficulties. He disappeared in 1902 and after a world-wide search was arrested at Rheims, France.

WESTMINSTER DUCHESS

TO SEE THE INTERNATIONAL CUP RACES FROM SIR THOMAS LIP-TON'S ERIN

DUCHESS OF WESTMINSTER

LONDON, July 25.—The Duchess of Westminster will be in the party of Sir Thomas Lipton when he sails for New York, Aug. 27, to witness the racing of the Shamrock IV, his challenger, for the America's cup. Her grace is immensely interested in the race and will watch it with the eye of a sailor, having handled large boats and having been skinned in many a brush, with yachts. She was born on the shore of the Solent, and her experience with sailboats covered the period of her girlhood and has since been extended whenever circumstances permitted. The trip follows a new settlement with the duke, which increases the duchess's allowance from £10,000 to £20,000 a year.

Continued

Members of the council state that they have not yet assimilated the evidence in the case.

Mayor Murphy called to order at 11:50 with all members present.

The mayor read the petition of Daniel M. Leary for a permit to keep gasoline in Grove street.

William D. Ryan, Esq., appeared for the petitioner and the matter was referred to Commissioner Carmichael as was also like petitions by Wilfred Blum and E. Martel.

Several petitions for pole locations on the city streets were properly referred.

Weighter of Cotton.

The appointment of James J. Walsh as a cotton weighter for the Massachusetts mills was granted.

A. Arnold was appointed constable to serve civil process.

Petitions for sewers by Samuel Tompkins and others were referred to the commissioner of streets and highways and orders for sidewalks in Marion street were adopted.

Drowned in Hale's Brook.

The mayor read a communication from Harry Andrew, administrator of the estate of Marion Andrew, who lost her life by falling into Hale's brook on March 21, 1914. The communication was in the form of a claim for loss of life, it being maintained that the bridge across the brook should have been closed by the city as it was not a public way. The matter was referred to the law department.

John Donnelly Agniti.

Mayor Straps Cows.

Mayor Murphy requested permission to exchange six cows for five, the exchange to be made with a man in Chelmsford. The mayor explained that the six cows belonging to the city are old and have outgrown their usefulness as milk producers, while the five cows to be received in exchange are young. The authority to make the exchange was granted.

Codfish for Farm.

A contract with Mansfield & Witham for codfish for the Chelmsford street hospital at $7.50 per 100 pounds was approved and the order adopted.

Changed His Mind.

At the last meeting of the council a petition for a gasoline license, Mr. B. French, was given leave to withdraw, and today Commissioner Donnelly asked that the council reconsider its action and that the petition be granted. It was so voted.

An order introduced by Commissioner Brown providing for the payment of city bills on the first day of the month instead of on the fifteenth day of the month, for the purpose of simplifying the bookkeeping, was adopted.

Wants Street Scarifier.

An order presented by Commissioner Brown for the purchase of a Buffalo Pitts improved scarifier, with an extra set of ten teeth, was presented and adopted. The scarifier to be purchased through the purchasing agent.

Mr. Morse explained that the scarifier would do the work of several men and that Lowell should have had one years ago.

Taking Decennial Census.

The following communication from the chief of the state bureau of labor and statistics was received and placed on file:

To the Mayor and City Council, Lowell, Mass.: Gentlemen: I beg to call your attention to the relations of section 2, chapter 692, acts of the year 1914, which act to provide for taking the decennial census. This section reads as follows:

"Upon the petition of a city government of any city filed with the director of the bureau of statistics prior to the first day of January in the year 1915 for an enumeration of the city in such manner as to show the number of inhabitants and legal voters in each street, square or avenue, or in such blocks or squares of the city as may be designated, and specifying the details with which it is desired that the results thereof shall be tabulated, the enumeration shall so be made; provided, that the director is able to procure such maps or plans as may be necessary for this purpose. The tabulations herein provided for shall be limited to such inquiries as appear upon the regular schedules for the census of population provided for in section 1 of this act, and upon the completion of the tabulations of the statistics of the city, the director shall issue his warrant as provided in section 31 of part 1 of chapter 490 of the acts of the year 1909, requiring the assessors of the cities concerned to assess a tax to the amount of such expense, and the said amount shall be collected and paid over to the treasurer and receiver general in the same manner as other state taxes. A copy of any tabulations made in accordance with this section, shall, as soon as possible thereafter, be filed by the director of the bureau of statistics with the city clerk of the city for which they were prepared."

Very truly yours, Charles F. Gettemy, Director. Adjourned to Tuesday at 11 a. m.

STEAMER DISABLED

Boat Which Plies Between Salisbury Beach and Haverhill Has Mishap Today.

NEWBURY, July 25.—The Merrimack river steamer Turtle, bound from Salisbury beach for Haverhill, was disabled by the blowing out of a steamship off her bow today. There were only a few passengers on board and all were landed in the steamer's boats. No one was hurt and but little damage resulted.

DEMONSTRATIONS AT BUDAPEST

BUDAPEST, July 25.—A great patriotic demonstration took place in the Hungarian diet today when the royal receipt was presented to parliament. The deputies cheered for the king, the country and the army. Speeches were made by prominent deputies during which every patriotic word was loudly applauded.

BIG FIRE NEAR OTTAWA

OTTAWA, July 25.—Fire which started late last night in the Gilmore & Hughes lumber yards at Hull, near here, destroyed 3,000,000 feet of lumber as well as a large quantity of mill work. The loss is heavy.

$600,000 For Salem

BOSTON, July 25.—The fund of the relief for the Salem fire sufferers passed the $600,000 mark today. The total of the subscriptions was $600,625.

STEAMER ARRIVES

NEW YORK, July 25.—Arrived steamer Albatross from Piraeus.

1-SERVIAN INFANTRY 2-EMPEROR FRANCIS JOSEPH 3-CZAR OF RUSSIA

Servia was prepared to sacrifice her last soldier, regular or reservist, in her difficulty with Austria. Though possessing only a small standing army—32,000 in time of peace and 240,000 in time of war—it was apparently certain that Russia would hasten to her aid and that thus Europe might be involved in a general war. Crown Prince Alexander, who has been really the ruler of Servia since his father, King Peter, dropped the active reins of government, planned to lead his troops in person. The aged Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria took active charge of the situation as far as his country was concerned.

TWO LOWELL MEN

Saw Auto Strike Buggy—Pushed Their Lightless Motor Cycle From Stoneham.

A buggy owned by a Mr. Ellis of Stoneham was struck by an automobile late last night near Stoneham. The buggy was upset and the people thrown out. The car was owned by E. B. Hood of Charlestown. Charles Ellis of Linden street and Grover Warren of Flood street, this city, were witnesses of the accident. They were riding a motor cycle and as their lights gave out they did not dare to ride the machine, but pushed it home.

EXTRADITION POSTPONED

Joseph J. Duddy, Alleged Accomplice, Wanted in West Virginia is Also Wanted in Boston.

BOSTON, July 25.—A hearing on the question of extradition to West Virginia of Joseph J. Duddy, an alleged accomplice of Lawrence Robinson, who killed Police Inspector Norton while resisting arrest and subsequently committed suicide in jail, was held before Attorney General Upton today. By agreement of counsel, extradition was postponed until after Aug. 15 when Duddy is to be tried here on a charge of murder.

Duddy is wanted in West Virginia on a charge of larceny.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

COLUMBUS, Neb., July 25.—Early arrivals to the state democratic convention to adopt a platform were agreed that the deliberations would be harmonious. Pre-convention talk of differences over the propriety of putting a woman suffrage plank in the platform did not materialize into any pronounced sentiment in favor of such action.

Representatives of United States Bryan and Hitchcock were in the city early and all agreed that any differences that there might have been between President Wilson and Senator Hitchcock would be buried at today's convention.

PARIS MURDER TRIAL

attorneys representing the family of the murdered editor.

Madame Calliaux again fainted in court today and Judge Albanel suspended the sitting.

Madame Calliaux had been becoming visibly weaker as the sitting continued and appeared unconscious of what was occurring in court. A hot water bottle was placed beneath her feet and a cushion at her back soon after she entered the court.

Meanwhile Maître Seligman continued his address. He said:

"The sons of Gaston Calmette asked us to bring them to this court to seek justice. We refused to do so, but do not forget gentlemen of the jury, with what anguish the orphans await your verdict. You have heard witness after witness speak in praise of the late M. Calmette. There has been only one discordant note and that came from M. Calliaux. What connection with the case has the fortune of the murdered man? How many millions must a man have in order to permit his being assassinated with complete impunity?"

Mme. Calliaux Collapsed.

Following Maître Seligman came Maître Chenu and his cutting analysis of the actions of Madame Calliaux on the day of the tragedy was too much for the prisoner. She collapsed and fell in a heap on the floor of the prisoner's enclosure. As she swooned Maître Chenu was saying:

"I will speak of nothing except the assassination of M. Calmette. I will ask the accused whether when she spoke of her love for her daughter, she thought of the two children of M. Calmette, whose pictures never left her. I shall not attempt to go into the biography of Mme. Calliaux. She is a cool, sensible woman without emotion or pity. She has loved only for herself. She worked with tenacity to break up her lover's home. You see the result—the mistress triumphed over the lawful spouse. They are bound up in each other, in their happiness in their hopes, even in their murder plans."

"M. Calliaux is a man of inordinate and limitless ambition, whose power rests on his own audacity and on the fear he inspires."

"M. Calliaux omitted to tell his wife of the assurances given by President Poincaré that Calmette was incapable of printing private letters. They did not fear that. What they feared was the publication of the report by Victor Fabre on the Rochette swindle."

"The husband's violent words at the lunch table decided the wife to substitute herself for him and she prepared the assassination with as much calm as a society woman filling in calls between two tea parties."

COUNT SAYS CALMETTE WAS IN THE PAY OF HUNGARIAN GOVERNMENT

NEW YORK, July 25.—The disclosure of the relations between Gaston Calmette and the present Hungarian government, though advantageous to the defense of Mme. Calliaux in her trial for the killing of Calmette, was in fact a move in Hungarian party politics. Count Michael Karolyi, leader of the Hungarian radicals, said last night on the eve of his departure for Hungary.

Count Karolyi confirmed his part in furnishing Calliaux with the papers which the latter presented in court in Paris yesterday. He said this was not done as a service of one friend to another in trouble, though he responded affirmatively to a question whether M. Calliaux was a friend of his.

The papers were of this year's date, the count said, and were two in number, one letter addressed to Calmette by personages in Budapest, and the other from him to them. Both were written in French. The letters dealt with arrangements for favorable statements by the Figeo, on Hungarian affairs.

Count Karolyi handed the two documents to M. Calliaux on his passage through Paris on his way to this country. This was after the indictment of Mme. Calliaux. The publication yesterday in the Paris court of the fact of which the letters are evidence, was very satisfactory to him, the count said.

"The letters," he continued, "furnish proof that Calmette, of whom it had been sought to make a hero, was actually in the pay of the Hungarian government, and had undertaken to speak favorably of it in the Figeo though Hungary adhered to an alliance hostile to the international group of which France is a member. The Figeo has been lending its support to the Hungarian government for nearly a year and a half."

Count Karolyi, who is one of the leaders of the opposition in Hungary, said he succeeded in securing proofs of the "publicity" work of the Hungarian government with French and also English papers. The letters concerning the Figeo, he declared, are only two out of a lengthy correspondence. Supplementary disclosures will be made at other opportune times, he intimated.

This "publicity" work had been done out of a "reptile" fund of over four million Hungarian crowns ($800,000), he added.

MERRIMACK HOTEL SOLD

The New Merrimack hotel, located at the corner of Merrimack and Dutton streets, has again changed hands, this time going into the possession of Martin J. Hart of Lawrence formerly proprietor of the Waverly cafe of that city. Mr. Hart has filed an application with the House commissioners for an individual license and it is understood he will reopen the hotel as soon as a license is granted him.

PAUL M. WARBURG SILENT

NEW YORK, July 25.—Paul M. Warburg declined today to comment upon the visit of Senator Hitchcock. He said he had been silent because he would not admit that he had even been in conference with Senator Hitchcock.

THEIR SILVER WEDDING

CAPTAIN AND MRS. BROWN CELEBRATE THE EVENT AT THEIR HOME IN 80, WHIPPLE STREET

Captain and Mrs. Timothy Brown of 27 South Whipple street are today observing their silver wedding, the couple having been married 25 years ago at St. Peter's church, this city.

Capt. Brown is favorably known in this city, having been connected with the Lowell fire department since 1890. He is now at the head of Truck Co. No. 1, located in Lawrence street. Ted, as he is known, was born in Lowell and 24 years ago last May 1, he was appointed on the fire department. In 1895 he was promoted to lieutenant and some eight years ago he was given another promotion, that of captain.

Mrs. Brown, whose maiden name was Mary Ferguson, is a native of Ireland. She came to Lowell when still in her teens and was united in marriage to Mr. Brown on July 23, 1890. The couple have four children, Walter, Fred, Mary and William. There was no formal observance of the event, but this evening a family reunion will take place at the home of the happy couple.

Captain and Mrs. Brown have a great many friends throughout this city.

MURDER OF HUSBAND

MRS. BESSIE J. WAKEFIELD TAKES STAND IN HER OWN DEFENSE

NEW HAVEN, July 25.—Taking the stand in her own defense today Mrs. Bessie J. Wakefield, on trial for the murder of her husband, William O. Wakefield, denied flatly that she had aided James Plev in murdering Wakefield or that she had any knowledge or belief that Plev intended to harm her husband. Plev has already been executed as the actual murderer of Wakefield. She described the fight between Plev and Wakefield at the Bristol home the night of the crime and denying that she had any part in the killing said that when Plev asked Wakefield out later in the evening she besought her husband not to do so but to remain at home with her. The return of Plev from Cheshire that day after the murder and his statements to her were also retold.
